

The Weather

Today—Occasional drizzle and rather cool in morning; somewhat warmer with thundershowers in afternoon and evening. Yesterday—High, 76; low, 67. (Details on Page 6-B.)

The Washington Post

NO. 24,494

Entered as Second Class Matter, Postoffice, Washington, D. C.

Copyright, 1945, By The Washington Post

WASHINGTON: FRIDAY, JULY 9, 1945

JUL 15 1945

DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA AND SUBURBAN AREA

THREE CENTS

ELSEWHERE FIVE CENTS

Senate Bows To President On Subsidies; Recess Begun

Future Legislation Likely to Hinge On Attitude of Folks Back Home

Activities Reviewed

CONGRESS' ACTIVITIES since session began in January are reviewed. Page 5.

No Farewell Blessing

By Robert C. Albright

Post Staff Writer

Congress last night signed a truce with the White House and hopped out of town for a nine weeks' vacation—its first since the war's start.

Adjournment came swiftly after subsidy-bored legislators agreed to unshackle the President's hands on price rollbacks until Congress returns to the fray in the fall.

The Senate adjourned at 6 p. m. without fireworks. At 6:33 p. m. the House also let school out amid a chorus of rebel yells and boisterous farewells.

Off for "Instructions"

A few minutes later most members were taking up reservations on trains and planes to go home with some plain talk with constituents. One was remarked that Congress was going home for instructions.

On subsidized price control and many another issue that a strong-willed coalition of dissident Democrats and Republicans had broken with the President, members frankly wanted old-fashioned political guidance.

Shape of Things to Come

Leaders said the shape of legislation to come may hinge entirely on whether the home folks side with Congress or the President on the red hot domestic issues that have burgeoned in the last six months.

Yesterday's last round at the Capitol was unmistakably the President's. In an amazing turnaround, the Senate rejected, 34 to 33, from its conference insistence on an iron-clad ban on price rollbacks.

The Senate's action cleared the way for a quick conference agreement on a bill simply extending the Commodity Credit Corporation for six months, with $50 million dollars of new capital. No reference whatever was made to subsidies, leaving the President's hands temporarily free.

Conferees said they had been privately assured by Senate leaders that the Administration intends no expansion of its price rollback program during the recess beyond present reduced prices on meat and butter.

Sped to White House

The mid-afternoon agreement was quickly worked through both Houses, and the ceiling-free bill sped to the White House. The adjournment stampede was on. Both Houses quickly resolved disagreements tying up the last $4,300,000,000 in money bills. As the session's spending record to a grand total of 115 billion dollars, just 32 billion under last session's all time record.

Besides the astronomical money bills, mostly for war use, the free lance Congress had passed very little that the President asked, much that he had not.

The Administration agreed there was need for time-out. Frazzled, nervous legislators needed no in-

See SUBSIDIES, Page 8, Col. 6.

District News Highlights

Senate acts on seven District bills before recessing for summer. (Page B-1.)

District employees hard pressed to make ends meet pending President's signing of urgent deficiency bill, when they will be paid. (Page 1.)

Cut in wholesale liquor prices must be made if no credit arrangement between wholesale and retail dealers is ordered, OPA rules. (Page 15.)

Studies to include postwar medical planning will be expanded by Washington committee on medical service, headed by Dr. A. Magruder MacDonald. (Page B-6.)

Washington laundries not required by WMC regulations to accept new accounts. (Page 4.)

Pork products more plentiful and supplies of fresh vegetables are such that prices are dropping. (Page 6.)

Series of monthly hymn "sings" to be held at Sylvan Theater beginning Sunday. (Page 7.)

OPA cracks down on pleasure drivers as 23 forfeit coupons representing 500 gallons of gasoline at special panel hearing. (Page B-1.)

Nats lose to Cleveland, 5-2, for eighth defeat in 11 games. (Page 13.)

In Elk Hills Case Navy Accused Of Ignoring President

By the Associated Press

Assistant Attorney General Norman M. Littell declared yesterday the Navy Department had avoided the President's "clear instructions" to condemn the Elk Hills petroleum reserve and criticized Navy's defense of its contract with Standard Oil Co. of California for development of the reserve.

Littell's statement, filed with the House Public Lands Committee, also termed "incredibly naive" a statement in Navy's report, made yesterday, that Standard "would have lost millions of dollars by the contract, which has been ordered canceled."

Declaring the Navy had neglected to quote pertinent parts of the President's letter of March, 1942, in which he defined procedures to be followed at Elk Hills, Littell contended the Navy report "tries to the proportion of a major deception in its treatment of the President's letter."

No emphasis was placed in the Navy report, he asserted, on the President's concluding instruction that "if satisfactory arrangements cannot be promptly concluded with the owners of property in the reserve, then you are authorized to institute condemnation proceedings through the Department of Justice."

Instead, Littell asserted, "a contract in no respect in compliance with the President's instructions was executed and put into effect."

"The Navy report," he continued, "does not even contemplate that

See ELK, page 3, Column 3.

WLB Explains Contradictory Wage Awards

Predicament Shows Hard Battle to Stem Tide of Inflation

By Ben W. Gilbert

Post Staff Writer

The embattled War Labor Board held a press conference yesterday to explain two seemingly contradictory wage decisions providing eloquent testimony on the pressure exerted against its efforts to hold the wage line and stem the tides of inflation.

Highlights of the fast-moving wage picture as revealed by the board:

1. With labor members dissenting, the board refused to accept the recommendation of a reference that compositors in the commercial printing industry in New York City receive the $4.20 a week wage increase called for under the Little Steel formula. The board decided such a substantial increase would be unstable other pay scales in New York City and trimmed the boost to $2 a week above the present $58.40 a week contract rate.

2. With industry members dissenting, the board gave general increases of 12½ cents an hour to 3000 Michigan and northern Wisconsin lumber workers, even though the industry was due under "Little Steel" in order to improve lumber production which was dropping in this area because of a low and "obsolete" wage structure. The minimum rate for 30 logging companies in the area was increased from 45 cents an hour to 57½ cents an hour.

3. Public Member George W. Taylor reaffirmed the board's determination to stick by the "Little Steel" yardstick as the means of measuring most general wage increases, but indicated continued rising prices might force the board to alter the formula, raising "the general level" of wages. Such a step would lead to national economic "chaos," he said, pleading publicly for more decisive action on the price-control front.

4. Industry Member Almon Roth announced the industry group dissented in the lumber case because of their belief the increase was too high.

See WLB, Page 8, Column 2.

See FUNDS, Page 8, Column 4.

See ELK, Page 3, Column 3.

See SUBSIDIES, Page 8, Col. 6.

See WLB, Page 8, Column 2.

See ELK, Page 3, Column 3.

See SUBSIDIES, Page 8, Col. 6.

See WLB, Page 8, Column 2.

See ELK, Page 3, Column 3.

See SUBSIDIES, Page 8, Col. 6.

See WLB, Page 8, Column 2.

See ELK, Page 3, Column 3.

See SUBSIDIES, Page 8, Col. 6.

See WLB, Page 8, Column 2.

See ELK, Page 3, Column 3.

See SUBSIDIES, Page 8, Col. 6.

See WLB, Page 8, Column 2.

See ELK, Page 3, Column 3.

See SUBSIDIES, Page 8, Col. 6.

See WLB, Page 8, Column 2.

See ELK, Page 3, Column 3.

See SUBSIDIES, Page 8, Col. 6.

See WLB, Page 8, Column 2.

See ELK, Page 3, Column 3.

See SUBSIDIES, Page 8, Col. 6.

See WLB, Page 8, Column 2.

See ELK, Page 3, Column 3.

See SUBSIDIES, Page 8, Col. 6.

See WLB, Page 8, Column 2.

See ELK, Page 3, Column 3.

See SUBSIDIES, Page 8, Col. 6.

See WLB, Page 8, Column 2.

See ELK, Page 3, Column 3.

See SUBSIDIES, Page 8, Col. 6.

See WLB, Page 8, Column 2.

See ELK, Page 3, Column 3.

See SUBSIDIES, Page 8, Col. 6.

See WLB, Page 8, Column 2.

See ELK, Page 3, Column 3.

See SUBSIDIES, Page 8, Col. 6.

See WLB, Page 8, Column 2.

See ELK, Page 3, Column 3.

See SUBSIDIES, Page 8, Col. 6.

See WLB, Page 8, Column 2.

See ELK, Page 3, Column 3.

See SUBSIDIES, Page 8, Col. 6.

Yanks Push Munda Defenders Back; American Subs Sink 10 Jap Ships; Nazis Drive New Wedge Into Red Line

Congress Passes Final Supply Bills

House Kills Senate Job-Confirmation Rider Attached to 4.3-Billion Measures

By Edward Ryan

Post Staff Writer

Congress sent the last $4,300,000,000 of its current 130-billion-dollar crop of Federal supply bills to the President late yesterday, after erasing the threat of Senate review for hundreds of high-salaried employees in nearly a score of key war agencies.

The proposal to require Senate confirmation for all new employees appointed to jobs paying $5500 or more in the civilian war agencies was blasted out of the way by a 260-69 vote of the House.

In the wake of this decision, Senate demands for a more drastic $4500 confirmation proviso collapsed, and both houses swept to passage the War Agencies appropriation calling for $2,911,000,000, and the Labor-Federal bill carrying $1,137,000,000.

Deficiency Bill Quickly Passed

Working in assembly line fashion, with the promise of a vacation getaway by evening, the two houses quickly accepted the 253-million-dollar carry-all deficiency bill as finally constructed by a conference committee.

The agreement left out $4,300,000 to continue the Federal crop insurance program, with the Senate giving in to an unwavering House drive to end the program.

The House floor battle over the job rider furnished the last good show of the recess drive. Administration leaders with liberal support from Republicans teamed up to smash the proposal of Representative Taber calling for confirmation of new jobholders receiving $5500 or more. The Taber plan was a compromise for that of Senator McKellar (Democrat) of Tennessee who would have demanded confirmation of all jobholders in the agencies, present and future.

See FUNDS, Page 8, Column 4.

See ELK, Page 3, Column 3.

See SUBSIDIES, Page 8, Col. 6.

See WLB, Page 8, Column 2.

See ELK, Page 3, Column 3.

See SUBSIDIES, Page 8, Col. 6.

See WLB, Page 8, Column 2.

See ELK, Page 3, Column 3.

See SUBSIDIES, Page 8, Col. 6.

See WLB, Page 8, Column 2.

See ELK, Page 3, Column 3.

See SUBSIDIES, Page 8, Col. 6.

See WLB, Page 8, Column 2.

See ELK, Page 3, Column 3.

See SUBSIDIES, Page 8, Col. 6.

See WLB, Page 8, Column 2.

See ELK, Page 3, Column 3.

See SUBSIDIES, Page 8, Col. 6.

See WLB, Page 8, Column 2.

See ELK, Page 3, Column 3.

See SUBSIDIES, Page 8, Col. 6.

See WLB, Page 8, Column 2.

See ELK, Page 3, Column 3.

See SUBSIDIES, Page 8, Col. 6.

See WLB, Page 8, Column 2.

See ELK, Page 3, Column 3.

See SUBSIDIES, Page 8, Col. 6.

See WLB, Page 8, Column 2.

See ELK, Page 3, Column 3.

See SUBSIDIES, Page 8, Col. 6.

See WLB, Page 8, Column 2.

See ELK, Page 3, Column 3.

See SUBSIDIES, Page 8, Col. 6.

See WLB, Page 8, Column 2.

See ELK, Page 3, Column 3.

See SUBSIDIES, Page 8, Col. 6.

See WLB, Page 8, Column 2.

See ELK, Page 3, Column 3.

See SUBSIDIES, Page 8, Col. 6.

See WLB, Page 8, Column 2.

See ELK, Page 3, Column 3.

See SUBSIDIES, Page 8, Col. 6.

See WLB, Page 8, Column 2.

See ELK, Page 3, Column 3.

See SUBSIDIES, Page 8, Col. 6.

See WLB, Page 8, Column 2.

See ELK, Page 3, Column 3.

See SUBSIDIES, Page 8, Col. 6.

See WLB, Page 8, Column 2.

See ELK, Page 3, Column 3.

See SUBSIDIES, Page 8, Col. 6.

See WLB, Page 8, Column 2.

See ELK, Page 3, Column 3.

See SUBSIDIES, Page 8, Col. 6.

See WLB, Page 8, Column 2.

See ELK, Page 3, Column 3.

See SUBSIDIES, Page 8, Col. 6.

See WLB, Page 8, Column 2.

See ELK, Page 3, Column 3.

See SUBSIDIES, Page 8, Col. 6.

See WLB, Page 8, Column 2.

See ELK, Page 3, Column 3.

See SUBSIDIES, Page 8, Col. 6.

See WLB, Page 8, Column 2.

See ELK, Page 3, Column 3.

See SUBSIDIES, Page 8, Col. 6.

See WLB, Page 8, Column 2.

See ELK, Page 3, Column 3.

See SUBSIDIES, Page 8, Col. 6.

See WLB, Page 8, Column 2.

See ELK, Page 3, Column 3.

See SUBSIDIES, Page 8, Col. 6.

See WLB, Page 8, Column 2.

See ELK, Page 3, Column 3.

See SUBSIDIES, Page 8, Col. 6.

See WLB, Page 8, Column 2.

See ELK, Page 3, Column 3.

German Tanks Pierce Front in Belgorod Sector With Heavy Loss

By the Associated Press

London (Friday), July 9.—German tanks drove still another wedge into Soviet lines in the Belgorod sector below the Kursk bulge yesterday in history's greatest armored conflict, but Moscow declared early today that the Red army stood firm elsewhere and even had recovered some lost ground to the north.

Russian fire smashed 304 more German tanks and downed 161 more enemy planes for a four-day toll of 1843 tanks and 810 planes, said the midnight bulletin recorded by the Soviet Monitor.

German casualties had passed the 35,000 mark, the communiqué said. Five thousand enemy troops fell Thursday in a single narrow sector on the Kursk-Orel front, where the Germans hurled 90,000 men against Red lines without achieving a breakthrough, it said.

In the Belgorod sector the Russians said their troops had allowed the Axis tanks to get through, cutting off the enemy infantry and inflicting devastating blows on them, while Russian antitank guns and tank crews began whittling down the enemy armor in the wedge.

Wedge May Be Eliminated

The statement offered some hope that the German wedge soon would be wiped out in this sector, where the Germans have advanced four times in as many days.

In the Kursk-Orel sector Russian counterattacks were said to have "dislodged the enemy from a number of populated places occupied during the first day of the offensive." This was the first Soviet admission that the Russians were being pushed back in that area.

Nazi Field Marshal Guenther von Kluge was said to be using nearly 500,000 men, supported by thousands of tanks and planes.

German propaganda accounts—which, incidentally, also told of the appearance of "secret new weapons"—placed the focal points of the swaying battle 12 miles south of Orel and 37 north of Belgorod.

German columns striking southward and northward were trying to pinch off the middle point of Kursk.

Far-Flung Red Salient

One Berlin broadcast recorded by the Associated Press acknowledged that the Russians still held their deep Kursk salient, but said that the Germans had expanded the "depth of their breakthrough on a wide front."

The Kursk salient, the Germans said, still runs at far west as Sevsk, 85 miles from Kursk. They are hitting it on the northern and southern sides.

German announcers broadcast dispatches saying the Germans were using "super tiger" tanks supported by "super heavy" tanks.

See RUSSIA, Page 2, Column 6.

See ELK, Page 3, Column 3.

See SUBSIDIES, Page 8, Col. 6.

See WLB, Page 8, Column 2.

See ELK, Page 3, Column 3.

See SUBSIDIES, Page 8, Col. 6.

See WLB, Page 8, Column 2.

See ELK, Page 3, Column 3.

See SUBSIDIES, Page 8, Col. 6.

See WLB, Page 8, Column 2.

See ELK, Page 3, Column 3.

See SUBSIDIES, Page 8, Col. 6.

See WLB, Page 8, Column 2.

See ELK, Page 3, Column 3.

See SUBSIDIES, Page 8, Col. 6.

See WLB, Page 8, Column 2.

See ELK, Page 3, Column 3.

See SUBSIDIES, Page 8, Col. 6.

See WLB, Page 8, Column 2.

See ELK, Page 3, Column 3.

See SUBSIDIES, Page 8, Col. 6.

See WLB, Page 8, Column 2.

See ELK, Page 3, Column 3.

See SUBSIDIES, Page 8, Col. 6.

See WLB, Page 8, Column 2.

See ELK, Page 3, Column 3.

See SUBSIDIES, Page 8, Col. 6.

See WLB, Page 8, Column 2.

See ELK, Page 3, Column 3.

Nazis Fear Invasion Along With Red Push

War Sidelights

Mysterious Scout Hero Of Nazi Yarn

Stockholm, July 8 (AP)—The Berlin correspondent of Aftonbladet, local newspaper, today told of a mysterious German major called "X" who was purported to have made seven trips to England since the war began to scout in advance of alleged German commando raids.

Aftonbladet's correspondent said the officer, described as not of German birth, was believed to have landed in England at various times by submarine, by motorboat and as a parachutist.

The dispatch said that Nazi commando raids on England so far had been rare, but said reliable German quarters predicted they would increase in the near future.

(There have been no Allied reports of any Nazi commando-type raids on England.)

British Navy Plane Toll

London, July 8 (AP)—British naval and merchant ships and aircraft of the fleet air arm have shot down a total of 1004 Axis planes in the last three and a quarter years, the Admiralty announced today.

In addition, the Royal and Merchant navies probably destroyed an additional 321 planes and damaged 593, the announcement said.

Ramsin Honored

Moscow, July 8 (AP)—Professor Leonid Ramsin has been awarded the order of Lenin and the Stalin prize of 150,000 rubles for designing a "uniflow" boiler which is reported to save from 12 to 14 per cent in fuel, it was announced today.

Ramsin designed the boiler in France incurred when he was leader of the "Prom" industrial party. Later on he was rehabilitated and is now chief of the "uniflow" boiler department of the commissariat of heavy industry.

Jap Casualties 187,860

Chungking (Friday), July 9 (AP)—The Japanese suffered more than 187,860 casualties in the sixth year of the Chinese war, a Chinese army spokesman reported today in an annual review.

The Chinese took 2809 Japanese prisoners and captured considerable quantities of war material, the report said.

Nelson Predicts Huge '44 Output

NELSON, from Page 1.

produced and "before the end of this year we will be producing a completed plane every 4-5 minutes."

(One plane every 4 2/3 minutes would be at the rate of 9250 a month—Editor's Note.)

Over 175,000 Big Guns

More than 175,000 larger caliber guns for ground armies alone have been finished and more than 1,500,000 machine guns and six million rifles and submachine guns have been manufactured.

More than 200 million rounds of artillery ammunition (not counting naval) have been made.

About 25 billion rounds of small arms ammunition—"enough to let us fire 1500 bullets at every soldier in the Axis armies"—have been turned out.

Close to 60,000 tanks, more than 1,800,000 trucks and nearly 70,000 scout and other combat vehicles have rolled off the assembly lines of the two nations. Canada supplied about one-third of the truck total and close to 20,000 of the scout cars.

Production of ocean-going merchant vessels now has reached 20 million deadweight tons and the annual rate of production now is 22 million.

Not counting mosquito craft and auxiliaries, naval vessels totaling

Worried By Reports Of Great Activity In Mediterranean

By Lynn Heinzelring

Associated Press Staff Writer

London, July 8 (AP)—Fear of Allied invasion sent a new alert to Axis outposts tonight along the gun-studded rim of Europe as the Germans reported menacing activity by Allied warships in the Mediterranean and inferentially expressed anxiety that Britain and the United States would coordinate their impending blows with those of the Red Army.

"A synchronization of the Allied command with Moscow at the present moment would be a very dangerous experiment," said a German broadcast.

The Nazis, in a broadcast by their International Information Bureau, a propaganda agency, declared that American cruisers and aircraft carriers had arrived to bolster the Allied Mediterranean fleet and that several hundred thousand tons of Allied shipping had been concentrated there.

This report dovetailed with dispatches telling of heightened unrest and defense preparations in the eastern Mediterranean, particularly in Greece and Crete.

More Jitters for Axis

A Vichy broadcast recorded by the British news agency, Reuters, said that the Axis defenders of Crete "are always ready for the attack at a moment's notice." German air fields were reported dispersed all over the island coasts.

Dingle M. Foot, parliamentary secretary to the Ministry for Economic Warfare, did nothing to ease Axis nerves with the statement in Commons that the ministry had been assessing the resources of various parts of Europe for use of invading Allied armies.

A German broadcast, recorded by the Associated Press, said the Allies had 44 infantry divisions and 15 to 20 tank formations between Morocco and Syria along the southern shore of the Mediterranean and that parachute troops and air-borne divisions were standing by to force "one or more bridgeheads."

The Morocco Radio, Reported By

Reuters, quoted roundabout reports that German reinforcements were constantly arriving in southern Greece and the Dodecanese Islands.

Blockade-Running Halted

Foot, reporting the destruction of large quantities of Axis supplies, asserted that enemy blockade-running had been brought to a virtual standstill and that 700,000 tons of enemy shipping had been sunk since the occupation of North Africa.

Illustrating the effectiveness of Allied attacks against Germany proper, he remarked that the Flying Fortress raid of last month on the Huls synthetic rubber plant would keep it out of operation for many months.

He said it appeared from recent information that the Germans were taking all moveable equipment from the Ruhr.

"It is this," he said, "it is extremely significant because it shows that they themselves know that the Battle of the Ruhr is lost."

Two million displacement tons have been completed and "these fast, modern fighting boats will be joined every month by sister ships totaling an average of 200,000 tons."

Emphasizing that to these United States-Canadian figures must be added the vast production totals of England, Russia and the other Allies, Nelson said:

"If the Nazi and the Jap war-lords are not completely insane, they will recognize that the sound they make 'is the voice of doom.'"

"We plan to produce an umbrella of safety and put it over the heads of the fighting men of the United Nations. We plan to lay down a barrage of safety before them as they advance . . . We cannot satisfy ourselves that we have done enough, until we have done everything that we can do to conserve their young lives for the peacetime world to come."

Yanks Land Near Munda

CLOSE IN ON AIRFIELD—United States forces are battling from beachheads six miles from Munda airfield after they landed at Rice Anchorage on Kula Gulf (upper black arrow) and at Zanana (lower black arrow) preparatory to squeezing the Japanese off New Georgia Island (open arrows). General MacArthur's headquarters announced yesterday. The toll of Japanese ships lost in the Kula Gulf engagement rose to at least 9, and possibly 11.

PACIFIC, from Page 1.

States naval victory in the Battle of Kula Gulf early Monday morning (Tuesday in the Solomons) was one of the most one-sided in history.

Every one of the Jap cruisers and destroyers in the enemy task force was sunk or damaged by a smaller group of American warships of the same class, Navy spokesmen there said.

International News Service correspondent John Henry quoted officers at Halsey's headquarters as saying that the only United States casualty in the night battle was the cruiser Helena. No other American ships participating were even damaged, he reported.

The I. N. S. dispatch also said that a majority of the nearly 900 men in the crew of the Helena had been rescued and that others probably reached nearby beaches.

Reports from the Southwest Pacific headquarters said that Americans, who landed the night before the Kula Gulf naval battle, were consolidating their beachheads at Rice Anchorage, 4 miles northeast of Balroko Harbor on Kula Gulf, and at Zanana, on the other side of the island, just 6 miles east of Munda.

Patrols were moving inland and once our soldiers join forces, the Japs in the Munda area will be squeezed into a pocket in a narrow northwest corner of New Georgia Island.

Opinion among military men here is that the Jap base is doomed, although it may take some time and hard fighting to wipe out the dug-in defenders.

A long battle on the order of Guadalcanal is not looked for, however, as the American Navy—thanks in part to the Kula Gulf victory—has control of the seas in the Solomons, and Allied airmen hold superiority in the skies.

Whether the enemy will risk more warships and large numbers of planes after his recent severe defeats remains to be seen.

The victory at Kula Gulf appears to be the result of a trap sprung by Admiral Halsey's South Pacific Fleet.

American cruisers and destroyers—in numbers inferior to the Japanese task force—were apparently waiting outside the gulf when the enemy ships entered. The latter evidently were planning to

SPECIAL NOTICES

Refresher Courses
In shorthand, typewriting, bookkeeping, calculating machine, 3-5 weeks. Save time. Plenty of job-opening positions. New classes starting now.
BOYD SCHOOL 1333 F St. N.W. 2340

Armstrong's TILE
For recreation room floor—will not curl or crack! Up to 200 Sq. Ft. $28.95
Quaker City Lin. Co. 801 F St. N.W. MEI. 1892

Stout
We slenderize the Larger Woman 806 11th St. N.W. RE. 9732 Next to Perpetual Building Ass'n

3 LENGTHS IN A FRONT LACING CORSET
BY Rivoli
The height of comfort in the length you like—14", 16" or 18". Pretty, long-wearing, brocaded rayon coutil. Front lacing and spiral boned back add comfort to this perfect fitting corset.
We offer out-of-town customers prompt C. O. D. Mail Service
STOUT
We slenderize the Larger Woman 806 11th St. N.W. RE. 9732 Next to Perpetual Building Ass'n

MAKE IT WITH Riondo RUM
Your Rum Drink tastes better if you "Make it with Riondo"
Try it for a perfect Daiquiri or Rum Collins!
GOLD LABEL WHITE LABEL
66 PROOF
PUERTO RICO'S FINEST
SOMERSET IMPORTERS, LTD., NEW YORK, CHICAGO, SAN FRANCISCO

U. S. Indicts Editor as Paid Jap Agent

By the Associated Press

New York, July 8.—Frederick Heizer Wright, identified by a Federal grand jury as a New York Daily News copy editor, was indicted today on charges that he acted as a paid agent for the Japanese government without notifying the State Department of his employment.

United States Attorney Howard F. Corcoran said the indictment, which charges Wright, with acting as a Japanese agent from January, 1931, to December 6, 1941, was obtained after an investigation conducted by Naval Intelligence and the Federal Bureau of Investigation. Corcoran obtained the indictment, which also contains a conspiracy count.

E. E. Conroy, special agent in charge of the FBI's New York office, said, "The investigation by the FBI failed to reveal that the offices of the New York Daily News were cognizant of the activity of Frederick Wright."

Named in the indictment as co-conspirators, but not as defendants, were the Imperial Government of Japan and Shintaro Fukushima, press attaché of the Japanese Embassy in Washington, as well as several Japanese vice consuls.

Convicted, Wright would face a maximum penalty of 10 years' imprisonment and a fine of $5000. The conspiracy count carries a maximum prison penalty of 40 years and a fine of $10,000.

The indictment charged that Wright investigated and obtained information concerning the China Defense Supplies Corp. and the nature and quality of the materials and supplies which had been and were to be shipped to China.

It also alleged that Wright, in return for his salary and payment of expenses, edited the speeches and correspondence of Japanese consuls and vice consuls from Maine to Georgia, and that he conducted an investigation of Communist activity in the United States and prepared reports which were submitted to the Japanese on the personal backgrounds of various individuals supposed to be Communists.

Gunshot Alarms White House

A shot sounded in the White House offices yesterday.

It nicked the plaster and made a hole in the wall of a downstairs corridor without injuring anyone. One of the soldier guards at the White House was taking a riot gun away to be cleaned and inspected and had removed the magazine but not the one cartridge left in the chamber. The remaining one was fired accidentally.

LOANS

77 years of buying, selling and lending on diamonds, jewelry, etc. Liberal Loans at Lowest Possible Rates
OLD GOLD BOUGHT
GOVERNMENT LICENSES Est. 1906
E. HEIDENHEIMER
LOAN OFFICE 1215 H St. N.W. 805 KING ST. ALEXANDRIA, VA. NA. 1527

WATCHES
A NICE SELECTION OF DRESS AND MILITARY WATCHES AVAILABLE
For Your Inspection
ARTHUR MARKEL
818 F St. N.W. Suite 301-3 NATIONAL 0284

RUG CLEANING
RUGS Shampooed $3.00
Dust cleaned $1.75
Fireproof Storage—Free Insurance—Largest Native-Owned Rug Cleaning Plant.
Standard Carpet Cleaning Co. Half and O Sts. S.E. LU 4406 6321

WHITE BUCKSKIN
for the Officer or Civilian
Shoes by Whitehall
It's a Fine Art
to make summer suits that will look smart and crisp even on the hottest days.
We've been experts in doing just that for half a century . . . that's why our made-to-measure, leather weight tropicals are chosen by men who demand perfection. Prices start at $34.50
for coat and trousers which, you will admit, is a lot less than you'd have to pay for some "made-for-anybody" suits not nearly as fine in fabrics or in craftsmanship.
Summer Trousers
in a variety of cool-as-a-breeze fabrics $11
Edward, Inc. Owned and Operated by KAHN TAILORING CO. Custom Tailors to Men and Women of America 741 15th Street N.W.

THE MODE THE IMPORTANT MEN'S CORNER
Air Conditioned
WHITE BUCKSKIN
for the Officer or Civilian
Shoes by Whitehall
It's a Fine Art
to make summer suits that will look smart and crisp even on the hottest days.
We've been experts in doing just that for half a century . . . that's why our made-to-measure, leather weight tropicals are chosen by men who demand perfection. Prices start at $34.50
for coat and trousers which, you will admit, is a lot less than you'd have to pay for some "made-for-anybody" suits not nearly as fine in fabrics or in craftsmanship.
Summer Trousers
in a variety of cool-as-a-breeze fabrics $11
Edward, Inc. Owned and Operated by KAHN TAILORING CO. Custom Tailors to Men and Women of America 741 15th Street N.W.

THE MODE THE IMPORTANT MEN'S CORNER
Air Conditioned
WHITE BUCKSKIN
for the Officer or Civilian
Shoes by Whitehall
It's a Fine Art
to make summer suits that will look smart and crisp even on the hottest days.
We've been experts in doing just that for half a century . . . that's why our made-to-measure, leather weight tropicals are chosen by men who demand perfection. Prices start at $34.50
for coat and trousers which, you will admit, is a lot less than you'd have to pay for some "made-for-anybody" suits not nearly as fine in fabrics or in craftsmanship.
Summer Trousers
in a variety of cool-as-a-breeze fabrics $11
Edward, Inc. Owned and Operated by KAHN TAILORING CO. Custom Tailors to Men and Women of America 741 15th Street N.W.

THE MODE THE IMPORTANT MEN'S CORNER
Air Conditioned
WHITE BUCKSKIN
for the Officer or Civilian
Shoes by Whitehall
It's a Fine Art
to make summer suits that will look smart and crisp even on the hottest days.
We've been experts in doing just that for half a century . . . that's why our made-to-measure, leather weight tropicals are chosen by men who demand perfection. Prices start at $34.50
for coat and trousers which, you will admit, is a lot less than you'd have to pay for some "made-for-anybody" suits not nearly as fine in fabrics or in craftsmanship.
Summer Trousers
in a variety of cool-as-a-breeze fabrics $11
Edward, Inc. Owned and Operated by KAHN TAILORING CO. Custom Tailors to Men and Women of America 741 15th Street N.W.

THE MODE THE IMPORTANT MEN'S CORNER
Air Conditioned
WHITE BUCKSKIN
for the Officer or Civilian
Shoes by Whitehall
It's a Fine Art
to make summer suits that will look smart and crisp even on the hottest days.
We've been experts in doing just that for half a century . . . that's why our made-to-measure, leather weight tropicals are chosen by men who demand perfection. Prices start at $34.50
for coat and trousers which, you will admit, is a lot less than you'd have to pay for some "made-for-anybody" suits not nearly as fine in fabrics or in craftsmanship.
Summer Trousers
in a variety of cool-as-a-breeze fabrics $11
Edward, Inc. Owned and Operated by KAHN TAILORING CO. Custom Tailors to Men and Women of America 741 15th Street N.W.

THE MODE THE IMPORTANT MEN'S CORNER
Air Conditioned
WHITE BUCKSKIN
for the Officer or Civilian
Shoes by Whitehall
It's a Fine Art
to make summer suits that will look smart and crisp even on the hottest days.
We've been experts in doing just that for half a century . . . that's why our made-to-measure, leather weight tropicals are chosen by men who demand perfection. Prices start at $34.50
for coat and trousers which, you will admit, is a lot less than you'd have to pay for some "made-for-anybody" suits not nearly as fine in fabrics or in craftsmanship.
Summer Trousers
in a variety of cool-as-a-breeze fabrics $11
Edward, Inc. Owned and Operated by KAHN TAILORING CO. Custom Tailors to Men and Women of America 741 15th Street N.W.

THE MODE THE IMPORTANT MEN'S CORNER
Air Conditioned
WHITE BUCKSKIN
for the Officer or Civilian
Shoes by Whitehall
It's a Fine Art
to make summer suits that will look smart and crisp even on the hottest days.
We've been experts in doing just that for half a century . . . that's why our made-to-measure, leather weight tropicals are chosen by men who demand perfection. Prices start at $34.50
for coat and trousers which, you will admit, is a lot less than you'd have to pay for some "made-for-anybody" suits not nearly as fine in fabrics or in craftsmanship.
Summer Trousers
in a variety of cool-as-a-breeze fabrics $11
Edward, Inc. Owned and Operated by KAHN TAILORING CO. Custom Tailors to Men and Women of America 741 15th Street N.W.

THE MODE THE IMPORTANT MEN'S CORNER
Air Conditioned
WHITE BUCKSKIN
for the Officer or Civilian
Shoes by Whitehall
It's a Fine Art
to make summer suits that will look smart and crisp even on the hottest days.
We've been experts in doing just that for half a century . . . that's why our made-to-measure, leather weight tropicals are chosen by men who demand perfection. Prices start at $34.50
for coat and trousers which, you will admit, is a lot less than you'd have to pay for some "made-for-anybody" suits not nearly as fine in fabrics or in craftsmanship.
Summer Trousers
in a variety of cool-as-a-breeze fabrics $11
Edward, Inc. Owned and Operated by KAHN TAILORING CO. Custom Tailors to Men and Women of America 741 15th Street N.W.

THE MODE THE IMPORTANT MEN'S CORNER
Air Conditioned
WHITE BUCKSKIN
for the Officer or Civilian
Shoes by Whitehall
It's a Fine Art
to make summer suits that will look smart and crisp even on the hottest days.
We've been experts in doing just that for half a century . . . that's why our made-to-measure, leather weight tropicals are chosen by men who demand perfection. Prices start at $34.50
for coat and trousers which, you will admit, is a lot less than you'd have to pay for some "made-for-anybody" suits not nearly as fine in fabrics or in craftsmanship.
Summer Trousers
in a variety of cool-as-a-breeze fabrics $11
Edward, Inc. Owned and Operated by KAHN TAILORING CO. Custom Tailors to Men and Women of America 741 15th Street N.W.

THE MODE THE IMPORTANT MEN'S CORNER
Air Conditioned
WHITE BUCKSKIN
for the Officer or Civilian
Shoes by Whitehall
It's a Fine Art
to make summer suits that will look smart and crisp even on the hottest days.
We've been experts in doing just that for half a century . . . that's why our made-to-measure, leather weight tropicals are chosen by men who demand perfection. Prices start at $34.50
for coat and trousers which, you will admit, is a lot less than you'd have to pay for some "made-for-anybody" suits not nearly as fine in fabrics or in craftsmanship.
Summer Trousers
in a variety of cool-as-a-breeze fabrics $11
Edward, Inc. Owned and Operated by KAHN TAILORING CO. Custom Tailors to Men and Women of America 741 15th Street N.W.

THE MODE THE IMPORTANT MEN'S CORNER
Air Conditioned
WHITE BUCKSKIN
for the Officer or Civilian
Shoes by Whitehall
It's a Fine Art
to make summer suits that will look smart and crisp even on the hottest days.
We've been experts in doing just that for half a century . . . that's why our made-to-measure, leather weight tropicals are chosen by men who demand perfection. Prices start at $34.50
for coat and trousers which, you will admit, is a lot less than you'd have to pay for some "made-for-anybody" suits not nearly as fine in fabrics or in craftsmanship.
Summer Trousers
in a variety of cool-as-a-breeze fabrics $11
Edward, Inc. Owned and Operated by KAHN TAILORING CO. Custom Tailors to Men and Women of America 741 15th Street N.W.

THE MODE THE IMPORTANT MEN'S CORNER
Air Conditioned
WHITE BUCKSKIN
for the Officer or Civilian
Shoes by Whitehall
It's a Fine Art
to make summer suits that will look smart and crisp even on the hottest days.
We've been experts in doing just that for half a century . . . that's why our made-to-measure, leather weight tropicals are chosen by men who demand perfection. Prices start at $34.50
for coat and trousers which, you will admit, is a lot less than you'd have to pay for some "made-for-anybody" suits not nearly as fine in fabrics or in craftsmanship.
Summer Trousers
in a variety of cool-as-a-breeze fabrics $11
Edward, Inc. Owned and Operated by KAHN TAILORING CO. Custom Tailors to Men and Women of America 741 15th Street N.W.

THE MODE THE IMPORTANT MEN'S CORNER
Air Conditioned
WHITE BUCKSKIN
for the Officer or Civilian
Shoes by Whitehall
It's a Fine Art
to make summer suits that will look smart and crisp even on the hottest days.
We've been experts in doing just that for half a century . . . that's why our made-to-measure, leather weight tropicals are chosen by men who demand perfection. Prices start at $34.50
for coat and trousers which, you will admit, is a lot less than you'd have to pay for some "made-for-anybody" suits not nearly as fine in fabrics or in craftsmanship.
Summer Trousers
in a variety of cool-as-a-breeze fabrics $11
Edward, Inc. Owned and Operated by KAHN TAILORING CO. Custom Tailors to Men and Women of America 741 15th Street N.W.

THE MODE THE IMPORTANT MEN'S CORNER
Air Conditioned
WHITE BUCKSKIN
for the Officer or Civilian
Shoes by Whitehall
It's a Fine Art
to make summer suits that will look smart and crisp even on the hottest days.
We've been experts in doing just that for half a century . . . that's why our made-to-measure, leather weight tropicals are chosen by men who demand perfection. Prices start at $34.50
for coat and trousers which, you will admit, is a lot less than you'd have to pay for some "made-for-anybody" suits not nearly as fine in fabrics or in craftsmanship.
Summer Trousers
in a variety of cool-as-a-breeze fabrics $11
Edward, Inc. Owned and Operated by KAHN TAILORING CO. Custom Tailors to Men and Women of America 741 15th Street N.W.

THE MODE THE IMPORTANT MEN'S CORNER
Air Conditioned
WHITE BUCKSKIN
for the Officer or Civilian
Shoes by Whitehall
It's a Fine Art
to make summer suits that will look smart and crisp even on the hottest days.
We've been experts in doing just that for half a century . . . that's why our made-to-measure, leather weight tropicals are chosen by men who demand perfection. Prices start at $34.50
for coat and trousers which, you will admit, is a lot less than you'd have to pay for some "made-for-anybody" suits not nearly as fine in fabrics or in craftsmanship.
Summer Trousers
in a variety of cool-as-a-breeze fabrics $11
Edward, Inc. Owned and Operated by KAHN TAILORING CO. Custom Tailors to Men and Women of America 741 15th Street N.W.

THE MODE THE IMPORTANT MEN'S CORNER
Air Conditioned
WHITE BUCKSKIN
for the Officer or Civilian
Shoes by Whitehall
It's a Fine Art
to make summer suits that will look smart and crisp even on the hottest days.
We've been experts in doing just that for half a century . . . that's why our made-to-measure, leather weight tropicals are chosen by men who demand perfection. Prices start at $34.50
for coat and trousers which, you will admit, is a lot less than you'd have to pay for some "made-for-anybody" suits not nearly as fine in fabrics or in craftsmanship.
Summer Trousers
in a variety of cool-as-a-breeze fabrics $11
Edward, Inc. Owned and Operated by KAHN TAILORING CO. Custom Tailors to Men and Women of America 741 15th Street N.W.

THE MODE THE IMPORTANT MEN'S CORNER
Air Conditioned
WHITE BUCKSKIN
for the Officer or Civilian
Shoes by Whitehall
It's a Fine Art
to make summer suits that will look smart and crisp even on the hottest days.
We've been experts in doing just that for half a century . . . that's why our made-to-measure, leather weight tropicals are chosen by men who demand perfection. Prices start at $34.50
for coat and trousers which, you will admit, is a lot less than you'd have to pay for some "made-for-anybody" suits not nearly as fine in fabrics or in craftsmanship.
Summer Trousers
in a variety of cool-as-a-breeze fabrics $11
Edward, Inc. Owned and Operated by KAHN TAILORING CO. Custom Tailors to Men and Women of America 741 15th Street N.W.

THE MODE THE IMPORTANT MEN'S CORNER
Air Conditioned
WHITE BUCKSKIN
for the Officer or Civilian
Shoes by Whitehall
It's a Fine Art
to make summer suits that will look smart and crisp even on the hottest days.
We've been experts in doing just that for half a century . . . that's why our made-to-measure, leather weight tropicals are chosen by men who demand perfection. Prices start at $34.50
for coat and trousers which, you will admit, is a lot less than you'd have to pay for some "made-for-anybody" suits not nearly as fine in fabrics or in craftsmanship.
Summer Trousers
in a variety of cool-as-a-breeze fabrics $11
Edward, Inc. Owned and Operated by KAHN TAILORING CO. Custom Tailors to Men and Women of America 741 15th Street N.W.

THE MODE THE IMPORTANT MEN'S CORNER
Air Conditioned
WHITE BUCKSKIN
for the Officer or Civilian
Shoes by Whitehall
It's a Fine Art
to make summer suits that will look smart and crisp even on the hottest days.
We've been experts in doing just that for half a century . . . that's why our made-to-measure, leather weight tropicals are chosen by men who demand perfection. Prices start at $34.50
for coat and trousers which, you will admit, is a lot less than you'd have to pay for some "made-for-anybody" suits not nearly as fine in fabrics or in craftsmanship.
Summer Trousers
in a variety of cool-as-a-breeze fabrics $11
Edward, Inc. Owned and Operated by KAHN TAILORING CO. Custom Tailors to Men and Women of America 741 15th Street N.W.

THE MODE THE IMPORTANT MEN'S CORNER
Air Conditioned
WHITE BUCKSKIN
for the Officer or Civilian
Shoes by Whitehall
It's a Fine Art
to make summer suits that will look smart and crisp even on the hottest days.
We've been experts in doing just that for half a century . . . that's why our made-to-measure, leather weight tropicals are chosen by men who demand perfection. Prices start at $34.50
for coat and trousers which, you will admit, is a lot less than you'd have to pay for some "made-for-anybody" suits not nearly as fine in fabrics or in craftsmanship.
Summer Trousers
in a variety of cool-as-a-breeze fabrics $11
Edward, Inc. Owned and Operated by KAHN TAILORING CO. Custom Tailors to Men and Women of America 741 15th Street N.W.

Nazis Drive New Wedge Into Russian Line at Belgorod

RUSSIA, from Page 1.

perior to the 60-ton Mark VI machines, and also a "projector" artillery weapon whose fire leveled a forest and made "the whole terrain look as if a giant steam roller had gone over it."

The Russians made no mention of encountering any such new German weapons, reporting bluntly: "The Germans are suffering enormous losses in manpower and equipment. Hundreds of disabled and burned out enemy tanks are left on the battlefield as well as many smashed trucks and German planes."

The German high command said the Russians had lost more than 400 tanks in Wednesday's action, and later Berlin broadcasts asserted that Soviet losses were several times greater than those of the Germans.

Berlin said the American General Sherman, "the strongest United States tank type," had not yet appeared on the battlefield, but that the Russians were using the older Grant and Lee models.

Both German and Russian accounts termed the violent struggle for 7500 square miles of flat, black land farms, forming the Kursk bulge the greatest tank battle the world has known. The fight aloft in "no man's sky" raged with similar fury.

German accounts said that both sides were hurling reserves into the fight. "Our air reconnaissance," said one Berlin broadcast, "shows that the Russians are determined to employ all their troops to master any possible threat." Another commentary by the German Transocean Agency's military correspondent,

Corn Ceiling Is Restored By House Vote

By Christine Sadler
Post Staff Writer

By a vote of 9 to 6, the House Agriculture Committee yesterday killed a Senate-voted measure lifting the corn ceiling price from $1.07 to $1.40 a bushel and later abandoned any immediate attempt at alternative legislation.

A House group headed by Representative Hope (Republican) of Kansas, however, will continue its meeting with War Food Administration officials in an effort to force an early solution of the critical feed situation.

Dangerous Precedent

The committee, in executive session, shelved the Senate proposal because members believed action by Congress forcing up the price of one commodity would set a precedent that would throw price control into politics too hot to handle.

Also, it was reasoned, meddling with the corn ceiling by the legislative route would throw back on Congress the direct responsibility for changing ceilings closely related to corn—such as those on pork, dairy products and poultry.

War Food Administrator Marvin Jones, meeting with the committee, raised the question of whether the corn ceiling could be raised without reimbursing farmers who have sold corn since the $1.07 price went into effect on April 14. At that time, he said, Chester C. Davis, then WFA head, assured farmers there would be no ceiling change until after September 30.

Promise Given Farmers

This promise was given, but in an Office of Price Administration release which stated the OPA, acting on instructions from Economic Stabilization Director Byrnes and Davis, was abandoning the "escalator" method of pricing corn and raising the ceiling to the $1.07 price promised for September. The "OPA action lifts the ceiling price to its peak" and "there will be no further increase in the corn ceiling" during this crop year, the release stated. OPA has not heretofore considered its ceilings as positively permanent.

At WFA it was not believed the price support of $14.75 per hundred pounds on hogs weighing between 240 and 290 pounds would be changed to withdraw support from animals reaching 250 pounds, as had been suggested by some Congressmen who saw this as a way to force hog marketing—and thus save corn. If the corn ceiling were raised to make hog feeding less profitable and the support extended to animals weighing between 200 and 250 pounds, it was said, farmers conceivably would put their hogs on the market earlier and lots of feed would thus be made available for industrial corn processors and feeders outside the corn belt.

Dodd Optimistic

What the Administration has in mind, however, has not been disclosed. N. E. Dodd, administrator for the AAA, told the House committee yesterday he is optimistic attracted by the low taxation in this British colony, and soon became the capital's leading businessman. He owned more property than any other individual, bought the biggest tourist hotel, opened a bus line, and showed Nassauvians that vegetables and dairy products could be produced on an island once considered barren.

Mystery Veils Death of Oakes, One of World's Richest Men

OAKES, from Page 1.

It was persistence which led to the building of a fortune unofficially estimated to have reached 200 million dollars. For 15 years after he was graduated from Bowdoin College in Maine, he searched unsuccessfully for gold in the Yukon, the Philippines, Australia, New Zealand, the Congo and Death Valley, Calif.

Finally, according to a story often told, he had a lucky break just when his fortunes seemed at their lowest. He was put off a train near Kirkland Lake, Ontario, Canada, because he lacked money for the fare.

There he met a down-and-out Chinese who convinced him that gold lay in the vicinity. Willing to take a chance, he persuaded his mother to sink her life's savings into the staking of a claim.

After one strike, Oakes hit the vein which now is the Lake Shore Mine, second richest in the world. In 1915, while a resident of Canada, Oakes became a British citizen. In 1938 he was made a baronet. The title passes to his eldest son, Sydney, one of five children.

Mrs. Oakes, the former Eunice Myrtle McIntyre of Sydney, Australia, was reported to have received the news of her husband's death at Bar Harbor, Me.

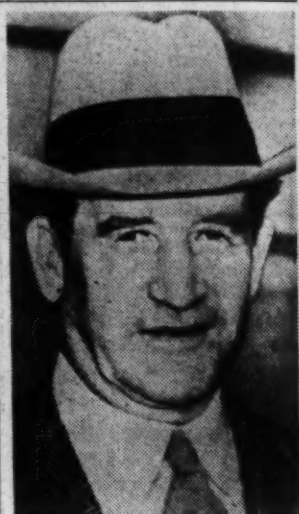

In addition to his home here, Sir Harry maintained residences at London, Palm Beach and Niagara Falls, Ontario.

Sir Harry was born at Sangerville, Me., December 23, 1874.

that the feed problem will be solved when farmers realize the 1943 crop of corn is good.

He said reports from the Midwest indicate corn is now coming to market. A telephone check-up with several corn belt leaders, he said, revealed the opinion that the corn crop now in the field would be an excellent one. While the shortage this year is greater than usual, he declared a shortage two or three months before the new crop is ready for market is "usual."

The WFA, meantime, announced discontinuance of wheat and wheat flour export programs of this country, operated by the Department of Agriculture since 1933. Remaining wheat stocks, it was explained, "are needed for food and for livestock feed in this country."

Associated Press WIREPHOTO
SIR HARRY OAKES

Navy Is Accused In Elk Hills Deal

ELK, from Page 1.

what it describes as great losses of oil, due to drainage from Government lands to Standard's properties, could be stopped tomorrow by condemnation. This patent omission from the naval report on my testimony, and avoidance of the President's clear instructions to condemn, forces me to state that the recognition of condemnation as a solution may be long overdue.

The Justice Department official contended Navy's testimony showed Standard "had consistently had the lion's share" of production from the Elk Hills Reserve in the past which, he argued, could have been prevented at any time.

Littell added that while investigation of the contract continues, oil is not only being drained, but extracted, from Government properties at Elk Hills.

George Ade Rallies

Brook, Ind., July 8 (AP)—George Ade, 77, Hoosier humorist and playwright, is reported "much improved." Ade was stricken with an embolism June 26 and has been confined to bed.

Real Estate Service

Sales—Appraisals—Loans
Property Management

Wm. M. Throckmorton
Realtor—DI. 6092
Investment Bldg., 10th & K Sts. N.W.

WFA Supports Prices of 10 Canned Vegetables to Assure Normal Pack This Year

As "another step to eliminate risks" that might prevent all-out production of canning vegetables this summer, the War Food Administration yesterday announced it would support prices at 95 per cent of the ceiling on 1943 canned packs of 10 major vegetables. The 10 are: Tomatoes, tomato pulp, tomato juice, tomato paste, sweet corn, snap beans, green peas, lima beans, beets and carrots.

WFA officials said civilian demands and the prospects for continued large Government needs of these foods indicated the agency would not be asked to purchase much—if any—of the canned packs.

Beset by labor shortages and pleas for record production, however, canners asked the added "margin of safety" a price support program guarantees.

WFA extended the price guarantee only to certified canners who have passed scrutiny by war boards to insure they have contracted with growers at not less than specified minimum prices for the 10 "war crops."

In Liberty's Name

LET US BUILD THE AIRCRAFT CARRIER 'SHANGRI-LA' WITH OUR PURCHASE OF EXTRA WAR STAMPS

$1 IN WAR STAMPS FROM EVERY AMERICAN NOW! WILL BUILD
THIS SHIP TO BOMB TOKYO

$1 in War Stamps from you and every other man, woman and child in America will build this fighter for Freedom! The extra change in your pocket now, will buy your part of the new aircraft carrier 'Shangri-La'! Any Raleigh salesperson will be glad to help you join in the second bombing of Tokyo by selling you extra war stamps.

RALEIGH HABERDASHER

1310 F Street

Where to Dine from 6 to 9:30

LET'S GET GOING
—save gas mileage, tiring side-walk walking and taxi fares by dining regularly at the downtown Lafayette Room—tonight it's our seafood spread we're featuring.

FRIDAY SPECIAL
Fresh Shrimp, Maine
Lobster Orientale
Whole shrimp, large Maine lobster with curry powder, heavy cream, served with East Indian pickle, rice, appetizer, salad, dessert, rolls and coffee $1.60

FRI. NOON SPECIAL
Fresh Seafood
Newberg in Casserole, 1 lb. 25¢
Branch Potatoes 75¢

Lafayette
ROOM
HOTEL LAFAYETTE
18th & Eye Streets
AIR CONDITIONED

Scotland has never shipped better
WHITE HORSE to America!

...and every bottle has won a battle to get here!
BLENDED SCOTCH WHISKY 86.8 PROOF. BROWNE VINTNERS CO., INC., NEW YORK

IMPORTANT NOTICE

We Are Pleased to Announce

We Are Now Accepting

Work in Our Stores

WEST END LAUNDRY

NOTE EXCEPTIONS—We are not accepting the following items: Dress Shirts, Silk Shirts, Evening Suits, White Vests, Evening Dresses, Gloves, Hats, Furniture Covers and Curtains.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By Drew Pearson

FDR Gets Lowdown

THE OTHER DAY a young Texan named Creemore Fath nearly fell off his chair in the Board of Economic Warfare when he got a call from the White House.

"General Watson calling. The President would like to see you at 11:15."

Creemore Fath is a relatively obscure official in the Board of Economic Warfare whom very few people have heard about. But he is also one of the fightingest young men in the BEW, especially when it comes to a certain subject in which the President has shown considerable interest—namely, whether we shall follow Germany and inspire catfists in Latin America.

The issue has long been debated backstage in regard to American Cynamid, to which the State Department proposes granting a monopoly of all the former Nazi drugs and chemical companies in Mexico. Creation of this monopoly is extremely important, because it would set a pattern for other Latin-American countries. Leo Crowley, forthright Alien Property Custodian, has opposed the American Cynamid deal; also Attorney General Biddle. They had argued that Cynamid, once closely linked with the Nazi I. G. Farbenindustrie, would create another giant chemical trust in Mexico which might get into German hands after the war. Also they have favored the American principle of free competition in Mexico.

Picture Distorted

THE PRESIDENT agreed with them, sent a written memo to Crowley, and a decision supposedly was made to inform the Mexican government to this effect. Then the State Department, in drafting a note to Mexico, distorted the picture, so actually it appeared that the United States had no objection to the American Cynamid deal.

Hearing about this, the President called in the man who knows most about the whole thing, young Creemore Fath. When Fath got to the White House the President sat back and listened. He hardly said a word. After Fath had finished telling him how the State Department had twisted the previous decision of Crowley, Biddle and the President himself, FDR made this remark:

"Any time you want to come and see me again, just call up and tell 'Pa' that another Cynamid is being pulled off."

Immediately thereafter the President sent for Assistant Secretary of State Dean Acheson, Vice President Wallace, Attorney General Biddle and Leo Crowley. Then he proceeded to pawl out the State Department, said that his instructions had not been carried out, and that from now on he would handle his own dealings with Mexico on American Cynamid.

Free and Fair

AFTER THAT the President did a most unusual thing. He wrote a personal letter to his friend, President Avila Camacho of Mexico, telling him in no uncertain terms that the United States was for free and fair competition, not for an American cartel along Nazi lines in Mexico.

NOTE: The calling in of Creemore Fath, the man who knew most about American Cynamid, is similar to what the President used to do in the old days when he kept an eagle eye on domestic problems and was not giving most of his time to admirals and generals.

This incident, plus the firing of Chester Davis, the two vetoes on the anti-strike bill and subsidies, and the withdrawal of George Henry Payne from the FCC, has convinced White House friends that FDR is now determined to get back to the battle of the domestic front. Commissioner Payne had sided with the Dies Committee in voting to oust FCC employees Dodd and Watson.

mined to get back to the battle of the domestic front. Commissioner Payne had sided with the Dies Committee in voting to oust FCC employees Dodd and Watson.

Hoover on Stalin

FRIENDS of Herbert Hoover say that it would scorch paper to write down what he has to say about relations between Roosevelt and Stalin and the Joe Davies "Mission to Moscow."

In the first place, Hoover says that Stalin should be told what to do, not pandered to. He also says that the mysterious letter Davies carried to Stalin was a proposal that Stalin meet with the President at some convenient place. Teheran was suggested, with the qualification that if Stalin could not leave the country, Roosevelt would be willing to come all the way to Moscow.

Stalin is reported to have rejected the whole business, saying he was too much engrossed in the duty of defending his country.

NOTE: Hoover is reported by friends to have conferred recently with Chief of Staff General Marshall.

"Liberal" Martin Dies

IT ISN'T OFTEN that rangy Representative Martin Dies of Texas, the un-Americanism hawkshaw, strikes a blow for the Administration. However, he went down the line with other Democrats in voting to sustain the President's veto of the Commodity Credit bill, which was amended to block the price rollback program.

The day before the vote Dies explained his position with an impromptu stump speech in the Speaker's "lobby" that had New Dealers within earshot gasping for breath.

"The powers behind this legislation are the forces of reaction," thundered the amiable Texan. "They're getting entirely too strong in this country. We've got to stop them."

New Dealers standing nearby listened in petrified amazement to the gentleman famous for his Administration-baiting.

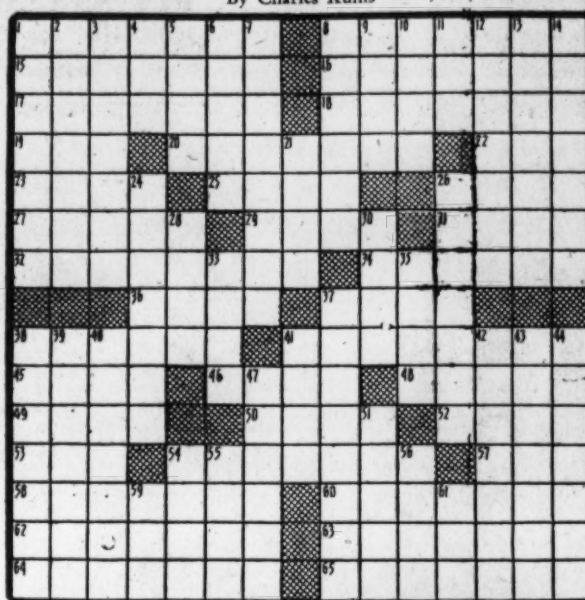

One New Dealer present whistled softly, said, "Will wonders never cease?" Mr. Dies has gone liberal.

Merry-Go-Round

JUST A YEAR AGO submarines were so thick in the Gulf of Mexico that United States soldiers home on leave from duties in Panama were unable to get back to the Canal Zone. Today, the U-boats have been completely driven out of the Gulf. . . Gardner Cowles, who kept denying he would resign from OWI and help Willie's campaign, finally is willing to admit it. After a holiday in the Minnesota lake country, he will become brain trust for Wendell Willkie. . . Cowles makes three predictions about the 1944 campaign. . . If Willkie can get the Republican nomination without splitting the party, he will be the next President. . . The Republican strategy will be to wage the campaign on domestic issues, avoiding international questions. . . The food shortage will be a leading political issue in the coming campaign.

Today's Cross Word Puzzle

By Charles Kuhl

Reaction at Home To Guide Congress

Expected to Weigh Heavily in Current Rift Between Legislators and President

Congress, going home for a summer recess, leaves new tax legislation as the major task to be tackled on its return nine weeks hence, and also leaves Capitol politicians pondering the question: Will the legislators "back home" talks with constituents strengthen or weaken the differences of opinion which in the last six months have brought a majority of the Congress into frequent and sharp disagreement with President Roosevelt over home front issues?

The President's supporters predict he will have easier sailing in his dealings with Congress, once the members have had opportunity to talk things over with the home folks. But those differing with the President over such matters as sales tax, subsidies, liquor and tobacco taxes might say Congress will come back more confirmed than ever in what they term its independence.

16 Billion More Asked

If the President's critics are right, the differences may bob up again on the tax issue. Mr. Roosevelt has asked for 16 billion dollars in new revenues, but has indicated strong disapproval of a general sales tax, although saying liquor and tobacco taxes might be raised.

Yet some influential legislators already are saying that if any substantial part of that 16 billion dollars is to be raised there will have to be a sales tax.

The Treasury has suggested that some sort of individual "excess profits" tax might be worked out—a levy which would take more tax from the man who made $3500 a year before the war, but now makes $5000, than it would from the one who made $5000 then and still gets that.

That is an idea on which the Congress will have a chance to probe public sentiment during the recess.

While the question of food subsidies stirred perhaps the most bitter quarrel over subsidies, the record of this Congress to date is heavily dotted with disagreements with the White House.

The labor disputes bill was enacted over Mr. Roosevelt's veto. His executive order limiting salaries to $25,000 a year, after taxes, was nullified.

Two Agencies Scuttled

Two New Deal agencies, the National Resources Planning Board (NRPB) and the National Youth Administration (NYA), were abolished. The former was headed by the President's uncle, Frederic A. Delano, and was engaged in planning ways and means to cope with prospective postwar problems.

When the President protested that advance planning might save the country billions in money and time, the Congress went ahead and abolished the agency and set up its own postwar planning committee.

NYA was ordered liquidated by January 1. It had been established eight years ago to help young people (up to age 24) continue their schooling by providing part-time jobs. With the approach of war, its emphasis was shifted to training for war-production jobs.

The President suffered rebuffs, too, on two of his nominations to high posts. He proposed Edward J. Flynn, New York lawyer and Democratic national chairman, for Minister to Australia, but withdrew the nomination after it became evident that the Senate would decline to confirm it.

He nominated James V. Alfred, former Texas Governor, for the Fifth Circuit Court of Appeals. Alfred had left the Federal bench to make an unsuccessful contest against Senator O'Daniel of Texas for the Democratic nomination as Senator. O'Daniel, opponent of many New Deal projects, contended (and it was denied) that there had been a deal whereby Alfred was to be appointed to the Circuit Court in event he failed to win the senatorial race. Alfred's nomination died when the Senate Judiciary Committee refused by a 9-to-9 vote to report it to the Senate.

On questions touching on the war and foreign policy, Mr. Roosevelt met with little opposition. Congress appropriated with scarcely a murmur over 130 billion dollars, all but a relative handful to finance the war.

It renewed the Administration's authority to make lend-lease agreements under which American weapons and supplies are flowing to Allied nations all over the world.

The Reciprocal Trade Agreements Act, allowing negotiation of agreements for mutual reductions in tariffs, also was renewed as was the Stabilization Act which empowers the Treasury to use a two-billion-dollar fund to buy and sell foreign currencies so as to stabilize their relation to the dollar.

U. S. Asked to Run Gun Plant Closed by Dispute

By the Associated Press
Saginaw, Mich., July 8.—Production of guns for the Army in a General Motors plant here ceased today in the course of a labor dispute and leaders of the United Automobile Workers (C. I. O.) urged the Government to take over plant operations.

Several thousand production workers were made idle because of a walkout of tool makers at G. M.'s Saginaw steering gear division, a company spokesman said.

The tool makers were reported to have acted in sympathy with tool sharpeners who have stayed away from work in a dispute over establishment of a "swing shift" in their department.

Linwood L. Smith, regional director of the U. A. W.-C. I. O., wired President Roosevelt asking Government operation of the plant. He charged that management refused to negotiate the tool sharpeners' dispute and that collective bargaining had broken down.

Union representatives said the sharpeners protested a swing shift under which some would be required to work Sundays.

Strikers Reclassified

Bingham Canyon, Utah, July 8 (AP)—Utah Copper Co. officials tonight rescinded an order classifying employees of the firm's Bingham and Garfield Railroad as copper company workers, clearing the way for an end to the walkout which halted production of a large portion of the Nation's war-vital red metal.

The action came within a few hours after receipt of telegrams from the War Labor Board and National Mediation Board requesting withdrawal of the order before mediation talks begin Friday. Similar telegrams also requested the Order of Railway Conductors to return to work immediately.

The union claimed the controversial order which precipitated the walkout Tuesday night would deprive them of benefits under the Railroad Retirement Act.

12,000 Idle Miners

Pittsburgh, July 8 (AP)—The United States Steel Corp. abruptly canceled plans tonight to fire up three closed blast furnaces as roving pickets swelled the ranks of idle miners in the southwestern Pennsylvania "captive" mine fields to 12,000.

The furnaces were the last ones remaining idle of 14 which had been shut down soon after the third general walkout of miners began June 20.

The pickets, termed by John P. Busarello, president of the United Mine Workers Pittsburgh District 5, as "outlaw miners," centered attention on more than a dozen mines whose output goes directly to steel mills.

The increasingly tense situation, with the pickets keeping away night shifts tonight at five United States Steel mines employing 4300 men, led to a two-hour conference during the afternoon between United States Attorney Charles F. Uhl and a delegation of steel company officials.

Uhl talked by telephone with Washington for some time after the meeting. The Connally-Smith anti-strike law, passed two weeks ago, is still being studied by Attorney General Francis Biddle it was said.

ART MATERIALS
MUTH 710 13th
NAT. 6386

WOODWARD & LOTHROP
10th 11th F and G Streets
Phone District 5300

GOURIELLI

Sulfo-Collodio Cream

sulphur's beneficial qualities to help your skin attain coveted loveliness

Use it, too, as a competent day-long foundation to protect your skin from pore-clogging grime and dust. Such a small, smart jar—but use it faithfully, to help you discover the wonderful difference between "shine" and radiance. . . . $1.50 (plus 10% tax)

Emulsion Soap is your assurance of thorough cleansing. Use it as a companion piece to your Sulfo-Collodio Cream . . . . . $1.50

W & L—Toiletries, Aisle 13, First Floor

WOODWARD & LOTHROP
10th 11th F and G Streets
Phone District 5300

Store Hours 9:30 to 6—Thursdays 12:30 to 9
Store Closed Saturdays Through August 28th

Truly, Boudoir Luxury

silk sheer nightdress and coat

Gossamer beauty worthy of a place in the most lavish of trousseaus. Pink, blue or white clouds of silken loveliness whose flattering lines use the daintiest of wide cotton laces as trimmings and accents for their snug midriffs. With the softest of dirndl skirts for a maximum of fullness . . . truly, boudoir luxury.

Nightdress in sizes 32 to 36 . . . . . $14.95
Matching boudoir coat in sizes 32 to 36 . . . . . $22.50

W & L—Underwear, Third Floor

Bras for Juniors

Perma-lift . . . dainty and efficient

To mold young contours . . . an unusual uplift feature built into a bra of cotton lace and rayon satin ribbon. Adjustable straps, in tea rose or white. Sizes 32 to 36. . . . . $1.50

Other Perma-lift bras, $1.25 to $1.75
W & L—Girls' and Junior Misses' Furnishings, Fourth Floor

OLDSMOBILE WANTED!

We Buy Any Make Car to Resell Locally and in Other Areas CASH—NO CHECKS

FLOOD PONTIAC

4221 Connecticut Ave. Woodley 8400
Open Daily, Evenings and Sundays

WOODWARD & LOTHROP
10th 11th F and G Streets
Phone District 5300

Wear Color

on belts and hatbands

Pleated rayon crepe hatbands in plain colors and prints—to hook on . . . 40c

Cotton string belts in many colors and designs . . . . . $1

Rayon grosgrain ribbon belts in all costume colors—adjustable. . . 58c and 68c

W & L—Ribbons, Aisle 20, First Floor

Cleansing Tissues

a W & L necessity, for summer

You need so many these hot days and their uses are so varied—you choose the larger professional size, 12x15, in white, peach or multi-color. 125 double sheets . . . 55c

W & L—Notions, Aisle 22, First Floor

Native Chieftain Outsmarts Japs And Captures 18

Kiriwina Island, Trobriand Group, July 8 (AP)—Outsmarted by the ruling chieftain of the Trobriand Islands, 18 Japanese were captured here by Kiriwina natives and turned over to the Australians, it was disclosed today.

The Japanese were survivors of the battle of the Bismarck Sea last March.

Chief Mitakata ordered the Japanese be fed and then he advised them they likely would be apprehended by Australians unless they split into smaller parties of three each. The natives led the Japanese parties on separate tracks. Native police boys then captured and took them to the Australian administrative officer, the only white man on the island, at Losuia government station.

Asked through an interpreter how he happened to divide the Japanese survivors into small parties, the chief cannily replied that he knew his men couldn't overpower 18 at once, but could take on three at a time without any trouble.

CALENDARS
Complete assortment of class and styles for 1944
BRYAN ME. 0252
813 13th St. N.W.

MASS MEETING
FRIDAY, JULY 9—8 P. M.
NATIONAL PRESS CLUB AUDITORIUM

Sponsored by the AMERICAN FEDERATION OF THE PHYSICALLY HANDICAPPED, Inc.

Speakers include—

Vice President HENRY A. WALLACE.
Rep. AUGUSTINE B. KELLEY, sponsor of H. Res. 280, calling for House investigation of whole field of 23,000,000 handicapped Americans—to provide a National Program including Treatment, Training, Placement, and Fair Employment Practices for all Disabled.
Paul A. Strachan, President, A. F. P. H.

Lewis Hines, representing William Green, President, American Federation of Labor.
Rev. J. Lowrey Fendrich, Metropolitan Presbyterian Church.
H. P. Alfisa, Pres. Dist. 44, Int'l Am'n Machinists.

Monroe Sweetland, Director, C. I. O. War Relief Commission.
Paul Sifton, Leg. Rep., Nat. Farmers Union.

Dr. A. S. Beahrs, V. P. A. F. P. H.
Millard W. Rice, V. P. A. F. P. H. and Nat. Service Director, D. A. V.
All Physically Handicapped—the Blind, Deaf, Hard of Hearing, Amputees, T. B.'s, Cardiacs, Polio and victims of all other incapacitating injuries or diseases—especially Disabled Veterans, are urged to attend.

THE PUBLIC IS cordially INVITED

NO BETTER
BUY IN
THE WORLD

Vegetable Deluge Forces Down Price

Seasick

District Navy Man Shifts To the Army

About the best living example of "combined operations" came to light yesterday in a young Washington naval officer who is now wearing an Army uniform because he got seasick in heavy weather.

He is Maj. John F. Splain, 26, son of Mr. and Mrs. James F. Splain of 7110 Curtis Street, Chevy Chase, Md.

On duty in the Chesapeake Bay Sector, Maj. Splain is a liaison officer operating between Fort Monroe on the north shore of Hampton Roads and the Norfolk Naval Operating Base on the other.

After graduating from the Naval Academy at Annapolis in 1939, Splain went to sea as an ensign with big ships of the fleet.

He served for more than a year aboard battleships, cruisers and destroyers, but on the rolling, pitching decks in heavy weather he was constantly seasick.

Splain fought the sickness, but Navy doctors told him that it was a condition that could not be remedied.

Ensign Splain asked for transfer to the Army and in December, 1940, he was accepted as a second lieutenant in the Coast Artillery. Splain proved a good soldier.

In less than six months he was promoted to first lieutenant and was made a captain in December, 1942.

A week ago today Splain pinned to his collar the gold leaf of a major. But with it he was not completely divorced from the sea.

In his present post Maj. Splain, with offices on both sides of Hampton Roads, makes at least one round trip a day across the water in an Army launch.

It is his task to see to it that the sector headquarters, the Coast Artillery School and the mine depot of Fort Monroe know exactly what the Fifth Naval Headquarters at the Norfolk base are doing and vice versa. His information is what keeps the Army from setting off a mine under a cruising Navy submarine or knocking a Navy patrol plane out of the sky with anti-aircraft fire. Through the joint operations board, on which Splain sits, the Army knows the location and schedule of such craft operating in the area.

Both Army and Navy point to Splain as an illustration of the increasingly good cooperation between the services. His duties include both mapping strategy through the board and relaying information between the two commands. There is also a social side of Splain's post and it is part of his function to make it possible for Army and Navy officers to meet.

A native of Washington, Major Splain graduated from Central High School and took his preparatory training for the Naval Academy at Bullis School. He was a member of St. Gabriel's parish and as a boy was active in the Boy Scouts. A year ago he was married in Walter Reed Chapel to the former Rebecca Williamson of 5319 Thirteenth Street Northwest and now lives with his wife on the post at Fort Monroe in quarters occupied by Gen. Robert E. Lee when he was a colonel in the United States Army.

While on vacation from the Naval Academy, Midshipman Splain met a young man at Utica, N. Y., who was very much interested in Navy life, but who felt he would not be able to make the scholastic grade. Recently the young man came into the news as Ensign Vincent J. Cardamore, 24, who commanded one of the first landing boats to reach Woodlark Island, southeast of the Trobriands. The young officer reported that all the boats in the operations, which were under the command of Lieut. Comdr. John D. Bulkley of "expendable" fame, landed men and material in 63 minutes from the time they left the convoy. The report said all the convoy personnel suffered seasickness.

Gen. Wood Heads Air Supply Unit

London, July 8 (AP).—U. S. Army headquarters announced today that Brig. Gen. Myron R. Wood had been appointed chief of the supply division of the Eighth Air Force Service Command.

The announcement said Wood, 50-year-old native of Boulder, Colo., was one of four officers who organized the service command. His wife lives at 4215 North Vacation Lane, Arlington, Va.

Beef and Poultry Supply at Low Ebb; Pork Stocks Gain

With the beef supply in Washington only 20 per cent of the demand, according to packers' estimates, and wholesale poultrymen obtaining only 40 per cent of their normal supply of chickens, Washington housewives may find consolation in reports that pork products are more plentiful than they have been and the supplies of fresh vegetables are such that prices are already tumbling.

Wholesale produce merchants said yesterday their stocks of all vegetables, with the exception of spinach and other leafy greens, were excellent.

Cantaloupes, potatoes, tomatoes, beans, cabbage, corn and other staples were coming into the city in more than adequate quantities.

However, there continues to be a shortage of onions.

Poultrymen have been meeting with local OPA officials all during this week in an effort to work out a plan that would result in an adequate supply of fowl at legal prices—for Washington.

Favor Simplification

The poultrymen are suggesting that all price ceilings between the retailer and on down to the producer, be eliminated and a fixed ceiling of 48 cents a pound on dressed birds to the consumer be substituted. They also would allow a ceiling of 65 or 70 cents on cut-up chicken.

This plan, they asserted, would result in the revival of competition among wholesalers and others and at the same time would prevent the retailer from buying chickens on the black market for more than a price that would allow him to make a profit on his sale to the consumer at 48 cents a pound.

Packers asserted they saw no chance for an improvement in the beef famine until national OPA and Congress settled the present price muddle. One expressed the opinion that subsidies would be the only solution as under present arrangements cattle raisers are not selling their livestock, although there is estimated to be 30 per cent more livestock on the cattle ranges than last year.

A spokesman for the War Food Administration said they could not now predict when supplies of beef would become adequate. They confirmed packers' reports that the supplies of pork and cured pork products were encouraging.

Supplies of mutton and lamb were better than those of beef, but not as ample as pork. Due to favorable growing weather in this vicinity, produce dealers look for a continuance of the excellent supply of fresh vegetables.

Armed Forces Get 83 More D. C. Negroes

Eighty-three Washington Negroes will report for active duty with the armed forces tomorrow. Of the total, 61 men are going to the Army, 19 to the Navy and 3 to the Marine Corps. The soldiers were inducted June 26, while the men going to the naval forces were inducted July 3.

To the Army go:

George Hayes, Louis A. Mitchell, George Holloway, Harold F. Wells, Edward J. Arnold, Karl M. Wynn, Charles C. Pinkett, Elias F. Shellen, Jr., Otto L. Harris, C. Nelson, Jr., Isaiah M. Lee, Rufus S. Edwards, Leonard T. Alexander, Benben Earls, Wilbur A. Wallace, Eli Dickerson, Lincoln E. Calvin, L. Rice.

Leroy W. Jones, Isaiah R. Pendleton, Earl L. Johnson, Otis M. Lons, Marcellus G. Johnson, John N. Wilson, Wilton E. Smallwood, Willie J. Smith, William M. Friedman, Robert Hobbs, Louis R. Beauchamp, Edward M. Lawrence, R. Bailey.

Eugene F. Johnson, Fred Brown, Trey Bacon, Luther T. McCollum, Charlie Avis, James L. Cross, William A. Harrison, Albert A. Johnson, Raymond A. Stewart, John J. Hawkins.

Samuel Hill, Henry C. Johnson, Ose Wilson, Ralph L. Thomas, John E. Mason, William T. Lyles, William J. Edels, Joseph S. Gathers, Floyd N. Frasier, William J. Thomas, Charles W. Tweedy, James M. Epps, Frank W. Martin, Thomas F. Wilson, Charles P. Campbell, Alfred R. Ford, Frank Wilson, Howard Butler, Robinson Watson, Robert E. Turner.

To the Navy go:

William C. Steiner, John A. Robinson, Samuel E. Powell, Calvin P. Dixon, Jr., William H. Lewis, Andrew Jackson Dewey Price, Frank E. Ford, Vincent E. Allen, Walter Johnson, James Michael, Willie C. Jennings, Freddie D. Stevens, Willie L. Bowles, John T. Moore, Otis R. Barr, Alexander Tonic, Edward E. Anderson, George R. Riddick.

To the Marine Corps go:

Joseph Frederick, Arthur Johnson, Carroll E. Rich.

FBI Arrests Former Valet to Gene Krupa

Los Angeles, July 8 (AP).—The FBI today arrested John Pateakos, 20, former valet to drummer Gene Krupa, on draft evasion charges.

It was Pateakos who, the Government charged, was used by Krupa to carry marijuana cigarettes. Krupa was sentenced in San Francisco last week to one to six years on his conviction on a charge of inducing a minor to transport narcotics.

the Palais Royal
THIRD FLOOR STUDIO for photographs to send to her

ALL THE NEWS AT HOME AND ABROAD

Direct from the men who see it happen

The WORLD TODAY

Radio's Greatest War Reporters
Edward R. Murrow
Charles Collingwood
Eric Sevareid
Bob Trout
Winston Burdett
James Stewart
Doug Edwards
And Many Others!

Brought to You by

GENERAL ELECTRIC
WTOP 6:45 P. M. EVERY NIGHT EXCEPT SUN.

KATE SMITH SPEAKS

Kate's cheerful, newsy quarter-hour lends inspiration every noon-time.

MONDAY THRU FRIDAY
12 NOON

Sponsored by Swansdown & Calumet

WJSV IS NOW

WTOP

TOP PROGRAMS AT THE TOP OF YOUR DIAL 1500

COLUMBIA NETWORK PROGRAMS

BIG SISTER

Favorite daytime dramatic entertainment of millions of women.

MONDAY THRU FRIDAY
12:15 pm

Presented by Rinco

CBS

D. C. Soldier Tells Prison Camp Story

From Africa comes the story of Pvt. Anthony Albanesi of 209 C Street Northeast and the oblique Italian prisoner.

According to the Army newspaper Stars and Stripes, Private Albanesi was stationed at a prison camp where captured Germans and Italians sojourn for awhile before being sent to this country or Great Britain.

"This sympathetic Italian prisoner," related Private Albanesi, "saw I was tired and motioned to me to go to sleep," that he would take my rifle and stand guard."

Private Albanesi declined, the story said.

By and large, the Italians Private Albanesi saw were quite happy.

But they were disgusted when we brought them to this camp instead of shipping them right out to

If You Get Up Nights You Can't Feel Right

If you have to get up 3 or more times a night your rest is broken and it's no wonder if you feel old and run down before your time. Functional rather than organic or systemic kidney and bladder trouble may be the cause of many pains, leg pains, backaches, or swollen ankles, due to non-organic or non-systemic kidney and bladder troubles, you'll make no mistake in trying the prescription called Creolene. Because it has given such joyous happy relief to so high a percentage of such cases, Creolene is sold under a guarantee of money back on return of empty packages unless completely satisfactory to you. Creolene costs only 50¢ at drugists and the guarantee protects you.

Hull to Reconsider on Allied Relief Project

By the Associated Press
Senator Vandenberg told the Senate yesterday that Secretary of State Hull has agreed to reconsider a projected agreement for participation in a United Nations relief and rehabilitation administration, in view of questions whether it constitutes a treaty.

Declaring he had no quarrel with the subject matter of the draft agreement published by the State Department, Vandenberg (Republican), Michigan, asserted the question was whether the Senate should pass on the proposed pact, as it is required to do with treaties.

Vandenberg reported that a Senate Foreign Relations Subcommittee conferred with the Secretary Wednesday and as a result, the Senator's resolution calling for an investigation of the procedure "is under mutual consideration."

Secretary Hull expressed belief yesterday that a final agreement on postwar relief and rehabilitation machinery would be reached among the United Nations without serious delay.

In a note to the State Department last week, the Netherlands government stated that the plan for a four-power central committee of the United States, Great Britain,

China and Soviet Russia did "not seem compatible with democratic principles."

Asked about the effect of such observations on plans for a United Nations conference on the subject, Hull said he did not think any such serious or difficult questions were being raised as would seriously delay a final agreement.

Pianos for Rent

Phone
REpublic
6212

KITT'S 1330 G Street (Middle of Block)

A SAVINGS GUIDE

Home Financing With Features Exclusively Obtainable
Here

It's not the rate earned but the safety behind the investment that earns it which should decide where you can most profitably put your savings. To a 35-year record of protection for savings we add Federal Insurance to your safeguards here.

COLUMBIA FEDERAL
SAVINGS & LOAN ASSOCIATION
716 11th Street, N.W. National 6543

War is on the highways

— on the railroads

— on the telephone wires, too

YOU'D willingly give right of way if you saw a long line of Army trucks coming along the road. Especially those loaded with men and supplies.

You've waited on a railroad siding — glad to do it, too — to let a troop train go by.

Sometimes a Long Distance call of yours may also be delayed because many thousands of war calls are marching along the lines.

You can't see them but they are there every hour of the day and night. A great many have to do with munitions and supplies and troops.

So if you are in a war-busy city—or telephoning to a war-busy city—we hope you'll remember this if you talk Long Distance.

We'll do our best to give you the essential calls if you'll go easy on the unessential.

THE CHESAPEAKE AND POTOMAC TELEPHONE COMPANY
723-13th St. N.W.

MEtropolitan 9900

WAR BONDS
"THAT'S ALL"

PIANOS for RENT

Call
NA. 3223

Largest Selection in the City
JORDAN'S
1015 7th St. N.W.

D. C. Hymn Singing Meetings Will Start Sunday Evening

By Robert Tate Allan
Post Church Editor

Are you a warworker, man or woman in uniform, or newcomer to the city?

Recall the grand old hymns of the church that were sung from your pews and choir stalls back home? Remember the spiritual "life" you got from those hymns to strengthen you for your daily labors, and to keep your faith strong when the going was rough?

Well, cognizant of the value of hymn singing in building morale, not only for winning this war but in making a spiritually stronger postwar Nation and world, the Washington Federation of Christian Youth and the Federation of Churches' Defense Commission, with the cooperation of The Washington Post religious news department, will sponsor a series of monthly hymn "sings" at the Sylvan Theater, Washington Monument Grounds, starting Sunday at 8:15 p.m.

There will be no sermons or speeches. Just a good, old-fashioned hymnfest, the initial program being led by Donald F. Bautz, federation defense commissioner.

So, make a date for Sunday night at the Sylvan Theater, and bring along your friends. The "sings" are open to anyone and everyone. Plenty of song sheets will be available. If you can't sing, well, "just hum."

WINSLOW
PAINTS

TEXOLITE costs less per gallon and does a swell decorating job on living room, dining room and bedroom walls.
922 N. Y. Ave. N.A. 8610

Sea Island, Ga.
FOR YOUR WAR-TIME VACATION
The CLOISTER
SEA ISLAND, GEORGIA
Golf, tennis, cycling and swimming in surf or pool. No car needed. See Travel Agent or write for booklet.

WE BEGAN AT THE TOP ...AND WORKED UP

Before the war, Carstairs White Seal whiskey was already tops in the regard of appreciative drinkers. But since our distilling facilities have been producing war materials, and Carstairs White Seal is coming solely from irreplaceable prewar reserves, folks are looking up to it as a very special prize. So when it's your turn to get a bottle, t-t-t-e-t-t-h the enjoyment—make it last until your next bottle becomes available!

THE MAN WHO CARES SAYS: CARSTAIRS

BLENDED WHISKEY 86.8 Proof, 60% Grain Neutral Spirits.
Carstairs Bros. Distilling Co., Inc., Baltimore, Md.

Shop Today
Closed
Saturdays
During July and August

Regulation
Army Officers Uniforms sold by Authority
The War Dept.

THE DAY YOU STEP INTO UNIFORM

That day when you are commissioned as an Officer into the United States Navy will be one of the proudest days in your life. We at D. J. Kaufman are proud, too, to be equipped to serve you in ALL your uniform requirements. Our stock of Naval Uniforms and equipment is complete. We show Blues in elastic, wide wale, serge, whipcord and tropical, and summer uniforms in a variety of fabrics. Our tailoring and fitting service on the premises assures you of prompt attention... and most important, the prices are in line with the superb styling in every garment.

D. J. Kaufman
INC.
1005 PENN. AVE. N.W.
14th & EYE STS. N.W.

OPA LOWEST Ceiling PRICES GROUP

WHY OPA-4 CLASSIFICATION?

Have you noted the posting in our stores of our official Office of Price Administration classification designation—OPA-4?

We think a brief word of explanation is due our customers. All retail food stores in the country, without exception, are so listed under one of four classifications, namely—OPA-1, OPA-2, OPA-3, OPA-4; the rating being based according to the company's annual sales volume. Each class prescribes a different set of ceiling prices, with those in the first three groups being permitted correspondingly higher ceiling price levels than OPA-4.

As your GIANT STORES are all in the lowest ceiling price classification unit, OPA-4, the Office of Price Administration therefore rules that we must SELL at LOWEST PRICES.

STORE HOURS:

9 A. M. to

9 P. M.

SATURDAYS
UNTIL 10 P. M.

We Reserve Right to Limit Quantities

THE "BIG SIX"

3509 Georgia
Ave. N. W.

6514 Georgia
Ave. N. W.

4555 Wisconsin
Ave. N. W.

15th and H
Sts. N. E.

15th & Rhode Is.
Ave. N. E.

1850 Wilson
Boulevard
Arlington, Va.

OPA CEILING PRICES POSTED

—on prominent uniform boards throughout each of our stores, showing our correct OPA-4 ceiling prices according to prescribed regulations of the Office of Price Administration. However, we sell over 5,000 different items which are subject to hundreds of regulations and our present acute personnel problems have severely handicapped our efficiency of operation.

Thus, we are more than ever subject to errors and if you, our customer, should come upon any error, we respectfully request your courtesy in calling it to the attention of our manager, who will immediately correct it.

GIANT FOOD SHOPPING CENTER, INC.

DULANY TURNIP GREENS

No. 2
18 oz.
can 9c

6 POINTS

GARTH'S PINK GRAPEFRUIT JUICE

No. 2
18 oz.
can 13c

2 POINTS

DEL MONTE DE LUXE PLUMS

No. 2 1/2
29 oz.
jar 20c

7 POINTS

The Vegetable Juice V-8 COCKTAIL

large 46 oz.
can 28c

4 POINTS

DEL MONTE EARLY GARDEN ASPARAGUS SPEARS

No. 2
20 oz.
can 30c

14 POINTS

DEL MONTE ROYAL ANNE CHERRIES

No. 2 1/2
29 oz.
jar 36c

19 POINTS

"DOWN PRODUCE LANE"

CELERY

Crispy, Tender
NEW YORK STATE

stalk

12c

Hiley Belle Freestone PEACHES 2 lbs. 29c

New York State
PEAS FULLY
PODDED lb. 15c

Selected Variety
CUCUMBERS each 5c

Selected Variety
PEPPERS each 5c

WATERMELONS

Selected Variety
GEORGIA
YOUR CHOICE!

each 89c

MIXES DUFF'S GINGERBREAD OR HOT MUFFIN 1 1/2 lb. 20c
KARO SYRUP BLUE LABEL 1 1/2 lb. 15c
CORN FLAKES KELLOGG'S 11-oz. 8c
POST TOASTIES 18-oz. 12c
RICE SPARKIES QUAKER 11-oz. 11c
WHEAT SPARKIES QUAKER 11-oz. 9c
BRAN FLAKES POST'S 14-oz. 13c
POST-TENS OR KELLOGG'S VARIETIES 14-oz. 22c

SOUP MIXES AUNT POLLY'S 3 pkg. 25c
FLOUR PILLSBURY'S 5-lb. 31c
SWANSDOWN "BEST" 44-oz. 24c
HERRING ROE TIDEWATER 17-oz. 26c
WALDORF TISSUE roll 4c
SCOT-TISSUE 3 rolls 20c
SOFT-WEVE TISSUE 3 rolls 23c
SCOT-TOWELS 2 rolls 19c

GIANT QUALITY MEATS

LEGS

GRADE "A" lb. 33c
8 POINTS

VEAL

GRADE "AA"
lb. 35c
8 POINTS

RUMPS

GRADE "A"
lb. 33c
5 POINTS

GRADE "AA"
lb. 35c
5 POINTS

FRESH CAUGHT
PORGIES lb. 10c
Fresh-Caught
NORFOLK
SPOTS lb. 17c
Fresh-Caught
PAN
TROUT lb. 17c

BOILING BEEF PLATE lb. 21c
HAMBURGER GROUND lb. 28c
LIVERWURST SLICED 1/4-lb. 12c

SUGAR-CURED STRIP
BACON lb. 32c

DEL MONTE HALVES BARTLETT PEARS

No. 2 1/2
29 oz.
jar 32c

15 POINTS

EVAP. MILK

HOARD'S or PURITY
(1 Red Point per can)

3 tall cans 29c

6 tall
cans 55c

LIBBY'S TOMATO JUICE

No. 1
14 oz.
can 7c

2 POINTS

BUNKER HILL OR FORT McHENRY CUT GREEN BEANS

No. 2
19 oz.
can 13c

11 POINTS

LIBBY'S WHOLE RED BEETS

16 oz.
(15-count)
jar 15c

9 POINTS

LIBBY'S SLICED PINEAPPLE

No. 2
20 oz.
can 21c

23 POINTS

DEL MONTE Sliced or Halved PEACHES

No. 2 1/2
29 oz.
jar 28c

23 POINTS

Sen. McKellar Urges Probe of NYA Laundry and Dairy Farms Projects

By the Associated Press
Senator McKellar (Democrat) of Tennessee yesterday recommended an investigation by the Byrd Economic Committee into expenditures by the National Youth Administration in "operating a laundry in Alabama and dairy farms in Georgia and Mississippi."

Both Houses have agreed to a provision in the Labor-Federal Security appropriations bill directing the liquidation of NYA.

McKellar said despite that action, the committee headed by Senator Byrd (Democrat) of Virginia should make an inquiry into how funds have been used for purposes "having nothing to do with the training of youth for war work."

He added the committee should inquire into the disposal of NYA's tools and equipment during the liquidation.

At Birmingham, Ala., abolition of NYA projects there earlier this week was described yesterday by NYA officials as endangering several thousand pounds of wet laundry at the Slossfield community project for Negroes.

W. McKay Wright, NYA projects manager, said approximately one-third of the 24,000 pounds of laundry on hand had been washed and was still damp when the project closed Monday.

A method is being sought to prevent spoiling of the bundles involved, most of which are from the city health department.

Wright said the laundry, which had 17 employees, had been turning out more than 100,000 pounds of laundry per month. About one-third of this amount was from the Birmingham health department, the remainder coming from NYA residential projects.

The NYA official estimated value of machinery at the plant at $150,000.

Funeral of Col. Robbins to Be Held Tomorrow

Funeral services with full military honors for Col. Charles Burton Robbins, 65, an Assistant Secretary of War in the Coolidge Administration, will be held at 2 p. m. tomorrow at Fort Myer Chapel. Burial will be at Arlington Cemetery. He died Monday.

Since 1934, Colonel Robbins had been manager and counsel of the American Life Convention.

On January 12, 1928, he succeeded Hanford MacNider as Assistant Secretary of War, serving more than a year under Secretary Dwight W. Davis.

A native of Hastings, Iowa, Colonel Robbins enjoyed outstanding careers both in the Army and as a lawyer.

Colonel Robbins rose from the ranks in the Spanish-American War to become a second lieutenant in the First Nebraska Infantry. He was wounded in action in the Philippines and saw service on the Mexican border.

When World War I began he went overseas with the Thirty-fifth Division and later was adjutant of the Sixty-ninth Infantry Brigade.

He leaves two daughters, Mrs. T. C. Yarnell of Akron, Ohio, and Mrs. Alvin W. Allen of Cedar Rapids, and a son, Capt. Lewis F. Robbins, United States Army, now stationed at Camp Hood, Tex.

You Women Who Suffer From HOT FLASHES then CHILLY FEELINGS

If you—like so many women between the ages of 35 and 55—suffer from hot flashes, weak, nervous feelings, dizziness of "irregularities," are bloated times—due to the functional middle age period peculiar to women—try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to relieve such symptoms. Taken regularly—Pinkham's Compound helps build up resistance against such distress. It also has what Doctors call a stomachic tonic effect. Thousands upon thousands of women—rich and poor alike—have reported benefits. Here's a product that moves nerves and that's the kind to buy. Follow label directions. Well worth trying!

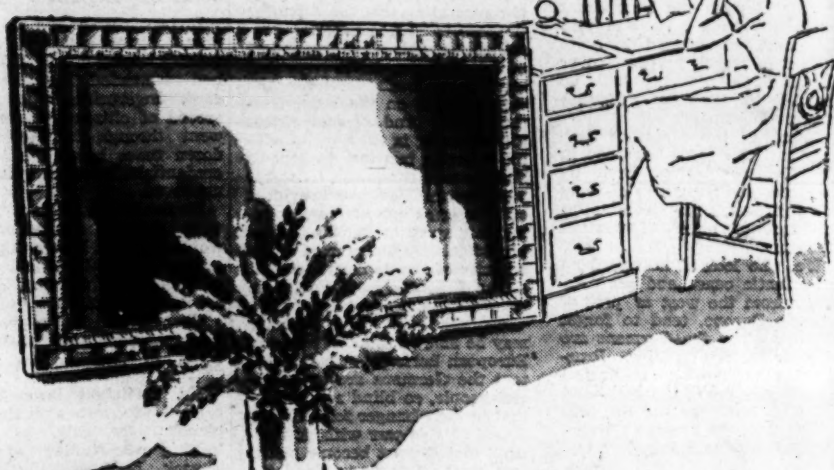

LYDIA E. PINKHAM'S VEGETABLE COMPOUND

Asthma Mucus Loosened For Thousands By 1st Dose of Mendaco

If you suffer from choking, gasping, wheezing, recurring attacks of Bronchial Asthma, here is good news for you. A prescription called Mendaco perfected by a physician in his private practice contains ingredients which start circulating thru the blood stream in a very short time after the first dose, thus reaching the congested bronchial tubes, loosen and remove thick strangling mucus (phlegm), thereby promoting freer breathing and more restful sleep. Fortunately Mendaco has now been made available to sufferers from recurring spasms of Bronchial Asthma thru all drug stores and has proved as helpful to so many thousands it is offered under a guarantee of money back unless completely satisfactory. You have everything to gain, so get Mendaco from your druggist today for only 50c. The guaranteed trial offer protects you.

THE HECHT CO. COMPLETELY AIR-CONDITIONED

Two Bright Ideas for That Bride on Your List!

Sale!

BAGUETTE-FRAMED MIRRORS

5.00 each

Bright idea for any bride, a striking baguette framed mirror... that adds a finishing touch to the room... that makes small rooms look spacious and airy. We have four styles... upright, console and oblong mirrors—all at a saving—all with fine plate glass. Burnished finished metal frames.

Mirrors, Air-Cooled Fourth Floor, The Hecht Co.

SMOOTH-AS-CREAM CHINA TABLE LAMPS

7.95

Six different styles for you to choose from! Lamps in dazzling white... and luscious shades of blue, green and rose. Some perfectly plain... some exquisitely hand-decorated. All on gold-finished metal bases... topped with tilt-top white or beige silk shades rayon lined for strength.

Lamps, Air-Cooled Fifth Floor, The Hecht Co.

THE HECHT CO. COMPLETELY AIR-CONDITIONED FOR YOUR COMFORT

Buy U. S. War Bonds and Stamps at The Hecht Co. or buy them wherever you choose but for Freedom's Sake buy them every pay day Victory Center Main Floor The Hecht Co.

YOU FIND EVER SO MANY USES FOR THESE HANDSOME

Record Cabinets

They do more than just protect your records... and keep them in ship-shape order. They provide parking space for a table radio or combination... double as an end or lamp table. The Gravelly cabinet is a double-decker... houses 16 albums. The Emerson has a handy extra shelf... holds 10 albums. Walnut and mahogany finished hardwood in group.

Record Cabinets, Air-Cooled Street Floor, The Hecht Co.

9.95

De Luxe Record Rack 2.25

Small enough to be put on any end table... large enough to hold forty 10 or 12-inch records. Sturdy wooden base, attractively designed.

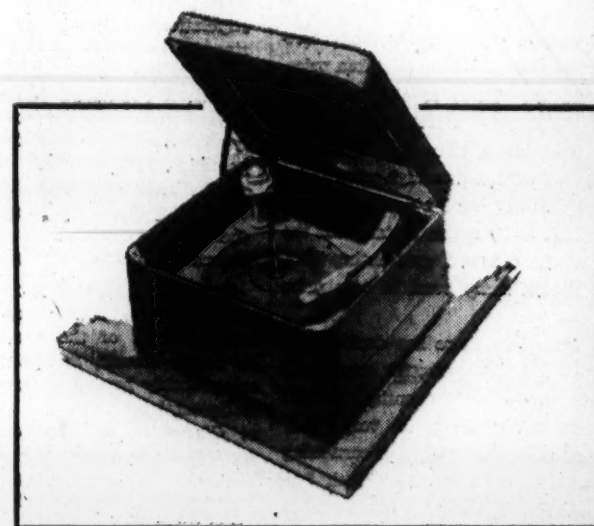

Record Album 49c

Fabricoid albums that will hold twelve 10-inch records. Get one so your records will be easily accessible. 12-inch size... 59c

Duo-tone Record Needle 1.50

With a long life ahead of it... for it plays 4000 records! Floats lightly over the groove... brings out the rich high tones and deep resonant notes.

ADMIRAL WIRED RECORD PLAYER

Has an automatic record changer—for 10 and 12-inch records! Handsome, compact little record player to sit atop your record cabinet or end table. Plays when attached to any radio.

42.95

CURRENT FAVORITES ON THE HIT PARADE!

Decca 18556—"You'll Never Know" and "Wait For Me Mary," with Dick Haymes... 53c

Decca 18557—"It Can't Be Wrong" and "In My Arms," with Dick Haymes... 53c

Decca 18553—"Coming In On a Wing and a Prayer" and "Johnny Zero," with Song Spinners... 53c

Columbia 35869—"Taking a Chance On Love" and "Cabin in the Sky," with Benny Goodman's Orchestra... 53c

Records, Record Players, Air-Cooled Street Floor, The Hecht Co.

The Hecht Co.
F. STREET, 7th STREET, E STREET
NATIONAL 5100

Shop Today, Friday, 9:30 A. M. to 6 P. M.
Closed All Day Saturdays During July and August

The Washington Post

Registered in U. S. Patent Office.

An Independent Newspaper
(Published every day in the year.)

Engene Meyer, Editor and Publisher

The Associated Press is entitled exclusively to use for publication of all news dispatches credited to it or not otherwise credited in this paper and local news of spontaneous origin published herein. Rights of reproduction of all other matter herein are also reserved.

New York Office: 370 Madison Avenue
Chicago Office: 360 North Michigan Avenue

CARRIER DELIVERY
District of Columbia and Suburbs

Daily and Sunday... $1.25 One week... $7.50 One month... $24.00

Elsewhere
Daily and Sunday... $1.50 One week... $9.00 One month... $28.00

BY MAIL—PAYABLE IN ADVANCE
Maryland, Virginia, West Virginia and North Carolina

Daily and Sunday... $1.25 One week... $7.50 One month... $24.00

Other States, Mexico and Canada
Daily and Sunday... $1.50 One week... $9.00 One month... $28.00

Rates to Foreign Countries not listed will be furnished upon request.

Entered at the Postoffice, Washington, D. C., as second-class mail matter.

TELEPHONE NATIONAL 4200.

Friday, July 9, 1943

Acid Test

If shipyard workers, among the highest paid group in the hierarchy of highly paid warworkers, were to be granted their demands for wage increases to compensate for higher living costs, the WLB might as well shut up shop. That appears to be the opinion of Wayne L. Morse, public member of the WLB, who stated emphatically that there is "no justification for this board . . . to adopt a program of increasing wages in the high-paid brackets, in the absence of a showing that the workers concerned cannot maintain a standard of living of health and decency for the duration of the war on their present wages." In short, Mr. Morse is evidently prepared to take a firm stand against all demands for wage increases to match increases in living costs, unless they conform to the Little Steel formula or are distinctly substandard.

The shipyard unions think they are entitled to special consideration because they consented a year ago to take smaller increases in pay than they were entitled to under the escalator clauses of their wage contracts, in return for a promise from President Roosevelt that he would use all the executive power he had "to clamp a lid on living costs." That promise he has been unable to fulfill, and Mr. Morse practically conceded as much in his public statement. Nevertheless, to raise the wages of over a billion of the country's best-paid warworkers because the cost of living has not been stabilized satisfactorily would only make a bad situation much worse. William H. Davis, WLB chairman, exposed the futility of such a proceeding by saying, "If the horse is running away, does it do any good to pound him on the back? Shouldn't you get hold of the bridle?"

Orny

The Senate's sadly impaired reputation as a deliberative body received another bad jolt this week when it voted to raise corn ceiling prices from $1.07 to $1.40 a bushel. There is no question that decisive and prompt action is needed to relieve the feed shortages that have resulted from mistaken price-control policies. There is also no doubt whatever that farmers prefer to hold on to corn for the present, since it brings much larger returns when fed to high-priced hogs than when sold at prevailing ceiling prices. However, it is by no means certain that the solution of the dilemma confronting OPA lies in a sudden sharp boost in corn price ceilings.

In the first place there are decided differences of opinion as to whether corn would be available in sufficient quantity, even at $1.40 per bushel, to satisfy the very heavy demands of livestock feeders and corn-using industries. Moreover, assuming such top-notch prices for corn were to bring a large amount on the market, the effect upon living costs would be extremely grave. For producers of hogs, cattle, butter, milk and poultry would insist upon higher prices for their products because of the increased cost of feed. Finally, raising the price of corn would not prevent a continuous and serious drain upon limited feed supplies resulting from our expanded livestock population, though the first effect might be to increase the marketing of hogs.

Informed critics of the food program have pointed out that in view of the heavy demands on total supplies there is grave doubt whether the country can afford to produce as much meat as we now have on the hoof and in prospect. (We don't see much of it on family tables, to be sure, but the country is overfull of meat animals, nonetheless.) This is the basic issue that the Senate should be considering, instead of issuing directives to the OPA to raise prices of a specified commodity. As Senator Barkley has pointed out, Congress would soon be in a "hopeless swamp" if it undertook to pass legislation fixing the prices of all sorts of commodities. Yet it would be headed in that direction if it were to take the regulation of corn prices out of the hands of OPA officials.

The OPA is now working on a plan for adjusting corn prices. And Price Administrator Brown states that it may be necessary to use other feed grains to a greater extent than at present and to import larger quantities of Canadian oats and barley. Under existing conditions the consuming public would undoubtedly benefit by limited use of subsidies to hold down the cost of feed and thus prevent a disproportionate rise in prices of meat, poultry, dairy and other products. Unfortunately, the Senate farm bloc that engineered this latest coup to raise corn prices is recklessly indifferent to the inflationary effect of its class-conscious program upon the general price structure.

General Giraud

Whatever the motive which inspired the presidential invitation, the visit of General Giraud to the United States should serve as an occasion for reminding ourselves that he, even more than General de Gaulle, is the victim of the disingenuous and disastrous French policy which the Administration has pursued since the fall of France. Where General de Gaulle has been merely snubbed or ridiculed, Giraud has been deceived, and grossly deceived. This is the only possible inference to be drawn from the series of articles by Mr. Demaree Bess, now being published in The Saturday Evening Post, based on records taken from General Eisenhower's own files. Incidentally, why one journalist should have exclusive access to historic files is a question that we would address again to the White House. The problem of our connections with the French has become so urgent that these matters, particularly the exchanges entered into prior to the entry into North Africa, should be related in an official document.

But to get back to Mr. Bess. He tells us that it was our representative, Mr. Murphy, who approached General Giraud with the plan of enlisting him in the Anglo-American invasion of North Africa. General Giraud was allowed to believe that the invasion of North Africa would be accompanied by the simultaneous landing of an expeditionary force in metropolitan France and diversionary operations elsewhere in Europe. Or, as Mr. Bess more discreetly puts it, "Murphy's instructions prevented him from informing Giraud that the decision had already been taken against such moves because of the great supply problems which such operations would involve." In other words, General Giraud was misled as to both the nature and the scope of the operations for which his support and supposed prestige were being enlisted.

General Giraud was again deceived when he stipulated that landings on French territory should be by American forces exclusively, and again when Mr. Murphy neglected to correct Giraud's impression that he himself was to set the date for the American landings. Finally, and more seriously, he was deceived to the extent of being permitted to believe that he was to be supreme commander of the Allied forces in North Africa.

"In his memorandum to Murphy," says Mr. Bess, "the general had stipulated that he was to have the supreme command . . . Murphy had been unable to make any reply to this memorandum . . . Due to the factor of distance it has been impossible to clear up all the details concerning the arrangements for Giraud's collaboration . . . A further impasse was reached in the discussions when General Giraud produced a letter signed by Robert Murphy which the general had interpreted as assenting to his stipulations. Eisenhower fully understood Giraud's desires, but the American general's designation by the British and American authorities and the American Government as supreme commander clearly made compliance with those desires impossible . . . Eisenhower was naturally greatly relieved that the French general was willing to sink his personal feelings in the greater objective of destroying the German domination of France."

General Eisenhower's motives throughout seem to have been determined by the military logic of the situation in which he found himself, and in this light they are probably beyond criticism. The diplomatic motives which led to the selection of Giraud as an unconscious figurehead for American policy are something else. These motives are still obscure, perhaps even to Giraud himself and certainly to the American people.

At any rate, Giraud seems to have been mollified—how easily we don't know—by the title of commander in chief of the French forces. But even this had to be qualified after the arrangement with Darlan whereby that admiral became "civil and political chief" of French North Africa. However, even Darlan came to feel himself another victim of an American double cross. After the indignation aroused in the United States by our willingness to deal with a man who had been so closely identified with Vichy and Franco-American "collaboration," President Roosevelt felt it necessary to announce it was no more than "a temporary military expedient." "It appears," said Darlan bitterly, "that I am only a lemon which the Americans will throw away after sucking it."

In view of all this, it is hardly to be wondered at that the generality of Frenchmen in and out of France have come to consider General Giraud as essentially an instrument of Anglo-American politico-military policy. In all probability he is nothing of the sort. But, beyond very much doubt, that is precisely the role for which we have cast him. It is not so much through any sin of his own, as through the pseudo-machianism of our own policy-makers, that he now finds himself without influence and without support even among the French of North Africa. At this moment the scorned and slighted De Gaulle appears to hold all the cards. General Giraud is perhaps the chief victim of our French policy, and if his genuine and legitimate grievance against us can be assuaged by 17-gun salutes and a few official honors and receptions here in Washington, he is indeed a man of singular patience and magnanimity. We doubt it ourselves.

Sound And Fury

The Dies Committee has graduated from playing with reputations and is now playing with American lives. In its zest to find new sustenance for its moribund Committee on Un-American Activities, it made an overnight investigation of the difficult and delicate work being carried on by the War Relocation Authority. And, with its customary discretion, it has promptly emitted a series of half-digested, sensational charges aimed at preventing the release from incarceration even of Japanese-Americans.

These charges, as WRA Director Dillon S. Myer testified on Tuesday, have had the effect of fostering "a public feeling of mistrust, suspicion and hatred." They may have even more dangerous consequences. For they give the enemy ammunition for his propaganda warfare against us. And, as Mr. Myer also pointed out, they "may lead to further maltreatment of our citizens who are prisoners or who are interned in Japan."

The Dies Committee has injected itself into a kind of inquiry which, if it is to be conducted at all, should be conducted with the utmost care and quietness. It is dealing with matters which have military implications and which involve the safety of American fighting men. The task is entirely outside the scope of the Dies Committee's authorization. Moreover, the whole record of this committee disqualifies it for an undertaking of this sort.

The War Relocation Authority has performed a distasteful piece of work conscientiously and with as much regard for our traditional civil liberties as the exigencies of war would permit. Its role is without precedent in the history of the United States. It has been forced to detain in places euphemistically termed "relocation centers" thousands of native-born American citizens for no reason save that they happened to be of Japanese ancestry. To the best of its ability, and in full collaboration with Naval Intelligence, Military Intelligence and the FBI, it has sought to release for useful work those of its wards whose loyalty to the United States could be satisfactorily established. That it has managed to reduce the numbers confined in its camps is altogether to its credit.

If Congress wishes to investigate this agency, it should appoint a select committee of properly qualified men to conduct the inquiry—with as little publicity as possible. And the starting point of any such investigation should be a concern for the constitutional rights of all American citizens, regardless of their color or ancestry.

Raid On Crete

While not for a moment letting up their aerial assault on Sicily, Sardinia and southern Italy, the Allies have begun to give greater attention to the eastern Mediterranean as well. Recently Axis airfields in the vicinity of Athens were bombed. And on Sunday night a small force of British commandos landed on Crete, destroyed a number of German planes on the island, set fire to some oil dumps, and were off before the Axis garrison even discovered their presence.

The importance of this commando raid on Crete is that it shows the growing vulnerability of Axis holdings in the Mediterranean and the south of Europe and also the ability of the Allies to strike at several points in the Mediterranean at once. So the Axis is up against the necessity of a choice. Either it must spread its forces thin or, by concentrating them at probable invasion points, it must leave wide stretches of the southern shore of Europe wide open to Allied attacks. To make the problem even more difficult, the Axis now has to reckon increasingly on uprisings of the conquered populations simultaneously with the arrival of Allied invasion forces.

This possibility is emphasized in warnings by the British Broadcasting Co. to the Greek people to remain quiet until the signal for revolt is actually given. No wonder Italian jitterers are on the rise, and all leave for Italian armed forces both in Italy and the islands has been canceled. The zero hour draws near in the Mediterranean.

FOR A YOUNG SOLDIER

Raise the flag above his head
Wherever he may fall.
Let him sleep there, being dead,
The sweetest sleep of all.
Bird song at the break of day—
Will bring him dreams of home,
Of fields where he used to play
And hills he used to roam,
Highroad shimmering in the sun,
Lamp-light in the rain—
Joy in pleasures hardly won,
And long-forgotten pain.
His thoughts, his memories, his hopes
March with him into Time
Where over far embattled slopes
The bells of morning chime.
Raise the star-bright flag, unfurled,
Above him, Close his eyes.
Tell him, out of all the world
Home is where he lies.
There in quiet let him rest
Young, forever free:
Dulce et decorum est
Pro patria mori.

LAURA L. SMITH

Runaway Inflation

By Mark Sullivan

Mechanisms At Work

WHAT HAS gone on in Washington this week is an attempt to stop a race. The race is between rising wages and rising cost of food. Actually, it is not a race at all. For the rule of it is that when one speeder dashes ahead, the other dashes still farther ahead. And so on, with increasing tempo and each dash a little longer than the last. The end, if it continues, would be a runaway—runaway inflation.

The Administration wishes to stop the race, to "freeze" the speeders in their tracks. It assumes that if it can stop one, the other will stop too. It has concentrated this week on trying to stop rise in food. The Administration hopes—seems indeed to have a kind of understanding—that if it will stop rise in food, the labor leaders will stop rise in wages, by not demanding more. Whether the method chosen by the Administration to stop rise in food would work is a question hotly argued.

WE MAY learn something about the race by going back to its beginning. This was in 1933, with the then new Roosevelt Administration as starter. At that time, in the midst of depression, wages were low and prices of food—that is, farm crops—were low. The Administration thought both were too low and practically everybody agreed. The Administration set in motion mechanisms to raise both. The mechanisms worked for ten years, with increasing momentum. Then the Administration wished to stop the mechanisms—not merely stop them but put them in reverse gear. This turns out to be difficult. The mechanisms have become frankenstein.

Follow the two mechanisms separately—first, the one to raise wages. Within this, the most dynamic gadget was the "40-hour-week" law. This decreed that no employer should keep a worker on the job more than 40 hours a week. If the employer did, he must suffer a penalty, must pay time and a half for the extra hours. The primary purpose of the 40-hour law was not so much to raise wages as to ease unemployment—to spread the available jobs over a larger number of people. For that purpose, the law worked well. In a time of depression, the 40-hour law had some reason. But when depression ended, when defense industry got under way, about 1940; when the need was not for more jobs but for more workers—then the 40-hour law became a mechanism for raising wages.

THIS IS how it operated. A worker had been getting say 60 cents an hour for 40 hours a week. He was now kept at work say 48 hours a week. The addition of 8 hours to his work-week, standing alone, was a 20 per cent rise in his weekly pay. But it did not stop there. For the extra 8 hours he got 90 cents an hour. This was a further rise of 10 per cent in his weekly wages. By the mere operation of the 40-hour-week law, much of labor had 30 per cent rise in his weekly pay. But, more than any other one condition, was how the inflation horses got out of the stable.

When men in Congress saw this, they started to repeal the 40-hour law—the theory that a law well adapted to depression worked badly under the new condition. But this the Administration opposed. Other policies of the Administration, and other conditions, worked still further toward rise in wages—the bargaining power of the labor unions, the great demand for workers, the spirit of haste to build up defense, the high prices paid to war contractors, which made them indifferent about the wages they paid. The sum of all pushed wages up greatly and fast.

Turn now to the mechanism for raising the prices of food, of farm crops. The most dynamic force was a gadget called "parity price," enacted in 1933. Parity price means that prices paid the farmer for his crops must go up in direct proportion as prices of things in general go up. This tied the prices of crops directly to the wages of labor. When higher wages paid to labor caused higher prices of goods which the farmer must buy, up went prices of crops accordingly.

It is still another way, the rise in wages caused the rise in crop prices. Labor on farms, seeing the high wages to labor in industry, began to leave the farms to go into war factories. For such labor as he could keep, the farmer was obliged to pay higher wages—hence higher cost of producing crops, hence higher prices of food.

Grant that in any war, the natural forces attending war must cause some rise in wages and prices of food, some degree of inflation. But the special condition we have now is that, in addition to natural forces, there are mechanisms in operation—mechanisms written into law—which work, intentionally and automatically, toward raising wages and cost of living, toward inflation.

Russia And The War

By Paul Schubert

Future of the East Front

MORE THAN 200 divisions of the German army are locked in the warfare of the Russian front. Sometimes it is the slow warfare of heavyweight wrestlers who strain without movement. Sometimes it rouses to fury of punch and counter-punch. The "front" is 2000 miles long, at several places thickly held, elsewhere held by slender lines of communication. It is a front of spearheads aimed at Russia, north, center and south, solidly based on Germany and Europe. Until not long ago it was an offensive front—for the Germans confidently believed that they could penetrate the Russian vital.

For all the vaunted power of the Germans, they have never yet had their way in Russia—they have never reached their goal. What they have done, by threatening Russia so seriously, has been to force the Slavs to create a power equal to their own—an army able to stop the German army, and at last to challenge it and start rolling it back.

NOW THE Germans are in a predicament on the East Front. If the Germans weaken their armies in Russia—as they may be forced to do if hard fighting breaks out in western Europe—there is danger that the Slav flood will push the East Front back, and back . . . and that Germany, who found it quite logical to march eastward over the Russian frontier, will be faced by the illogic of a Slav invasion of Germany.

Dread of the Slavs—of danger from the east—lies deep in the German psyche, bred by hundreds and thousands of years of tribal past, as fundamental as the frontier clash of western Germany.

Who look at Europe from its Atlantic coast, and see Germany from the west as part of western Europe, tend to forget how conscious the Germans are of their eastern frontier. Prussia was hardened to militarism by a geography of the east—and today, as last year and the year before that, the average German sees this war as primarily a war between Germany and Russia, and so far has found Britain and America to be no more than second-rate irritants. Only the bombing of the Ruhr has begun to stir the fear that the warfare of the west may turn out to be a major menace—and the fear thus stirred is the fear that the East Front may collapse and let the Slavs in.

WE, TOO, tend to see Russia's part in the war in terms of the Russo-German front. It is this front which concerns us most intimately, because of the huge quantum of German strength locked up there. Should Russia collapse and free the German armies on this front, our problem would immediately become infinitely more difficult, if not altogether impossible. From our point of view, Russia is an ally against Germany. We have supported Russia to the utmost of our capacity, conscious of the Russian power able to stand up to Hitler's Teutonic hordes.

But from the Russian point of view, there is much more to the war than the Russo-German front.

For Russia extends all the way across Siberia to the Pacific Ocean. Russia is the neighbor of China, of India, of Japan.

Russia is intensely concerned with the outcome of the Pacific war. Japan, a militarist power filled no less than Germany with the lust for armed conquest, already faces Russia across a considerable frontier. Should the Japanese have their way in the Far East, this frontier will be vastly extended.

Armies are drawn up, now, on either side of Russia's Far Eastern frontier—it is almost more of a front than a frontier. Neither Russia nor Japan draws without these armies, no matter how great the need in other theaters.

Again and again we have heard the suggestion that the Japanese propose to invade Siberia—presumably at this stage in support of the Germans, in the hope that warfare in Siberia would ease the German task on the Russo-German front. And, of course, less altruistically, in the hope of adding Siberian territory to Japan's Far Eastern conquests. For Japan sees the Maritime Provinces of Siberia as one of the few remaining spots of Pacific geography offering serious threat to the security of the Japanese islands.

The Russians are involved in something much greater than a "European" war. The Germans may be able to think in terms of European horizons. To that extent the Germans are a provincial people, so blind and greedy that in their hunger for soil they provoked this war without realizing that it must become a world war, total war going around the world.

Russia, like ourselves, sees the future as a world future—must see it in this light because of inescapable geographical facts. As we think the Russo-German front, we must realize that this is only a part of the Russian problem.

Listen to Paul Schubert
Tonight at 10:30 on WOL

Letters To The Editor

Communications must carry the writer's name and address, though pen names are permitted at the editor's discretion. Letters should be held to not more than 200 words. They are subject to condensation.

Action Of Congress

The action of the House and Senate conferees in refusing to approve an appropriation for the salaries of certain Government officials represents the quintessence of stupidity.

First, their action flies in the teeth of the decision of the Supreme Court in the Schneiderman case decided on June 21, which held that membership in an organization, which theoretically at least is supposed to be subversive, is not a bar to citizenship.

Secondly, the action represents punishment for what a man thinks, although no overt act is involved. Thirdly, their action is unconstitutional because it impinges on the power of the executive branch of the Government—in which alone resides the power of appointment and removal of subordinates.

Fourth, their action represents a strike by the Congress against the Government upon exactly the same principles as the strike of the miners against the decision of the War Labor Board. Yet the Congress passed the antistrike law.

Fifth, the action is also unconstitutional because in principle it violates the First Amendment, respecting freedom of speech, which by implication includes the lesser crime of freedom of thought.

The deficiencies of Congress during the war are manifest and appalling, but most of those deficiencies have been due to lack of cerebral development. The present action is based purely on blind prejudice as distinguished from normal perspicacity.

RICHARD STURTEVANT.
Bethesda, Md., July 1.

I am amazed and shocked at the action of the House voting against subsidies and otherwise "hogtying" the Administration in its effort to hold down the cost of living.

It's about time the Administration became concerned about the cost of food, which has risen over 50 per cent since war broke out in Europe. Food is so large an item that this increase has forced the cost of living up about 26 per cent, although rent, clothing and other living costs are now about stabilized in price. If food continues upward, large increases in wages and, inevitably, in other prices must follow. The cost of living is the workman's "cost of production" and must be covered.

To call subsidies to hold down the cost of living "inflationary" is stupid. They are paid to get production that we would not otherwise have except by a succession of higher prices that never stop in their inflationary effect.

ARMY OFFICER'S WIFE.
Washington, July 1.

War Veteran Group

President Roosevelt has fairly forced us six million veterans to organize, as we are starting to do, right now, a Nation-wide Veterans Association pledged to protect our people's proper and daily supply of food against President Roosevelt's food control programs . . . inasmuch as this Congress is too cowardly to do that.

What's this we hear about this Congress' daring to desert its wartime post of duty in Washington, and go off on a long vacation—for two long months—at a time when we are in the midst of a doubly dangerous war? Don't Congressmen know that a war is going on with us battling daily against two powerful enemies? And, besides this, our people now having to make a daily battle nowadays to get any meat and other vital foods, of which they are deprived by this Administration?

Our 15 million war-veteran group composed of us six million war veterans and our families—nine million wives and adult sons and daughters—demand that Congress stick to its wartime post of duty in Washington until it has at least protected our people's proper and usual supply of food against this "food-deprivation Administration," by setting up a wholly independent "food controller" with supreme control of all food in our country—his appointment to be confirmed by the Senate.

The deepest and most heartfelt sympathy of us six million war veterans now goes out to our people, our lovely American people, for whom we fought on bloody battlefields, yet now betrayed in this Congress by their vote on this bill.

For our people are now being forced by this worst of all our wartime Administrations to fight three wars at once—one against Germany, one against Japan and the deadliest of all today—one here at home against this "food-deprivation Administration." To get meat and vital foods to live on even half-way properly. This is why we war veterans are now "summoning to the colors" of our people all 15 million veterans in our veterans' group, in a new and Nation-wide organization, pledged to protect our people's daily food supply—to wage a final fight against Franklin Roosevelt's feckulent food programs of which he prates, as if no one else—neither our people nor Congress—had anything to say in the real life-and-death matter.

Every member of Congress voting to go on a two-month vacation now is a deserter from his wartime post of duty, say we six million war veterans.

WELLESLEY JACKSON.
Los Angeles, Calif., July 1.

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

Entitled "Fishing": A Story Of A Food Crisis

Elmer Twitchell took his rod and reel and started for the door.

"This makes me very proud of you, Elmer," said Mrs. Twitchell. "It's nothing; nothing at all," stammered Elmer, a little embarrassed.

"Don't belittle yourself," said Mrs. Twitchell. "At a time like this a fisherman is a noble work of nature. You are doing your part to restore the spirit of the rugged individualist in a time of crisis."

"I am not," insisted Elmer, blushing. "I'm just going fishing, that's all."

"Excelsior!" cried Mrs. Twitchell.

Scene II—The Wharf

Mr. Twitchell had rented a row boat and was climbing into it.

Quite a crowd had assembled to wish him success. A number asked if they might buy in on the enterprise, but Elmer explained that the subscription lists had closed within a half hour of the time it had become known that he planned to go fishing.

To frenzied cheers, he grabbed the oars and rowed away rapidly, feeling that perhaps too much was being made of him.

Scene III—The Inlet

It was pretty late in the day now. Elmer had had a lot of trouble. The Coast Guard boat had demanded his identification card, fingerprints, photo, permit, record of citizenship, etc. Elmer went through his belongings a dozen times before he found the credentials. It left him pretty much unnerved.

He finally got a line over. There were fish all around, but they wouldn't bite. Finally he whipped out his ration book and tacked it on the side of the boat where the fish could see it.

That did it.

He got quite a mess after this.

Scene IV—The Wharf Again

Mr. Twitchell beamed at his catch. He felt a little like a pioneer. Suddenly, as he was leaning over stuffing the fish into a sack, he heard the sound of another rowboat. Presently it was beside him. Elmer felt a blow over the head.

When he recovered his catch had gone.

He knew the answer.

Hijackers!

Elmer looked around the boat. Yes, there was one fish left. They had overlooked it. He stuck it under his coat, climbed onto the wharf and started running toward home.

Only a mile more to go . . . now a half mile . . . now a quarter.

Twenty yards. Then, from behind a post a figure, a gleaming pistol and a stern "This is a stickup! Reach for the sky!"

Elmer did so.

The bandit took the fish and disappeared.

Scene V—Home

Elmer tottered into the house, spent and very weary. He explained what had happened.

"I was afraid of that," admitted Mrs. Twitchell. "The news that you were going fishing spread around. You carried your equipment openly. You were even dressed for fishing. You've got to be more careful in a food crisis."

Elmer understood. He nodded weakly.

"Never was there such a case of the biter bitten," Winston Churchill referring to the Nazis.

And those lease-and-store teeth are so sharp and long, aren't they, Adolf?

Berlin anti-Nazis are displaying posters "Enjoy the war; the peace is going to be dreadful."

Wallace And Jones

Will not somebody explain to Messrs. Wallace and Jones, Lewis and the Labor Board, and the Congress, that cooperation and teamwork, not anathema and vituperation, is what is needed (most urgently needed) in this critical hour?

WILBUR H. CLOSE.
Washington, July 8.

According to Drew Pearson, Vice President Wallace admitted his recent blast at Jesse Jones to the President before it was released. If true, it appears that this blast is intended to serve as an excuse to ease Mr. Jones out of his control over funds spent by Mr. Wallace's Board of Economic (but hysterical) Warfare, and possibly out of the RFC.

It is easy to understand how the long-haired boys in the BEW have objected to the restraints placed by Mr. Jones on some of their pet ways of spending the taxpayer's money. Without these restraints the sky would be the limit to their spending. But anyone who makes any pretense of saving the taxpayer's money seems to be an anathema to this Administration.

Washington, July 8.

Food Subsidies

By Ernest K. Lindley

Informing The Public

THE DEBATE, if it may be called that, over food subsidies, apparently has not stirred lively public interest. Senators and Representatives report that they received very little mail on the subject. Some members from the farm belt seemed puzzled by the silence of Washington officials and observers have become bewildered. And it has been evident from the discussion that many members of both Houses of Congress have been equally bewildered—although this has not prevented most of them from voting as if they understood what they were doing.

Senator Taft understood what was involved. In the debate Tuesday, as on some earlier occasions, he came to appear almost as a spokesman for the Administration, despite the fact that he is opposed to rollback subsidies. That was because Senator Taft had a workable alternative, carefully circumscribed, to the Administration's rollback program. Senator La Follette and a few others joined him in urging their colleagues to refrain from hasty and destructive action.

SENATORS TYDINGS and George understood what they were doing. They cloaked their inflationary position in anti-inflationary assertions. But many members of both houses were in a daze and some of them privately admitted it. They could not foresee the economic effects of their votes or, what is more important in the average Congressman's mind, the political effects.

Not much enlightenment came from the Administration. The President's veto message was strong and straightforward. But it was not preceded or followed up by the publicity needed to drive home the President's case. The President has placed a large part of the responsibility for the management of the home economic front in four former members of the National Legislature: James F. Byrnes, Fred Vinson, Prentiss Brown and Marvin Jones. Every one of them was drafted. Three of them were taken from the bench. All four are respected by their former colleagues on the Hill, and have in the past shown their skill in legislative management.

BUT THE combined talents of this quartet, with other able assistance, barely saved the Administration from outright defeat last week, and as this is written, has not yet saved the inflation control line from mortal injury at the hands of Congress. A portion of the time given to individual legislators might have yielded better results if it had been devoted to clear exposition of Administration policy to the public.

The Administration suffers from the fact that it was slow in coming to grips with the problem of controlling living costs and, even yet, has not presented a completely rounded strong program. OWI, before it was thrown on the defensive, tried to do a little educational work in this field. But it was handicapped and embarrassed by the fact that it had to dress up as anti-inflationary Administration policies which, in fact, had not been anti-inflationary.

But nothing is to be gained now by rehearsing the Administration's errors and omissions of 1940, 1941 and early 1942. The only inflation-control program the Nation has comes from the Congress generally for two years has been inflationary. This is natural in a body which responds so readily to the organized pressure groups which, in the economic field, are chiefly producer-minded.

Almost certainly, this Congress has overreached itself. It has worked itself into a political salient which the President should be able to pinch off, if he could only mobilize his forces. His forces, in this instance, are most of the citizens of the Nation. Not many of them will not suffer eventually if the inflation-control program is broken.

Voters for Smith-Connally Act Absolved by AFL, CIO Alleges

The C. I. O. executive board charged yesterday that the American Federation of Labor metal trades department had promised a "political blessing to those reactionary Congressmen who voted to override President Roosevelt's veto of the Connally-Smith (antistrike) Act" if they voted for the rider to the Labor-Federal Security appropriation measure forbidding the National Labor Relations Board from challenging their closed shop contracts in the Kaiser shipyards.

The C. I. O. condemned the rider "as an open and flagrant drive toward weakening and destroying the National Labor Relations Act for the benefit of the enemies of organized labor."

The rider which went to the President yesterday in the Labor-Federal Security measure legalizes all existing collective bargaining contracts and prevents action against future contracts three months after they are signed. It was pushed through both houses of Congress after intensive lobbying by the metal trades department.

Previously, the American Federation of Labor had announced a "list of labor's enemies," containing the names of all Congressmen voting for the Connally-Smith measure. The federation promised to work for the defeat of all the legislators named.

Officials of the metal trades department earlier made no secret of their readiness to forgive Congressmen who voted with them on the rider.

The C. I. O. said that it would work for repeal of the rider, but meanwhile seek to have it interpreted to safeguard the Wagner Act.

The C. I. O. executive board also adopted a resolution urging local union affiliates to acquaint Congressmen with their viewpoint on the coming recess.

The new Wagner Social Security bill was also endorsed.

The C. I. O. said that it would work for repeal of the rider, but meanwhile seek to have it interpreted to safeguard the Wagner Act.

The C. I. O. executive board also adopted a resolution urging local union affiliates to acquaint Congressmen with their viewpoint on the coming recess.

The new Wagner Social Security bill was also endorsed.

The C. I. O. said that it would work for repeal of the rider, but meanwhile seek to have it interpreted to safeguard the Wagner Act.

The C. I. O. executive board also adopted a resolution urging local union affiliates to acquaint Congressmen with their viewpoint on the coming recess.

The new Wagner Social Security bill was also endorsed.

The C. I. O. said that it would work for repeal of the rider, but meanwhile seek to have it interpreted to safeguard the Wagner Act.

The C. I. O. executive board also adopted a resolution urging local union affiliates to acquaint Congressmen with their viewpoint on the coming recess.

The new Wagner Social Security bill was also endorsed.

The C. I. O. said that it would work for repeal of the rider, but meanwhile seek to have it interpreted to safeguard the Wagner Act.

Goat Brings R. A. F. Luck

By John Steinbeck

Horns Denote Rank

London.—His name is Wing Comdr. William Goat, D. S. O., and he is old and honored, and some say, in iniquity. But when he joined the R. A. F. wing two years ago he was just like a totter on long and knobby legs. For a long time he was treated like any other recruit—kicked about, ignored and at times cursed.

But gradually his abilities began to be apparent. He is very good luck to have about. When he is near his wing has good fortune and good hunting. Gradually his horns, along with his talents, developed, until now his rank and his decorations are painted on his horns in brilliant colors and he carries himself with a shambling strut.

He will eat nearly everything. No party nor any review is complete without him. At one party, being left alone for a few moments, it is reported that he ate 200 sandwiches, 3 cakes, the arrangements for piano and flute of "Pomp and Circumstance," drank half a bowl of punch and then walked jauntily among the guests, belching slightly and regarding certain Lieutenant's wife, who shall be nameless, with a lustful eye.

He has the slightly bilious look of the military of the higher bracket. Being an air goat, he has rather unique habits. If you bring an oxygen bottle into view, he rushes to it and demands it. He puts his whole mouth over the outlet and then as you turn the valve on he gently relaxes, grunting happily, and his sides fill out until he nearly bursts.

Just before he bursts he lets go of the nozzle and collapses very slowly, but the way he takes from the oxygen makes him leap into the air and engage imaginary goats in horn combat. He also loves the glycol cooling fluid which is used in the engines of the Typhoons. For hours he will stand under the barrels licking the drips from the spouts.

He has the confidence of his men. Once when it was required that his wing change its base of operations quickly, he was left behind, for in those days it was not known how important he was. At the new base the men were nervous and fidgety, fearful and almost mutinous. Finally, when it was seen that they would not relax, a special plane had to be sent to pick up the wing commander and transport him to the new base. Once he arrived, everything settled down. The Typhoons had four kills within 24 hours. The nervous tension went out of the air, the food got better and a number of stomach complaints disappeared immediately.

Wing Commander Goat lives in a small house behind the operations room. His name and horns are painted over the door. It is very good luck to go by him and stroke his sides and rub his horns before going out on operations. He does not go out on operations himself. There is no room in the Typhoons for him, but it was possible to squeeze him in he would be taken, and then heaven knows what great action might not take place.

This goat has only one truly bad habit. He loves beer, and furthermore is able to absorb it in such quantities that even the mild, nearly nonalcoholic English beer can make him tipsy. In spite of orders to the contrary, he is able to seek out the evil companions who will give him beer. Once inebriated, he is prone to wander about sneering. He sneers at the American Army Air Force, he sneers at the Labor Party and he sneers at Mr. Churchill. The sneer is probably inherent in the beer, since punch has quite a different effect on him.

In appearance this goat is not impressive. He has a shabby, pinkish fur and a cold, fish-like eye, his legs are not straight, in fact he is slightly knock-kneed. He carries his head high and his horns, painted in brilliant red and blue, more than offset any physical oddness. In every way, he is a military figure. He is magnificent on parade. Evil usually he is given a crypt in the Air Ministry and will die in good time of that military ailment, cirrhosis of the liver. He will be buried with full military honors.

But meantime Wing Comdr. William Goat, D. S. O., is the luck of the wing, would his loss cause great unrest and even dependency.

Copyright by New York Tribune, Inc.

Roberts, Ackerman In Tilt Over OWI Advisory Service

New York, July 8 (AP)—Dean Carl W. Ackerman of Columbia University graduate school of journalism today urged Roy A. Roberts, president of the American Society of Newspaper Editors, to withdraw as a member of OWI's advisory committee because "as president of the A. S. N. E. your judgment and opinion should be above the influence of official pressure."

Roberts immediately replied that "acting in an advisory, not an administrative, capacity, should not circumscribe or limit independence of action," but that "if the time comes when giving all possible service to the war effort is incompatible with the presidency of the A. S. N. E., then the God-given right of every American to resign, tell why and raise hell remains."

Off The Record

By Ed Reed

"At least we've got something to read!"

The Gallup Poll

'Make-Work' Practice of Labor Unions Overwhelmingly Disapproved by Public

By George Gallup

Director, American Institute of Public Opinion

Princeton, N. J., July 8.—The new ukase of James C. Pettillo, head of the musician's union, to stop permanently the making of electrical transcriptions for radio broadcasting, raises what is probably the fundamental labor issue of our time—namely, the right asserted by unions to "make-work" for their members. Organized labor has been concerned for years over alleged monopolistic practices by business, but today the general public is growing increasingly concerned over what it considers monopolistic tendencies on the part of labor. Whatever merits the union argument for make-work policies may have, that argument has not been presented in a way to convince the public.

As a result the great majority of Americans are in accord with the principle that employers, in accordance with union rules, should hire more men than are actually needed to perform a given job. A nationwide survey of sentiment discloses that the vote against union make-work policies is approximately 7 to 3.

National opinion was sounded by a coast-to-coast staff of field interviewers for the Institute on the following issue:

"Some labor unions make jobs for their members by requiring employers to hire more men than are actually needed to do a particular job. The unions say this is necessary in order to give work to all their members. Do you think a law should be passed prohibiting this practice?"

The public's present attitude is no doubt conditioned by the fact that there is a general shortage of manpower because of wartime demands. During a period when jobs are scarce and manpower plentiful, the public might take a different attitude toward the question, and find more justification for union attempts to create jobs for their membership.

Opposed Make-Work Practice . . . . . 57% Favor . . . . . 31% Undecided . . . . . 12%

The public's present attitude is no doubt conditioned by the fact that there is a general shortage of manpower because of wartime demands. During a period when jobs are scarce and manpower plentiful, the public might take a different attitude toward the question, and find more justification for union attempts to create jobs for their membership.

The public's present attitude is no doubt conditioned by the fact that there is a general shortage of manpower because of wartime demands. During a period when jobs are scarce and manpower plentiful, the public might take a different attitude toward the question, and find more justification for union attempts to create jobs for their membership.

The public's present attitude is no doubt conditioned by the fact that there is a general shortage of manpower because of wartime demands. During a period when jobs are scarce and manpower plentiful, the public might take a different attitude toward the question, and find more justification for union attempts to create jobs for their membership.

The public's present attitude is no doubt conditioned by the fact that there is a general shortage of manpower because of wartime demands. During a period when jobs are scarce and manpower plentiful, the public might take a different attitude toward the question, and find more justification for union attempts to create jobs for their membership.

The public's present attitude is no doubt conditioned by the fact that there is a general shortage of manpower because of wartime demands. During a period when jobs are scarce and manpower plentiful, the public might take a different attitude toward the question, and find more justification for union attempts to create jobs for their membership.

The public's present attitude is no doubt conditioned by the fact that there is a general shortage of manpower because of wartime demands. During a period when jobs are scarce and manpower plentiful, the public might take a different attitude toward the question, and find more justification for union attempts to create jobs for their membership.

The public's present attitude is no doubt conditioned by the fact that there is a general shortage of manpower because of wartime demands. During a period when jobs are scarce and manpower plentiful, the public might take a different attitude toward the question, and find more justification for union attempts to create jobs for their membership.

The public's present attitude is no doubt conditioned by the fact that there is a general shortage of manpower because of wartime demands. During a period when jobs are scarce and manpower plentiful, the public might take a different attitude toward the question, and find more justification for union attempts to create jobs for their membership.

The public's present attitude is no doubt conditioned by the fact that there is a general shortage of manpower because of wartime demands. During a period when jobs are scarce and manpower plentiful, the public might take a different attitude toward the question, and find more justification for union attempts to create jobs for their membership.

AP Demands Open Trial

By the Associated Press

Trust Case Argued

New York, July 8.—The Associated Press argued today for an open trial of the Government's anti-trust suit against it, declaring that to open its membership "to any newspaper wishing its service would destroy the foundation upon which the cooperative enterprise has been created."

Attorneys for the Department of Justice presented arguments to a three-judge Federal district court that there were no uncontroverted facts and on that basis the issues should be decided in a summary judgment—verdict without trial—on documents alone. The court reserved decision after listening to the day-long arguments.

The Associated Press countered that there were at least seven major facts it had challenged, and the case was one for trial at which testimony could be presented.

Charge of Monopoly The Government charged that the Associated Press' membership structure denied access to its news report to all newspapers, and claimed this was monopolistic.

"The Government has submitted no evidence that AP has monopolized the gathering and dissemination of news," said the Associated Press brief filed in answer to the request for a summary judgment.

The brief continued: "Others can freely undertake the gathering of news and the publication of newspapers without the benefit of AP's organization or facilities, and many have done so." "AP was organized as a membership corporation, but neither in fact nor in law would AP continue to act within its charter powers if it were obligated to admit as a 'member' every newspaper owner who so desired."

Not Quasi-Public Utility "Try as it will, the Government cannot torture an analogy from any of the decided cases (a number were cited in the Government's brief) in its efforts to convert A. P. into a quasi-public utility. . . . It (the A. P.) has not discouraged competition in the past and does not threaten to discourage competition in the future. . . ."

"It would indeed be a strange result if newspapers were free to conduct their business as a strictly private enterprise in every respect but the gathering of news, without which there would be no papers. The summary judgment were sub-publish."

Two other documents opposing mitted by the Chicago Tribune, published by Robert R. McCormick, and by Richard J. Finnegan, editor of the Chicago Times.

Said the Chicago Tribune: "Despite all the fanfare of monopoly in this case, the Government now confesses that the only monopolization practiced by the defendants was the monopolization for themselves of beats and scoops obtained by defendant Associated Press in competition with the other news agencies; such monopolization, it is claimed, is unlawful. . . ."

Other News Agencies "Finally, does this fantastic theory of monopolization apply only to Associated Press or does it also apply to the other news agencies? They too obtain beats. If other news agencies are not immune from the plaintiff's monopolization theory, the absurd result is reached that they are free to obtain and keep the fruits of their competitive endeavor (beats and scoops) while Associated Press is debarred from doing the same. If they are included in plaintiff's theory, then all news agencies are debarred from striving for excellence lest they perchance beat their competitors to a story. . . ."

Charles B. Rugg, a special assistant to the Attorney General, in opening the arguments for the Government, said that in the Associated Press case the Government "is not seeking to control or regulate the operation of the press of the country" nor abridge freedom of the press.

John Henry Lewin, another special assistant, who concluded the arguments for the Government, told the court Associated Press' operations represent "a primary boycott of the type which has been uniformly banned under the provisions" of the antitrust law.

D. C. Officers Honored

Hansell, Coffey Decorated

Brig. Gen. Haywood S. Hansell, Jr., of Washington, whose Flying Fortress drop their loads on Hitler's Europe in ever-increasing numbers, has been awarded the Legion of Merit for "contributing to the formulation of strategic plans for over-all employment of the Army Air Forces," the War Department announced yesterday.

Col. John W. Coffey, another Washington resident, also was among the seven recipients of the award whose names were made public.

General Hansell, in charge of the Flying Fortress section of the U. S. A. F. in England, received the Legion of Merit for making the plans which he himself is now executing.

His citation reads: "Exceptionally meritorious conduct in the performance of outstanding services in the Office of the Chief of the Air Corps and headquarters Army Air Forces from June 29, 1939, to March 9, 1942."

"As chief of the Operations Planning Branch, Foreign Intelligence Section, and as assistant chief of the plans group, headquarters Army Air Forces, war plan division, General Hansell demonstrated extraordinary diligence, vision, and conscientious effort in developing operational intelligence and in contributing to formulation of strategic plans for over-all employment of the Army Air Forces."

"His versatility and professional background combined with outstanding qualities of leadership, initiative, and devotion to duty have been of immeasurable value in the development of plans and policies for utilization of air power."

General Hansell entered the Air Corps in 1929 and about 10 years ago was in an aerial acrobatic team with Capt. Claire Chennault, now brigadier general in charge of our air forces in China, and Capt. Luke Williamson. The team developed many of the fighter plane tactics in use today.

Born at Port Monroe, Va., son of an Army doctor, September 28, 1903, General Hansell went through numerous military training schools and was a major at the outbreak of war. His residence is at 2246 Fortyninth Street Northwest, although his wife and three children moved about three months ago to Indian Rocks, Fla.

Last January, General Hansell received the Silver Star for "gallantry in action."

The citation for Colonel Coffey, whose wife lives at 2220 Twentieth Street Northwest, reads as follows:

"As a member of the Special Army Observers Group, London, England, and later as chief ordnance officer of the European theater of operations, from May, 1941, to June, 1942, Colonel Coffey displayed high professional attainments, rare judgment and devotion to duty, and rendered service of outstanding value to the Government in the planning for and reception of United States Army forces in the United Kingdom and the subsequent establishment of the European theater of operations."

Colonel Coffey was born in New York January 12, 1897, and was graduated from the United States Military Academy in 1917. In 1940, he was graduated from the Army War College.

Brig. Gen. Donald A. Davidson of Langley Field, Va., former engineer of the European theater of operations, also received the Legion of Merit.

Renamed to Rail Board

President Roosevelt sent to the Senate yesterday the renomination of M. Roland Reed of Pennsylvania as a member of the Railroad Retirement Board.

REED was a member of the Railroad Retirement Board.

COMPLETE STOCKS OF Hand Tailored SUNTAN TROPICAL WORSTED NAVAL UNIFORMS

Made by the Best Makers in America

$50

ALL SIZES IN STOCK

Lewis & Thos. Saltz

1409 G STREET, N. W.

EXECUTIVE 3822

Not Connected with Saltz Bros., Inc.

LEWIS & THOS. SALTZ

WILL BE CLOSED

SATURDAY, JULY 10

and every Saturday thereafter . . . during

JULY AND AUGUST

SUMMER STORE HOURS

9 A. M. to 6 P. M.

Thursdays, 12 Noon to 9 P. M.

Closed All Day Saturdays

LEWIS & THOS. SALTZ

1409 G STREET N. W.

EXECUTIVE 3822

NOT CONNECTED WITH SALTZ BROS., INC.

The Postman's Bag

a bell-ringer for value!

$5

Dramatic, metal-saving, big wool felt pouch. Swing it over your shoulder or use it as a double handle bag. . . . It will "carry its share" for the duration!

Purple Green Tan Black

Handbags, Street Floor

THE NEWER Jelleffs

1214-20 F Street

Store Closed

Saturdays thru August 21st

BRIEF CASES

A Brief Case is actually a part of a man's clothing ensemble. Well groomed men don't carry shabby cases any more than well dressed women carry dirty gloves or handbags. If you're looking for Brief Cases of quality see our most complete array today. For years we've prided ourselves on carrying almost every style case known to the industry.

Priced from $5.00 to $35.00

1141 Conn. Avenue

Camalier & Buckley

Two Bathrooms

Mayflower

Closed Saturdays . . . July and August

This Morning

With Shirley Povich

Cleveland, July 8.—When Bucky Harris moved to the National League, Jimmy Dykes lost his only rival for the vague honor of being the American League's most interviewed manager. Dykes now reigns unchallenged as the most easily quoted manager in the league.

The paradox is that neither Dykes nor Harris were pre-eminent among managers in the league. Both men usually had clubs buried deep in the second division. Neither had any great success story to relate in recent years, but they broke into print more often than managers who were winning pennants.

Why? Well, both Harris and Dykes are convivial souls. They are soft touches for a baseball writer hard pressed for an off-day story. They always sensed the idea that a correspondent came to them seeking news, or at least background, and not to make small talk. They unburdened themselves with straight-from-the-shoulder opinions.

And to the baseball writers learned that in a town where they could find either Harris or Dykes they could come away with a story. They sought out that pair regularly in the knowledge that they wouldn't be felled by any don't-quote-me or off-the-record statements. "Go ahead and quote me" was one of the favorite cracks of both men.

Do you want to give you a run-down on the American League's current crop of managers from the viewpoint of a reporter on the beat? Okay, then.

JOE MCCARTHY—easy to talk to, but tough to draw out. Won't discuss personalities, and shies away from talking about the other man's ball club. Is suspicious of any attempt to get him out on a limb and laughs you down without answer. He's apt to be brusque today, voluble tomorrow. Is at his best after dinner when he likes to talk about the science of baseball and the old-time players. Has a prodigious memory for plays and dates. You come away with a liberal baseball education and no news whatsoever.

CONNIE MACK—The most respected of all managers. Never side-steps one question: Who'll win the pennant? Always has an answer for that one and makes it sound logical. Beyond that, his interviews aren't thrilling. He's always the sweet old gentleman with a kind word for everybody, but kind words don't make news.

JOE CRONIN—Likes to talk to visiting newspapermen or vice versa. It never used to be that way but Cronin has learned the hang of it. He's a favorite now with the correspondents. Talks louder than any other manager. Never takes an unkind crack at anybody. Likes to call over his ball players and let you interview them. Joe is apt to ask a correspondent more questions than the interviewer asks. Always wants to know what is going on around the rest of the league.

OSSIE BLUEGE—Not one of the spectacular managers in the league. Don't kid around, but will give a correspondent a positive answer. Sometimes it's so positive it can be both newsworthy and exciting. May learn that perhaps a manager shouldn't voice all his definite opinions. Hard to catch up with because he's rarely idle. Never volunteers any news but never side-steps a reporter either.

STEVE O'NEILL—A nice guy to start off with. No baseball writer would mind seeing him win a pennant with the Tigers. Easily accessible either in his little dressing-room office or on the bench. Strangely easy-going for a big, tough-looking fellow. Will talk all the baseball you like, but keeps it down the middle without making anybody mad. He doesn't like to be put in a spot.

JIMMY DYKES—the baseball writer's dream manager, as we were saying. Greets you with "Well, what do ya wanna know. I'm here to tell you." Will talk about players, teams, umpires or other managers forthrightly and fearlessly. You always know where to find him. In the clubhouse until the game starts. He never goes to the field until then. Doesn't care how much you quote him, if the quotes are really his.

LOU BOUDREAU—Diffident, close-mouthed and completely serious. The visiting baseball writer who approaches him gets the feeling he is suspected. You always draw a blank and are never surprised. But there's a tendency to forgive Boudreau for his deliberate snugginess. The manager at Cleveland is always on a spot. Oscar Vitt's poppet tactics got him fired. Boudreau is taking no chances.

LUKE SEWELL—It all depends on Sewell's mood. On certain days he is exceedingly voluble, and lets the quips fall where they may. On other occasions he'll cut you short. He reads the papers, meaning he knows where he stands with which writers. One of the best interviewers when he's given to talking. In those days you come away from Sewell with a sometimes-exciting story.

Redskin Headquarters May Be Maryland U.

By Merrell W. Whitteley

Post Staff Writer

University of Maryland students, who bugged with the Nats in the spring, will have the Redskins as their campus cronies in the fall, from August 26 through mid-December, unless the Army trainees take up the quarters the Redskins hope to utilize.

The set-up is not definite as yet as many problems confront the Redskin management such as: quarters for the players' families; the food problem, including the usual steaks; a place to practice at night if all the players take daytime defense jobs, transportation, etc.

The Redskins will report to College Park upon their return from the All-Star game in Chicago and remain until October 1, probably in a fraternity house. Whether the 25-man squad will make permanent quarters there depends upon the number of Army trainees. Bergman is anxious to keep the squad together instead of last year's set-up when due to the housing shortage they were scattered all over Washington and surrounding counties.

The Redskins yesterday took steps to regain the services of their star rookie end of two years ago, Joe Aguirre, who was in the midst of an 11-month cruise on a Merchant Marine liner last football season.

Aguirre is in San Francisco with his wife and daughter, working as a dock hand and wants to play football. The Redskins wired him terms yesterday and if he accepts the number of ends will be upped to 30. Aguirre is expected to play this year.

Aguirre, with defective sight in one eye, is believed to be exempt from the Army. A former St. Mary's place-kicking star, Aguirre personally beat the Brooklyn Dodgers, 3-0, in his first year with the Redskins with an angle field goal in the mud. Aguirre played under Dutch Bergman in his freshman year at Catholic U. before he transferred to the Gaels.

Assistant Coach Turk Edwards is on his way to San Diego as advance man for the Redskins. Edwards has several stops scheduled en route to talk with prospective talent. In Minneapolis Edwards will attempt to sign Warren Plunkett, one of the two players the Redskins drew out of the grab bag

Unhappy Nats Walloped by Indians, 5-2

Pyle Is Routed by Barage of Doubles; Reynolds in Form Gives Seven Hits

By Shirley Povich

Post Staff Writer

Cleveland, July 8.—Those unhappy wayfarers, the Nats, are still getting a fine shoving-around in the West in what is rapidly taking on all the familiar features of a bum's rush out of the first division.

Their woes piled up today. Ewald Pyle lasted only 2 2-3 innings against the Indians in a swing-shift contest that commenced at 11:30 a. m. and the upshot was the Nats' eighth defeat in 11 games in the West. The score was 5 to 2.

Manager Ossie Bluege now looks about him and doesn't see much ball team. Except for Milo Candini and Early Wynn, his pitching has collapsed, and that makes the pitching staff on a par with some of the other guys on the team.

Sorry at Bat

Two members of Bluege's infield can't make, buy, or lend a base hit these days. They are Second Basemen Gerry Priddy and Shortstop Johnny Sullivan, who are leaving ball games on the bases daily. Mickey Vernon made four hits today, but he was long overdue.

Bluege excused Priddy from action today when the second baseman complained of illness, but it was with no great sense of loss. As of this moment, Priddy did not have a hit in his last 22 times at bat. In desperation, Bluege turned the second base job over to George Myatt, which is the tip-off on his reserve strength. Myatt isn't hitting .100.

The Nats don't faintly resemble the club that came West in second place only a game and a half behind the Yankees. Dutch Leonard has won only one of his last six starts, Priddy's defensive play at second has turned shabby, and Alex Carrasquel looks nothing like a winning pitcher.

Bluege seeks reserves

Bluege has made an appeal to Clark Griffith for at least some reserve strength. He wants to bring Joe Roberts, Washington's underdog shortstop up from Chattanooga, and he has asked Griffith to buy Outfielder Criscola, recently farmed out to Toledo by the Browns. He sees no help in sight for his pitching.

Today the Nats made only seven hits off Rookie Allie Reynolds, of the Indians. Reynolds, a right-hander, held the Yankees to three hits in his previous start.

The Indians had an excellent lead on their right field fence while Pyle was in there. They batted him for six hits trifling not with such mere blows as singles. Five of the hits Pyle allowed were two-baggers and one a triple. Haefner, too, suffered from double trouble. They got their sixth two-bagger off him. It wasn't until the eighth inning that the Indians hit a single.

They packed two of their two-baggers into the second inning to wipe out the Nats' 1-0 lead and go to the front, 2-1. Rocco walked, Rocco batted the first of his three straight doubles against the right field wall, and a bit later Boudreau hit the same wall for his second double to score both runs.

Right Wall Again

Keltner opened the third with another double off the wall in right and a bit later Rocco got the same kind of a blow. Ray Mack varied the strategy, though. He tripled to center, and the Indians were ahead 4-1. Haefner got the pitching job after that and held the Indians to one run, but it was in a lost cause.

The Nats took their 1-0 lead without making a hit. Reynolds walked Case and Myatt. Spencer sacrificed them along, and Case showed his speed to score after Johnson's short fly to Culliebene. The Nats didn't get their other run until the sixth when Johnson doubled to center and scored on Early's single to left.

In the ninth, needing three runs, the Nats commenced bravely with Early drawing a walk and Vernon moving him to a two-bagger off the wall. None was out, but the Nats couldn't score. Sullivan grounded out, Pinchitter Robertson struck out on three pitches and Case popped out.

The Box Score

| WASHINGTON    | AB | R | H | E  | LOB | PA | W | L | Pct.  | G  | B. |
|---------------|----|---|---|----|-----|----|---|---|-------|----|----|
| Case, 1b      | 4  | 1 | 1 | 3  | 0   | 4  | 1 | 0 | 1.000 | 1  | 0  |
| Myatt, 2b     | 4  | 0 | 0 | 0  | 0   | 4  | 0 | 0 | .000  | 1  | 0  |
| Spencer, 3b   | 4  | 0 | 0 | 0  | 0   | 4  | 0 | 0 | .000  | 1  | 0  |
| Johnson, 3b   | 4  | 1 | 1 | 3  | 0   | 4  | 1 | 0 | .500  | 1  | 0  |
| Moore, 4b     | 4  | 0 | 0 | 0  | 0   | 4  | 0 | 0 | .000  | 1  | 0  |
| Early, c      | 4  | 0 | 0 | 0  | 0   | 4  | 0 | 0 | .000  | 1  | 0  |
| Vernon, 1b    | 4  | 0 | 0 | 0  | 0   | 4  | 0 | 0 | .000  | 1  | 0  |
| Sullivan, 2b  | 4  | 0 | 0 | 0  | 0   | 4  | 0 | 0 | .000  | 1  | 0  |
| Priddy, 2b    | 4  | 0 | 0 | 0  | 0   | 4  | 0 | 0 | .000  | 1  | 0  |
| Haefner, 3b   | 4  | 0 | 0 | 0  | 0   | 4  | 0 | 0 | .000  | 1  | 0  |
| Robertson, 3b | 4  | 0 | 0 | 0  | 0   | 4  | 0 | 0 | .000  | 1  | 0  |
| Totals        | 32 | 2 | 2 | 15 | 0   | 32 | 2 | 0 | .400  | 11 | 0  |

*Batted for Haefner in ninth.

| CLEVELAND      | AB | R | H | E | LOB | PA | W | L | Pct. | G  | B. |
|----------------|----|---|---|---|-----|----|---|---|------|----|----|
| Hockett, 1b    | 4  | 0 | 0 | 0 | 0   | 4  | 0 | 0 | .000 | 1  | 0  |
| Boudreau, 2b   | 4  | 0 | 0 | 0 | 0   | 4  | 0 | 0 | .000 | 1  | 0  |
| Culliebene, 3b | 4  | 0 | 0 | 0 | 0   | 4  | 0 | 0 | .000 | 1  | 0  |
| Keltner, 3b    | 4  | 0 | 0 | 0 | 0   | 4  | 0 | 0 | .000 | 1  | 0  |
| Moore, 4b      | 4  | 0 | 0 | 0 | 0   | 4  | 0 | 0 | .000 | 1  | 0  |
| Ross, c        | 4  | 0 | 0 | 0 | 0   | 4  | 0 | 0 | .000 | 1  | 0  |
| Mack, 2b       | 4  | 0 | 0 | 0 | 0   | 4  | 0 | 0 | .000 | 1  | 0  |
| Reynolds, 2b   | 4  | 0 | 0 | 0 | 0   | 4  | 0 | 0 | .000 | 1  | 0  |
| Totals         | 32 | 0 | 0 | 0 | 0   | 32 | 0 | 0 | .000 | 11 | 0  |

*Batted for Haefner in ninth.

*Batted for Haefner in ninth.

*Batted for Haefner in ninth.

*Batted for Haefner in ninth.

*Batted for Haefner in ninth.

*Batted for Haefner in ninth.

*Batted for Haefner in ninth.

*Batted for Haefner in ninth.

Ambitious Rocco Winds Up on the Rocks in Eighth

Mickey Rocco, Cleveland Indian first sacker, either over-estimated his own speed or under-estimated George Case's arm yesterday as the Tribe thumped the Nats, 5-2, at Cleveland. On first in the eighth, Mickey attempted to go all the way to third on Ray Mack's single to short left. Case tossed to Bob Johnson in plenty of time to flag him, checking off what promised to be another Tribe rally.

Beggs Beaten In 14th, 1-0, Reds Divide

By the Associated Press

Philadelphia, July 8.—Dick (Kewpie) Barrett gave a fine demonstration of a hometown boy making good by pitching the Phillies to a 14-inning 1 to 0 victory over the Cincinnati Reds in the nightcap of today's doubleheader before 8478 fans at Shibe Park. The Rhinelanders capped the opener, 7 to 5.

Bill McKee, manager of the Reds, announced after the game that he had filed a protest.

McKee said he was told that umpire Magerkurth said, "I don't think we can go any longer," just before Harris sent May in to bat for Barrett in the fourteenth.

It was Pinky May's pinch single that brought Coaker Triplett home with the only marker of the long stretch.

Outlasting Ray Starr and Joe Beggs, Barrett held the Reds to nine hits and helped himself out of several light holes by fine fielding in his own position. The Phillies made only seven bingles, three of them coming in the final stanza.

The first game was a slugfest match, with the Reds collecting 17 hits off St. Johnson, Dale Mathewson, Lloyd Dietz, and Charlie Fuchs, and the Phillies nicking Johnny Vander Meer for 10.

Steve Mesner, Reds' third baseman, was the hitting star of the day, collecting six wallops in 10 times at bat.

The winning counter in the opener came on a double by Mesner, on Eric Tipton's single. Mesner's sacrifice and Max Marshall's two-bagger to left.

First Game: AB O A Philadelphia. AB O A Cincinnati. 1st inning: Philadelphia, 1-0. 2nd: 2-0. 3rd: 3-0. 4th: 4-0. 5th: 5-0. 6th: 6-0. 7th: 7-0. 8th: 7-5. 9th: 7-5. 10th: 7-5. 11th: 7-5. 12th: 7-5. 13th: 7-5. 14th: 7-5. 15th: 7-5. 16th: 7-5. 17th: 7-5. 18th: 7-5. 19th: 7-5. 20th: 7-5. 21st: 7-5. 22nd: 7-5. 23rd: 7-5. 24th: 7-5. 25th: 7-5. 26th: 7-5. 27th: 7-5. 28th: 7-5. 29th: 7-5. 30th: 7-5. 31st: 7-5. 32nd: 7-5. 33rd: 7-5. 34th: 7-5. 35th: 7-5. 36th: 7-5. 37th: 7-5. 38th: 7-5. 39th: 7-5. 40th: 7-5. 41st: 7-5. 42nd: 7-5. 43rd: 7-5. 44th: 7-5. 45th: 7-5. 46th: 7-5. 47th: 7-5. 48th: 7-5. 49th: 7-5. 50th: 7-5. 51st: 7-5. 52nd: 7-5. 53rd: 7-5. 54th: 7-5. 55th: 7-5. 56th: 7-5. 57th: 7-5. 58th: 7-5. 59th: 7-5. 60th: 7-5. 61st: 7-5. 62nd: 7-5. 63rd: 7-5. 64th: 7-5. 65th: 7-5. 66th: 7-5. 67th: 7-5. 68th: 7-5. 69th: 7-5. 70th: 7-5. 71st: 7-5. 72nd: 7-5. 73rd: 7-5. 74th: 7-5. 75th: 7-5. 76th: 7-5. 77th: 7-5. 78th: 7-5. 79th: 7-5. 80th: 7-5. 81st: 7-5. 82nd: 7-5. 83rd: 7-5. 84th: 7-5. 85th: 7-5. 86th: 7-5. 87th: 7-5. 88th: 7-5. 89th: 7-5. 90th: 7-5. 91st: 7-5. 92nd: 7-5. 93rd: 7-5. 94th: 7-5. 95th: 7-5. 96th: 7-5. 97th: 7-5. 98th: 7-5. 99th: 7-5. 100th: 7-5. 101st: 7-5. 102nd: 7-5. 103rd: 7-5. 104th: 7-5. 105th: 7-5. 106th: 7-5. 107th: 7-5. 108th: 7-5. 109th: 7-5. 110th: 7-5. 111th: 7-5. 112th: 7-5. 113th: 7-5. 114th: 7-5. 115th: 7-5. 116th: 7-5. 117th: 7-5. 118th: 7-5. 119th: 7-5. 120th: 7-5. 121st: 7-5. 122nd: 7-5. 123rd: 7-5. 124th: 7-5. 125th: 7-5. 126th: 7-5. 127th: 7-5. 128th: 7-5. 129th: 7-5. 130th: 7-5. 131st: 7-5. 132nd: 7-5. 133rd: 7-5. 134th: 7-5. 135th: 7-5. 136th: 7-5. 137th: 7-5. 138th: 7-5. 139th: 7-5. 140th: 7-5. 141st: 7-5. 142nd: 7-5. 143rd: 7-5. 144th: 7-5. 145th: 7-5. 146th: 7-5. 147th: 7-5. 148th: 7-5. 149th: 7-5. 150th: 7-5. 151st: 7-5. 152nd: 7-5. 153rd: 7-5. 154th: 7-5. 155th: 7-5. 156th: 7-5. 157th: 7-5. 158th: 7-5. 159th: 7-5. 160th: 7-5. 161st: 7-5. 162nd: 7-5. 163rd: 7-5. 164th: 7-5. 165th: 7-5. 166th: 7-5. 167th: 7-5. 168th: 7-5. 169th: 7-5. 170th: 7-5. 171st: 7-5. 172nd: 7-5. 173rd: 7-5. 174th: 7-5. 175th: 7-5. 176th: 7-5. 177th: 7-5. 178th: 7-5. 179th: 7-5. 180th: 7-5. 181st: 7-5. 182nd: 7-5. 183rd: 7-5. 184th: 7-5. 185th: 7-5. 186th: 7-5. 187th: 7-5. 188th: 7-5. 189th: 7-5. 190th: 7-5. 191st: 7-5. 192nd: 7-5. 193rd: 7-5. 194th: 7-5. 195th: 7-5. 196th: 7-5. 197th: 7-5. 198th: 7-5. 199th: 7-5. 200th: 7-5. 201st: 7-5. 202nd: 7-5. 203rd: 7-5. 204th: 7-5. 205th: 7-5. 206th: 7-5. 207th: 7-5. 208th: 7-5. 209th: 7-5. 210th: 7-5. 211st: 7-5. 212th: 7-5. 213th: 7-5. 214th: 7-5. 215th: 7-5. 216th: 7-5. 217th: 7-5. 218th: 7-5. 219th: 7-5. 220th: 7-5. 221st: 7-5. 222nd: 7-5. 223rd: 7-5. 224th: 7-5. 225th: 7-5. 226th: 7-5. 227th: 7-5. 228th: 7-5. 229th: 7-5. 230th: 7-5. 231st: 7-5. 232nd: 7-5. 233rd: 7-5. 234th: 7-5. 235th: 7-5. 236th: 7-5. 237th: 7-5. 238th: 7-5. 239th: 7-5. 240th: 7-5. 241st: 7-5. 242nd: 7-5. 243rd: 7-5. 244th: 7-5. 245th: 7-5. 246th: 7-5. 247th: 7-5. 248th: 7-5. 249th: 7-5. 250th: 7-5. 251st: 7-5. 252nd: 7-5. 253rd: 7-5. 254th: 7-5. 255th: 7-5. 256th: 7-5. 257th: 7-5. 258th: 7-5. 259th: 7-5. 260th: 7-5. 261st: 7-5. 262nd: 7-5. 263rd: 7-5. 264th: 7-5. 265th: 7-5. 266th: 7-5. 267th: 7-5. 268th: 7-5. 269th: 7-5. 270th: 7-5. 271st: 7-5. 272nd: 7-5. 273rd: 7-5. 274th: 7-5. 275th: 7-5. 276th: 7-5. 277th: 7-5. 278th: 7-5. 279th: 7-5. 280th: 7-5. 281st: 7-5. 282nd: 7-5. 283rd: 7-5. 284th: 7-5. 285th: 7-5. 286th: 7-5. 287th: 7-5. 288th: 7-5. 289th: 7-5. 290th: 7-5. 291st: 7-5. 292nd: 7-5. 293rd: 7-5. 294th: 7-5. 295th: 7-5. 296th: 7-5. 297th: 7-5. 298th: 7-5. 299th: 7-5. 300th: 7-5. 301st: 7-5. 302nd: 7-5. 303rd: 7-5. 304th: 7-5. 305th: 7-5. 306th: 7-5. 307th: 7-5. 308th: 7-5. 309th: 7-5. 310th: 7-5. 311st: 7-5. 312th: 7-5. 313th: 7-5. 314th: 7-5. 315th: 7-5. 316th: 7-5. 317th: 7-5. 318th: 7-5. 319th: 7-5. 320th: 7-5. 321st: 7-5. 322nd: 7-5. 323rd: 7-5. 324th: 7-5. 325th: 7-5. 326th: 7-5. 327th: 7-5. 328th: 7-5. 329th: 7-5. 330th: 7-5. 331st: 7-5. 332nd: 7-5. 333rd: 7-5. 334th: 7-5. 335th: 7-5. 336th: 7-5. 337th: 7-5. 338th: 7-5. 339th: 7-5. 340th: 7-5. 341st: 7-5. 342nd: 7-5. 343rd: 7-5. 344th: 7-5. 345th: 7-5. 346th: 7-5. 347th: 7-5. 348th: 7-5. 349th: 7-5. 350th: 7-5. 351st: 7-5. 352nd: 7-5. 353rd: 7-5. 354th: 7-5. 355th: 7-5. 356th: 7-5. 357th: 7-5. 358th: 7-5. 359th: 7-5. 360th: 7-5. 361st: 7-5. 362nd: 7-5. 363rd: 7-5. 364th: 7-5. 365th: 7-5. 366th: 7-5. 367th: 7-5. 368th: 7-5. 369th: 7-5. 370th: 7-5. 371st: 7-5. 372nd: 7-5. 373rd: 7-5. 374th: 7-5. 375th: 7-5. 376th: 7-5. 377th: 7-5. 378th: 7-5. 379th: 7-5. 380th: 7-5. 381st: 7-5. 382nd: 7-5. 383rd: 7-5. 384th: 7-5. 385th: 7-5. 386th: 7-5. 387th: 7-5. 388th: 7-5. 389th: 7-5. 390th: 7-5. 391st: 7-5. 392nd: 7-5. 393rd: 7-5. 394th: 7-5. 395th: 7-5. 396th: 7-5. 397th: 7-5. 398th: 7-5. 399th: 7-5. 400th: 7-5. 401st: 7-5. 402nd: 7-5. 403rd: 7-5. 404th: 7-5. 405th: 7-5. 406th: 7-5. 407th: 7-5. 408th: 7-5. 409th: 7-5. 410th: 7-5. 411st: 7-5. 412th: 7-5. 413th: 7-5. 414th: 7-5. 415th: 7-5. 416th: 7-5. 417th: 7-5. 418th: 7-5. 419th: 7-5. 420th: 7-5. 421st: 7-5. 422nd: 7-5. 423rd: 7-5. 424th: 7-5. 425th: 7-5. 426th: 7-5. 427th: 7-5. 428th: 7-5. 429th: 7-5. 430th: 7-5. 431st: 7-5. 432nd: 7-5. 433rd: 7-5. 434th: 7-5. 435th: 7-5. 436th: 7-5. 437th: 7-5. 438th: 7-5. 439th: 7-5. 440th: 7-5. 441st: 7-5. 442nd: 7-5. 443rd: 7-5. 444th: 7-5. 445th: 7-5. 446th: 7-5. 447th: 7-5. 448th: 7-5. 449th: 7-5. 450th: 7-5. 451st: 7-5. 452nd: 7-5. 453rd: 7-5. 454th: 7-5. 455th: 7-5. 456th: 7-5. 457th: 7-5. 458th: 7-5. 459th: 7-5. 460th: 7-5. 461st: 7-5. 462nd: 7-5. 463rd: 7-5. 464th: 7-5. 465th: 7-5. 466th: 7-5. 467th: 7-5. 468th: 7-5. 469th:

Stanley Baker Named Intramural Head at Maryland

Herman Ball Chosen as Assistant

Newcomers to Aid In Coaching of Army Trainees at Old Line School

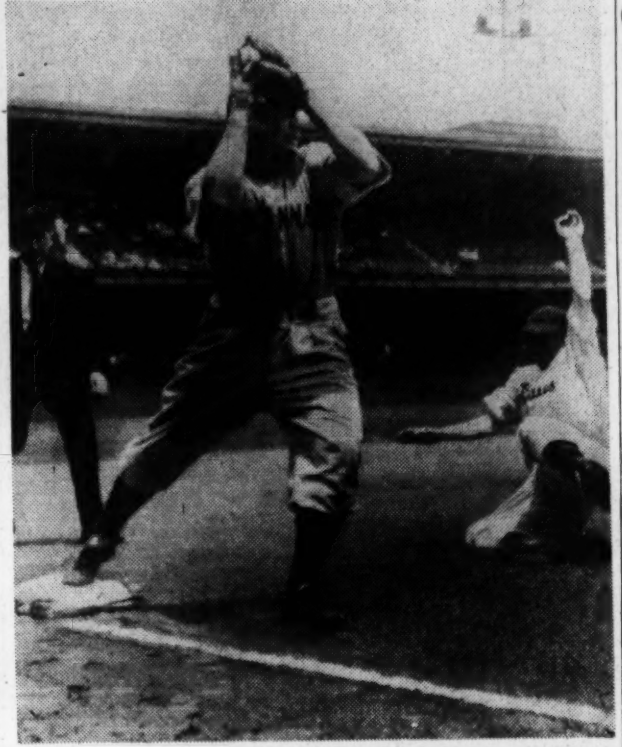

Stanley (Tuffy) Baker, former football coach at Mount Pleasant, N. J. High, has been appointed director of intramural athletics at the University of Maryland. Baker, who was named as assistant in the Department of Physical Education, will also assist Coach Doc Spears with the Old Line grid team.

Baker, whose team won the State grid championship last year, also coached baseball in New Jersey. He graduated from West Virginia in '39 with a degree in physical education.

In addition to the intramural program, Baker will have charge of the Army specialized training program at Maryland.

Ball, a graduate of Davis Elkins College, played football in college and began his coaching career at Ridgely, W. Va., high in 1935. His main duties will be in connection with physical fitness of Army trainees.

Down and Out at Third Base

Here's action in the first inning of yesterday's 23-frame doubleheader staged by the Phillies and Reds. Danny Murtagh, Phil's second sacker, is shown being forced out at third. Steve Mesner is making the play. Umpire Dunn is in the background.

2 Terps Named On All-America Lacrosse Ten

The All-American Lacrosse Team selections for 1943 were announced yesterday by John H. Paige, of Colgate, vice president and secretary of the United States Intercollegiate Lacrosse Association. These selections are made annually by a committee of the association, Lacrosse being the only collegiate sport which thus determines each year an official All-American team.

Three of the leading teams of the year—Navy, Maryland and Johns Hopkins—each had two men selected on the first team, while Princeton, Stevens, Drexel and Loyola each placed one. Of the twenty colleges forming the Intercollegiate Lacrosse Association, twelve were represented by one or more men among the three teams.

The Selections:
FIRST TEAM—Goal, Jerry Courtney (Yale); Baltimore, Md. point, John Tiedberg (Stevens); Teaneck, N. J. cover point, Jack Dittmar (Maryland); Baltimore, Md. defense, George Riese (Johns Hopkins); Baltimore, Md. second defense, Gordon Oakes (Drexel); Annapolis, Pa. center, Ray Green (Drexel); Baltimore, Md. second attack, Henry Guld (Johns Hopkins); Baltimore, Md. first attack, John Haver (Maryland); Haverhill, Md. out home, Robert Boese (Navy); Baltimore, Md. in home, John Palmer (Princeton); Princeton, N. J. second team, Thomas Mitchell (Penn State); Baltimore, Md. out home, John Labadie (Navy); Pittsburgh, Pa. cover point, William Newman (Rutgers); Baltimore, Md. defense, Clyde Siegfried (Navy); Lafayette, Pa. second defense, James Givals (Penn State); Phoenixville, Pa. center, Thomas Zink (Johns Hopkins); Baltimore, Md. second attack, Gabriel (Yale); Princeton, N. J. first attack, Thomas Mitchell (Penn State); Baltimore, Md. out home, Thomas Mitchell (Penn State); Baltimore, Md. in home, Robert Stockbridge (Maryland); Baltimore, Md. second team, Edward Carman (Cornell); Baltimore, Md. point, Benjamin Kaestner (Johns Hopkins); Towson, Md. cover point, Frederick Allner (Princeton); Philadelphia, Pa. second defense, Robert (Princeton); center, Orlan Landall (Maryland); Baltimore, Md. second attack, Lloyd Mallonee (Maryland); Baltimore, Md. first attack, Robert Stockbridge (Maryland); out home, George Montemur, Jr. (Navy); Yale City, Miss. in home, Donald Douglas (Swarthmore).

SECOND TEAM—Goal, Edward Carman (Cornell); Baltimore, Md. point, Benjamin Kaestner (Johns Hopkins); Towson, Md. cover point, Frederick Allner (Princeton); Philadelphia, Pa. second defense, Robert (Princeton); center, Orlan Landall (Maryland); Baltimore, Md. second attack, Lloyd Mallonee (Maryland); Baltimore, Md. first attack, Robert Stockbridge (Maryland); out home, George Montemur, Jr. (Navy); Yale City, Miss. in home, Donald Douglas (Swarthmore).

Horse Show Here Lures Competitors

What started out to be a small, home town horse show suddenly has developed into a prospective afternoon of top-notch competition as local exhibitors will be joined by Baltimore, Virginia and Hagerstown mounts at the North End Horse Show Sunday at 2 p. m. near Silver Spring, Md.

"Because of the lack of such outings in other areas, horse owners have expressed tremendous interest in the North End event and have kept Chairman Gardner Hallman's telephone busy with requests for information and programs."

Classes are for open hacks, hunter hacks, green hunters, warm-up jumpers, ladies' working hunters, open jumpers, green hunters, handicapped jumpers, working hunters, modified Olympia, and two championships, for jumpers and hunters.

Mr. and Mrs. Hallman have promised all those who have ponies or horses to drive to cars and that if sufficient horse-driven vehicles appear, a class will be held for them directly after the modified Olympia class.

Meanwhile, visitors to the hilltop on which the show is to be held viewed an unusual sight yesterday as Mrs. Fred J. Hughes, jr., schooled Jackie Warren's Yankee Doodle over the outside course—aided (more or less) by the Hughes' Great Dane, Loki, who followed over four fences until he finally managed to knock down a rail and hurt his paw. Mrs. Hughes stopped her mount to see if the dog was hurt, ascertained he wasn't, and carried on, Loki still in pursuit.

The Dane ultimately refused a still post-and-rail, much to Yankee Doodle's relief.

Mary Hardwick, Net Star, Plays At Fort Belvoir

Fort Belvoir, Va., July 8.—Mary Hardwick, British tennis star is scheduled to play a mixed doubles exhibition tennis match here Tuesday at the enlisted men's tennis courts against Sgt. Abe Belgrade, New Jersey pro star, and Pvt. Charles A. Woehrl, well-known amateur and professional court star.

Miss Hardwick, one of the world's top ranking tennis players, has covered over 100,000 miles playing exhibition matches in Army and Navy stations throughout the country.

Her girl partner is not known, but probably will be some outstanding local amateur star.

Leahy Plans To Abandon 'T' At Notre Dame

Cleveland, July 8.—Coach Frank Leahy, of Notre Dame, says the Fighting Irish griders may have to give up the famed "T" backfield formation this coming season.

Angelo Bartelli, mainstay of last year's backfield, is in the Marine Corps Reserve and may be transferred, Leahy said, and the only other quarterback available for the T formation is Pennsylvania John Lujack, a Navy V-12 student.

"If both these boys are transferred from the campus, I am sure we will have to modify the 'T' system," he added.

Speaking at a Chamber of Commerce luncheon for representatives of Notre Dame and the United States Naval Academy yesterday, Notre Dame's athletic director declared 15 members of his 1942 squad are in the Navy or Marine Corps reserves.

More than 3000 Naval and Marine training students are on the Irish campus, he continued, and "we may have some help from them. We may lose a lot of games, but like everyone else our thought is to keep the game going."

The Navy was represented at the luncheon by Capt. H. E. Overesch, Midshipman commander, and Lieut. Comdr. Edgar (Rip) Miller, assistant coach and former Notre Dame star.

Lookouts Return Carpenter to Nats

Chattanooga, Tenn., July 8 (P).—Lew Carpenter, bespectacled right-handed hurler who has won three and lost three for Chattanooga since he joined the team June 15, has been returned to the parent Washington club, the Lookouts' front office announced today.

The office said it was understood Washington would send Carpenter to Minneapolis.

Steelers Sign Ex-Pitt Star

Pittsburgh, July 8 (P).—Three years after his graduation from Pitt, Bobby Thurbon, backfield man, has been signed to play for the combined Pittsburgh Steelers-Philadelphia Eagles football team this fall.

In the interval, Thurbon has been coaching a high school grid team and working in a defense plant. He put his name on a contract yesterday at the behest of Bert Bell, president of the Steelers.

Most of the big names in pro football are now on the payroll of Uncle Sam, Bell indicated. He said the Steelers have 146 names on their active, reserve and 1942 draft lists, of these 132 are in the armed forces.

Leemans Rejected, Draft Board Says

The fact that Tuffy Leemans was rejected for Army service was confirmed by the Silver Spring Draft Board yesterday. Leemans, all-time all-league back with the New York Giants, had been twice previously turned down in seeking a Navy commission. Leemans is expected to assist Steve Owen with the coaching of the New York Giants next season but is not expected to play.

Goldstein Optioned

Syracuse, N. Y., July 8 (P).—The International League Syracuse Chiefs today released Les Goldstein, first baseman, on option to draft lists, of the Southern League.

Al Hart Favored 8 to 5 for Scrap With Conway

Al Hart, 235-pound Army War College Negro soldier, yesterday was quoted as 8-to-5 favorite over Clint Conway, Fort Monmouth, N. J., Negro trooper, when they clash in their 10-round heavyweight scrap Monday night at Griffith Stadium.

Despite the fact Conway holds a decision over Lane, who drew with Hart here last winter, Hart's more impressive record of 23 fights without a defeat, marred only by draws with Lane and Joe Baksi, rates him favoritism. Conway recently suffered an upset defeat at the hands of Curtis Sheppard. Sheppard kayoed Clint in the tenth, after trailing every step prior to the kayo punch.

Hart showed his best local advantage last month when he showed new-found aggressiveness to kayo Claudio Villar in one round, putting the Spaniard on the floor four times.

Musial Laughed When Vanek Insisted He Was Big Leaguer

Lynchburg Pilot Clocked Potentialities Of Cards' Star as High School Boy

By Robert Moore
Associated Press Sports Writer

Lynchburg, Va., July 8.—You may not have realized it, chums, but there's a reason why the cheeks of one Stanley Frank Musial sometimes turn crimson as the red flannels your great-grandfather used to wear.

Ollie Vanek, who pilots the Lynchburg Cardinals of the Piedmont League, knows that reason, and since Musial now is a major league sensation with the world champion St. Louis Cardinals, he doesn't mind telling it.

"You see," Vanek began, "I used to tell Stan Musial that he would be a major leaguer some day, and Stan thought that was very, very funny. He used to laugh loud enough for everybody on the diamond to hear him, and that's saying a lot when you know that Musial was always very shy and quiet."

"I remember one day, in particular. It was in May, 1941. I was manager of the Springfield, Mo., club and Musial had joined the team that season in spring training at Columbus, Ga. Stan and I were sitting in a hotel lobby at Hutchinson, Kans.

Stan laughs

"I remember very well saying to him, 'Stan, take good care of yourself. You're a big league ball player.' And Stan roared. He thought it was the funniest thing he had ever heard. It sounded like a dream to him."

"He used to pop back with—'Are you kidding?'"

Vanek discovered Musial while the Cardinal outfielder was pitching for Donora, Pa., High School. He was then manager of the nearby Monessen, Pa., club of the Penn State League.

"Musial is without a doubt the best player I've ever worked with," Vanek said. "Andy Phillips, then business manager at Monessen, and I first saw him in 1937. He was a pretty fair high school pitcher."

"When Stan reported to Springfield in 1941, you could tell he was a natural hitter, and I tried him in the outfield because he had injured his pitching arm the preceding fall, and the injury ruined his hurling career."

"Stan wasn't much of an outfielder at first, and he had trouble with his batting. He was a willing worker, though, and I used to take him out alone in the mornings and work with him."

"He was fooled at the plate by a change of pace, but he widened his stance and changed his grip on the bat, and soon he was smashing out the hits. Stan worked hard on going back after line drives in the outfield, throwing the ball in and judging the flight of the ball."

"In a couple of months, he was a finished outfielder. He had every earmark of a big leaguer. He was a fast runner, quick to learn, an ideal ball player, an ideal fellow all around."

"Every time I see him now—I live in St. Louis you know—Stan's naturally rosy cheeks turn red when I ask him if he's a major leaguer. And you can hear his ha-ha-ha all over the place."

Wills Begins Special Drills

Frankie Wills, District welterweight champion who meets Bob Montgomery, New York recognized lightweight champion at Griffith Stadium Tuesday, July 20, left yesterday for Baltimore where he will be put through a special training routine, outlined by Trainer Billy Edwards and which will be directly supervised by "Heinie" Blaustein, veteran handler of fighters, rated as one of the best in the business.

Blaustein, who has represented many of the greatest fighters in the business, was recently given an upset of N.B.A. featherweight champion Jackie Callura recently at Uline Arena when he was suddenly called in during an early round to heal Hansbury's badly cut eye. So completely did "Heinie" patch Lew's bad optic the D. C. lad went on to easily defeat Callura. Wills will remain in the Monmouth City until the day before the fight.

Doljack Released, Harder Returns

Cleveland, July 8 (P).—Frank Doljack, 33-year-old outfielder signed only last week by the Cleveland Indians, was given his release today to make room for Mel Harder's return to the roster.

The veteran pitcher broke his ankle at St. Louis two months ago while sliding into second base and expects to be reinstated tomorrow.

Rivers Hurls 2-Hitter As Merrick Wins, 8-0

With James Rivers turning in a two-hit job, Merrick Boys Club seniors shut out the No. 11 Police Boys Club, 8-0, yesterday on Fairlawn diamond. Rivers also contributed to his team's attack, getting three for four.

Bob Scheffing, formerly of the Chicago Cubs, is the team's catcher.

Adair, Cassini Win Net Match

The team of Sgt. Buddy Adair and Igor Cassini yesterday defeated Commander Lars Lundgoat and Ensign Carl Smalley, 6-4, 7-5 at Edgemoor Club to advance to the semifinal round of the Middle Atlantic doubles play. Strong volleying by Adair and sharp volleying by Cassini marked the triumph.

Adair and Cassini will make their bid to enter the final today at 6 p. m. when they meet the team of Murphy and Wilkinson. Gifford and Threadgill will clash in a singles match, also at 6 p. m.

Amity Club Golfs, Dines on Tuesday

The annual golf tournament and stag dinner of the Amity Club will be held Tuesday at Woodmont Country Club, it was announced by the committee in charge. Alex Forman, Leopold V. Freudberg and Leo Schlosberg.

In addition to the Freudberg trophy for low net, 20 additional net and gross prizes will be awarded. Driving and hole-in-one contests are scheduled. The entertainment is in charge of Fred Kogod.

Industrial League

|             |     |     |     |          |     |     |     |
|-------------|-----|-----|-----|----------|-----|-----|-----|
| ABH         | OAH | QAH | MAH | ABH      | OAH | QAH | MAH |
| Desroot, 5  | 3   | 0   | 0   | Shore, 5 | 3   | 0   | 0   |
| Alfieri, 3  | 1   | 0   | 0   | Shore, 5 | 3   | 0   | 0   |
| McGinnis, 4 | 2   | 0   | 0   | Shore, 5 | 3   | 0   | 0   |
| Chapman, 3  | 2   | 0   | 0   | Shore, 5 | 3   | 0   | 0   |
| Wells, 4    | 1   | 0   | 0   | Shore, 5 | 3   | 0   | 0   |
| Miller, 3   | 0   | 0   | 0   | Shore, 5 | 3   | 0   | 0   |
| Stinson, 2  | 1   | 0   | 0   | Shore, 5 | 3   | 0   | 0   |
| Kline, 3    | 0   | 0   | 0   | Shore, 5 | 3   | 0   | 0   |
| Wells, 4    | 1   | 0   | 0   | Shore, 5 | 3   | 0   | 0   |
| Parker, 3   | 0   | 0   | 0   | Shore, 5 | 3   | 0   | 0   |
| Hamel, 3    | 0   | 0   | 0   | Shore, 5 | 3   | 0   | 0   |
| Kramer, 3   | 0   | 0   | 0   | Shore, 5 | 3   | 0   | 0   |
| Farmer, 1   | 0   | 0   | 0   | Shore, 5 | 3   | 0   | 0   |
| Totals, 39  | 14  | 27  | 12  | Shore, 5 | 3   | 0   | 0   |

Departmental League

|             |     |     |     |          |     |     |     |          |
|-------------|-----|-----|-----|----------|-----|-----|-----|----------|
| Miller Co.  | ABH | OAH | QAH | MAH      | ABH | OAH | QAH | MAH      |
| Desroot, 5  | 3   | 0   | 0   | Shore, 5 | 3   | 0   | 0   | Shore, 5 |
| Alfieri, 3  | 1   | 0   | 0   | Shore, 5 | 3   | 0   | 0   | Shore, 5 |
| McGinnis, 4 | 2   | 0   | 0   | Shore, 5 | 3   | 0   | 0   | Shore, 5 |
| Chapman, 3  | 2   | 0   | 0   | Shore, 5 | 3   | 0   | 0   | Shore, 5 |
| Wells, 4    | 1   | 0   | 0   | Shore, 5 | 3   | 0   | 0   | Shore, 5 |
| Miller, 3   | 0   | 0   | 0   | Shore, 5 | 3   | 0   | 0   | Shore, 5 |
| Stinson, 2  | 1   | 0   | 0   | Shore, 5 | 3   | 0   | 0   | Shore, 5 |
| Kline, 3    | 0   | 0   | 0   | Shore, 5 | 3   | 0   | 0   | Shore, 5 |
| Wells, 4    | 1   | 0   | 0   | Shore, 5 | 3   | 0   | 0   | Shore, 5 |
| Parker, 3   | 0   | 0   | 0   | Shore, 5 | 3   | 0   | 0   | Shore, 5 |
| Hamel, 3    | 0   | 0   | 0   | Shore, 5 | 3   | 0   | 0   | Shore, 5 |
| Kramer, 3   | 0   | 0   | 0   | Shore, 5 | 3   | 0   | 0   | Shore, 5 |
| Farmer, 1   | 0   | 0   | 0   | Shore, 5 | 3   | 0   | 0   | Shore, 5 |
| Totals, 39  | 15  | 27  | 12  | Shore, 5 | 3   | 0   | 0   | Shore, 5 |

Minor League Results

INTERNATIONAL LEAGUE
Newark, 4; Baltimore, 3.
Buffalo, 4; Toronto, 2.
Syracuse, 6; Jersey City, 2.
Rochester, 4-0; Montreal, 3-0.
AMERICAN ASSOCIATION
Yakima, 4-1; Kansas City, 1-8.
Louisville, 5; Minneapolis, 3.
PACIFIC COAST LEAGUE
Los Angeles, 11; Oakland, 4.
Baltimore, 10; San Francisco, 8.
Portland, 5-0; Sacramento, 2-0.
Seattle, 1; San Diego, 0.

BE DISCRIMINATING DRINK AMERICA'S UNEXCELLED WHISKY

MELROSE

BLENDED STRAIGHT
Rye
WHISKIES
PRIDE OF AMERICA
50 proof

Recruits & Goldschlager, Inc.
BALTIMORE, MARYLAND
ESTABLISHED 1885

All the straight whiskies in this product are 6 years or more old.

TRUCKERS
-SEE TREW!

FOR GUARANTEED TRUCK REPAIR SERVICE

4,000
MILES or 90 days whichever occurs first

TREW MOTOR CO.
SERVICE DEPT.
14th & V Sts. N.W. Tel. DE. 1910

Trew Motor Co. is the only company in Washington offering a new car warranty on all truck repair work. (This warranty also applies to all passenger car repair service.)
Only new, guaranteed parts are used. We will repair any make car or truck in our own service department supervised by factory trained mechanics.
Free estimates... budget payments.

30 years of service to the Washington Public

THE TREW MOTOR CO.

No
Military Secret

It gives no aid or comfort to the enemy to record that thousands of Robt. Burns Cigars are sent to the men in our Armed Forces. Many Soldiers, Sailors, and Marines, alone or in gay gatherings, key their relaxation to them.
And where is the civilian smoker not eager to share
Robt. Burns with men at the front?

To supply the demand of both, Robt. Burns output has something of a problem. We are driving ahead, however, making all these high class cigars that our plants are able to make and still maintain fine craftsmanship and choice tobacco, including 100% All-Havana filler.

So you may smoke your Robt. Burns with complete confidence that it will continue to be the same high grade cigar you have always known it to be.

Robt. BURNS
Panatela de Luxe 11¢

THE WORLD'S LEADING PANATELA

The POST'S WEEKLY PARADE of Bargains!

FRIDAY—SATURDAY
SPECIALS

PLAZA SPORT SHOP

Agents for A. G. SPALDING & BROS.
10th & E Sts. N.W. . . . in the Star Parking Plaza

Now Ready!
NAVAL OFFICERS' NEW Slate Grey UNIFORMS

$15.38

The new summer uniform for Naval Officers is ready at the Plaza Sport Shop. Smart, comfortable and well tailored. All sizes. Complete with buttons, 16.38

Open 'Til 9 P. M. Every Night

FREE PARKING: Drive right in Plaza Garage

MURPHY'S

Downtown Only—At F and G, Between 12th and 13th

College Hill
FRESH EGGS
POULTRY

Cleaned and Drawn Before Weighing

"Charm"
Your Guests
With Delicious COLLEGE HILL
CHICKEN

WEEK END SPECIAL

Backs and Necks 25c for Frying or Stewing, 15c lb., 2 lbs. for

SHAH OPTICAL CO.

Specialist 927 F St. N.W. EXCLUSIVE OPTICS

Kryptok INVISIBLE BIFOCAL Glasses

$15.00 and $18.00 Value GLASSES
Complete—As Low As $9.75

Yes, genuine Kryptok invisible bifocal lenses. One pair to see far and near. Complete with high grade frame. Eyes examined by registered optometrist.

Friday and Saturday Only!

as low as $9.75
COMPLETE

For the past 30 years the name "SHAH" has been associated with the optical profession in Washington. This signifies that our aim to satisfy is well founded.

SELINGER'S

Credit Jewelers
818 F Street N.W.
Look For The Big Clock

Six Diamond
Bridal Set

Very Special!

$75 Plus Tax

Exquisite engagement ring with large perfect diamond, set between 2 smaller diamonds. Wedding band has 3 perfect, brilliant diamonds all set in 14-kt. solid gold.

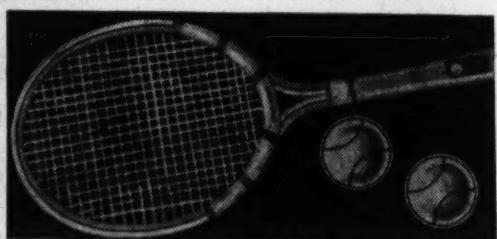

Closed All Day Saturday

Pay as Little as $1.25 Weekly

SPORT CENTER

Where Sportsmen Meet

8th and D Sts. N.W. REpublic 2545
Washington's Largest Official Boy Scout Headquarters

A. G. Spalding & Wright & Ditson
TENNIS RACKETS

Famous A. G. Spalding Top-Flite and Wright & Ditson Davis Cup Tennis Rackets, freshly strung with Spalding's Best Silk in our own Tennis Shop . . . PLUS 2 Wright & Ditson Tennis Balls . . . ALL FOR $9.95.

PLENTY of Golf & Tennis Balls

Tennis Rackets Restrung by Our Factory Experts

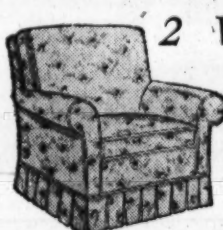

Complete with 2 Tennis Balls
Fri. & Sat. Only

$9.95

for Racket & 2 Tennis Balls
Open Saturday
9 A. M. to 7 P. M.

HOFFMANN

UPHOLSTERERS and DECORATORS
CO. 5116 2447-49 18th St. N.W. CO. 5116
VISIT OUR SHOWROOM

2 Weeks Delivery
SLIP COVERS

Large colorful selection of new designs in correlated SPRING fabrics in stock. Expert decorator will advise color schemes.

Largest Stock in Town

2 Piece Suite $33.95 and up
Open Evenings to 7:30 P. M.—Thursday to 9 P. M.

UPHOLSTERY DELIVERED
IN 10 DAYS 2-PIECE SUITE $43.95

ABOVE PRICES INCLUDE LABOR AND MATERIAL
SATIN COMFORTERS RECOVERED
Estimates cheerfully submitted by our expert decorators in D. C., nearby Md. or Va. Call COI. 5116. FREE PARKING.

BLACKISTONE, Inc.

1407 H St. N.W. Opposite Trans-Lux Building DIST. 1300

(This Special On Sale at Our H Street Store Only)

Week-End Flower Gift Box

Lovely Fresh Cut Flowers

Consisting of A colorful assortment of choice flowers attractively arranged in gift box.
A $3.00 VALUE

COMPLETE
$2.25

HECHINGER CO.

4—Great Building Material Stores—4

MAIN OFFICE ANACOSTIA BRIGHTWOOD FALLS CHURCH, VA.
18th & R Sts. N.E. 1905 Nichols Ave. 3525 G St. N.W. Lee Highway

Headquarters for Building Repair Needs

Roll Roofing

100% Asphalt Coating

A good quality, low priced, smooth-surfaced roofing, 35 lbs. to the roll. 108 sq. ft. with nails and cement furnished with each roll.

Roll

$1.19
Delivered

Phone Orders AT. 1400

Shop Thursday Mornings at Hechinger's

Store Hours: Week Days and Saturdays, 7:30 to 5:30

Visit Our Virginia Store in Falls Church

MURPHY'S

At F & G Between 12th & 13th N.W.
810 Seventh St. N.W. 3128 14th Street N.W.
Alexandria, Va. Rockville, Md. Silver Spring, Md.

Sale
Cactus Plants

Your choice of a large assortment and many interesting kinds and shapes of cactus plants to add to your collection. These sturdy plants require little attention.

FRIDAY
and SATURDAY
ONLY

3 for 27c

A & N TRADING CO.

"Serving the Service for 25 Years"

8th & D Sts. N.W. REpublic 2545 Our Only Store

OPEN ALL DAY SAT. 9 A. M. TO 10 P. M.

Service Men's Flight Bags

FRI.
& SAT.
ONLY
$17.50

Holds 3 uniforms or suits and has all the room you need for shoes, accessories and soiled clothes. Full size. Khaki only. Heavy waterproof canvas. Leather trimmed. Leather handles.

Free Parking on Steele's Lot a Few Doors Up 8th St.

BEAGON ELECTRIC

SUPPLY COMPANY, Inc.

909 7th Street N.W. National 0485
Washington's Largest Stock of Electrical Fixtures for the Home

24-Pc. Stainless Steel
Tableware Set

Almost irreplaceable chromium and stainless steel! Service for six in decorative case . . . ideal for your use, for wedding and anniversary gifts. Buy for now and the future! No phone orders or deliveries!

Complete Service
For Six:

$16.95

FRI. & SAT.

ROYAL LINOLEUM CO.

ARMSTRONG'S LINOLEUM—ASPHALT TILE

Cor. 11th & H Sts. N.W. DISTRICT 8342

FOR A BEAUTIFUL MODERN KITCHEN USE

Armstrong's Inlaid

Up to 10 Square Yards at This Special Low Price

Including Bathrooms

$15.95 Including Laying and Cementing a Complete Kitchen Up to 10 Square Yards.

* All new 1943 patterns including plain, tiled or marbled designs.

* Laid and cemented to your floor with Armstrong's Cement.

For Information and Advice

Call Mrs. Hertz, District 8342

SPECIAL FOR RECREATION ROOMS

ASPHALT TILE, 15c SQ. FT. INSTALLED

CLEAN-RITE STORES

"Washington's Vacuum Center"

Open Daily 9 A. M. to 6 P. M. 925 F ST. N.W.
FREE PARKING at 9th and G Place N.W.

Fix It and Make It Last!

Vacuum Cleaner

Repair

Any Make or Model

Special 9-Point Repair Combination

This Job Includes:

1. New Bag
2. New Brush
3. New Wheels
4. New Motor
5. Alignment of Fan
6. Clean Motor
7. Oiling & Greasing
8. Complete Cleaning
9. General Tightening

We Stock a Full Line of Parts

$7.95

★ CALL METropolitan 5600 ★
For FREE Pickup and Delivery

WALPOLE BROS.

1529 Connecticut Ave. NO. 2849
DUBLIN LONDON BOSTON HYANNIS

Very Special Sale of Bath Towels

Highly absorbent, long wearing. White, with choice of blue, gold, pink, jade colored borders.

Through Monday
Without Monogram

$8.50

DOZEN

Three Letter Monogram—75c per towel extra Closed Saturday During July and August

ACME LIQUOR STORE

MILSTONE'S

RETAILERS—IMPORTERS

"Home of Bit O' Kentucky"

927 Penna. Ave. N.W. NEW STORE HOURS:
FROM 10 A.M. TO 9 P.M.

ANOTHER MILSTONE SENSATION

TOM BURNS

A Blend of Straight Whiskies

Selected Quality Whiskies

THE EXHILARATING BOUQUET AND DELICACY OF FLAVOR ARE DIRECT RESULTS OF EXPERT SCIENTIFIC BLENDING CAREFULLY SELECTED STRAIGHT WHISKIES. THE EXCELLENT QUALITY AND CHARACTER OF THIS FINE PRODUCT ARE A JOY TO EVEN THE MOST DISCRIMINATING CONNOISSEUR.

86 PROOF

WE RESERVE THE RIGHT TO LIMIT QUANTITIES!

A

$3.50

VALUE

$2.49

Full

Fifth

Gallon

Fri. & Sat. Only

No Deliveries—Cash & Carry—One Price to All

MANHATTAN

AUTO & RADIO CO.

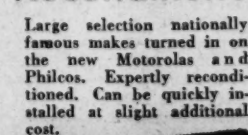

BOTH SIDES OF 7th ST. AT R N.W.

WASHINGTON'S HOME FOR CROSLY CARS

Special Until Sunday 1 P. M.

Reconditioned Auto Radios

$11.95 up

Just Received—

Large Shipment

Brand New—Latest Models

MOTOROLA

AUTO RADIOS

The largest stock available in this area, due to our purchase of the entire stock of a large radio concern. There's a model to fit and match the instrument panel of your car. Export immediate installation by factory-trained experts. TERMS ARRANGED in our own Credit Dept. No outside agencies.

Open Evenings . . . Sundays and Holidays Until 1 P.M.

The Federal Diary

By Jerry Klutetz

Many Agencies Face Payless Payday

Tomorrow is payday in several Federal agencies but the employees may not get any money. Here's the line-up: OFFICE OF PRICE ADMINISTRATION doesn't plan on paying its employees and it's prepared to get out full checks within 48 hours after the war agencies appropriation bill becomes law today. OFFICE OF CIVILIAN DEFENSE will give its employees checks for five days' pay and supplemental checks for the remaining 10 days will be distributed when its money bill becomes the law of the land. NATIONAL LABOR RELATIONS BOARD also plans to pay its employees through June 30, it having received an advance from the President's fund to meet the payroll.

Employees at the Board of Economic Warfare and the Federal Security Agency whose checks were due on Tuesday are still looking for them. Officials in both agencies felt yesterday that Congress would pass the appropriation bills and their funds would be released. It's a costly and time-consuming job to prepare a partial payroll. However, Labor Department and Office of Defense Production will give their employees six days' pay on Tuesday and supplemental checks will be gotten out as soon as the President signs the appropriation bills. Meantime, a welfare fund has been set up in the Federal Security Agency to make short-term noninterest-bearing Federal Workers' local at Social Security yesterday raised $1500 in two hours to supplement the welfare fund. The union also is planning to raise a fund to see through hard-put War Manpower workers. That's the sort of union function that makes friends.

David Karr, who was on the Dies list, has resigned from his job at the Office of War Information. . . . Aubrey Williams is being boomed for the job of acting director at War Manpower to succeed Dr. W. W. Charters whose resignation will be announced soon. He'll spend the next few weeks winding up his cherished National Youth Administration. . . . Incidentally, about $1,500,000 was added to the liquidation money to pay employees for their annual leave. . . . Commerce Department, whose appropriation bill was delayed, paid off just about all its employees yesterday on schedule. . . . It now appears that the proposal for a half day off each week in exchange for an 8-hour and 40-minute work day is bogging down fast. Several top officials who were quietly behind the idea now believe the longer work day would be more inconvenient than the straight 48-hour week.

For Good Government
The House yesterday came through with a thumping vote in favor of good government. It liked the McKellar pay-patronage and pork rider by a slam-bang 260-69 votes. The Senate later approved the bill and sent it to the President. Overnight the Republicans saw the light. Yesterday they refused to follow Representative Taber, New York Republican, who tried his best to put over the vicious and hell-raising rider in the House. Taber barely missed succeeding the day before when the vote was 176 to 170. The GOPers left Taber in the lurch yesterday as they seemed to realize that if the rider were approved the war agencies would be hamstringed and tossed into politics. The McKellar rider would have forced confirmation of an estimated 7600 workers in the war agencies whose salaries are $4600 and more.

The rider would have been retroactive. No employee drawing $4600 and more would have been able to get a cent of pay from July 1 on until he had been confirmed by the Senate. Congress is taking a recess and it would have been weeks and months, perhaps, before action could have been taken. Meantime no appointments could have been made to vacant jobs. Taber wanted to raise the wage ceiling to $5500 and require confirmation of future appointments. This would have been some better but it would have meant sending an engraved invitation to the politicians to dictate war agency policies.

Men are returning from the military service to claim their jobs in the Federal service and their bill of rights was laid down yesterday in an important document issued by the Civil Service Commission. Those honorably discharged and who apply for reemployment are entitled to these benefits (1) shall be reemployed in the same job or to a job to which he had not been promoted if he hadn't been in the armed forces; (2) if his old job doesn't exist, he shall be restored to a position comparable as to seniority, status and pay. War service appointees—persons appointed since March 16, 1942, for the duration of the war and six months thereafter—are entitled to these benefits.

However, the former serviceman who has permanent civil service status will have preference over a war service appointee for the job.

7 District Bills Voted By Senate

Civilian Service Measure One of Three Sent to White House

By Mary Spargo
Post Staff Writer

The Senate late yesterday acted on seven District measures before recessing for the summer, sending three bills previously passed by the House to the President for his signature.

Most important bill in the group authorized the expenditure of $25,000 from the blackout fund for civilian war services in the District. The measure was of special interest because Congress only recently lopped off all national OGD funds for civilian war services. The District Commissioners at first opposed the bill, and later reversed their decision.

Two other bills sent to the White House yesterday were:

1. A joint resolution to allow St. Elizabeths Hospital to use buter substitutes for the duration, when buter cannot be obtained. During more than three months while Congress considered this bill, the hospital was frequently short of buter. More than 7000 patients went without either butter or buter substitutes for 11 days.
2. An act to permit two burials in the Scottish Rite Temple here. This legislation was passed at the request of John H. Cowles, grand commander, who was largely responsible for building the temple, lives there and expressed the desire to rest there ultimately.
The four remaining bills in the group which passed without objection or discussion will have to await House action after recess before they can become law.

They were:
1. A bill to designate the Public Library here as a public depository for governmental publications. Nearly every State in the Union has certain libraries so designated in order that they may not have to pay for Government publications. The District is an exception. Passage of the measure would have saved the library $3000.
2. A bill to provide for the mailing of annual notices to owners of tax-exempt properties in the District. This would give congressional sanction to a present District practice.

3. A bill to provide for annual mailing of tax notices to property owners here. This also is to legalize a present practice.
4. A bill to raise the salary of the Recorder of Deeds here from $6400 to $8000, and that of the superintendent of the National Training School for Girls from $2700 to $3600.

The Senate yesterday confirmed nominations of Thomas D. Quinn and Judge Armond W. Scott as associate judges of the District Municipal Court. Judge Scott is reappointed, while Quinn will succeed Judge Hobart Newman, whose term expires late in August.

Naval Officer's Wife Kills Self; Ill Health Blamed

A certificate of suicide was issued by the coroner yesterday in the fatal shooting of Mrs. Katherine Baldwin, 42, wife of Lieut. Washburn T. Baldwin, U. S. N. Mrs. Baldwin shot herself in the temple at the Baldwin home, No. 9 Matthews Court Northwest, about 2:30 a. m. Her husband found her body when he returned from the Navy Yard where he is attached as a member of the shore patrol.

He was attracted to his wife's body by a note she left warning him not to approach the stairwell "because I have killed myself." A second note complained of ill health and revealed her intention. Dr. A. Magruder MacDonald, coroner, was on the scene and released the body for burial.

Mathews, Draft Dodger, Gets 6 Months to 2 Years in Jail

Joseph L. Mathews, 30, former War Production analyst, was sternly lectured on "the time for patriotism and penitence" yesterday by Justice Daniel O'Donoghue who sentenced him to six months to two years in jail for falsifying information about his wife and dependents in his efforts to evade the draft.

Mathews had pleaded guilty to five charges of violating the Selective Training and Service Act by falsifying information that he was supporting his mother-in-law and his sick wife who, he said, had a baby in January and expected another in October.

Mathews asked mercy of the court, saying he was "penitent" and to prove his motives said he had recently volunteered to serve in the Merchant Marine aboard an oil tanker where the risks were greater than in the Army.

Boy, 4, Starts for New York But District Police Stop Him

WANTED TO SEE NEW YORK—Robert Jelly, 4, son of Lieut. Comdr. and Mrs. Joseph Jelly, decided he wanted to see New York, so he ran away. But he didn't get far before the police became curious about someone so young traveling all by himself and now he's back home.

Robert Jelly, son of Lieut. Comdr. and Mrs. Joseph Jelly, 3545 Sixteenth Street Northwest, yesterday morning decided to go to New York City. Robert is 4 years old. He left the house about 9:30 a. m., and two hours later was picked up at Fifteenth and Massachusetts Avenue Northwest by Officer John Monroe of No. 2 Precinct. Officer Monroe had responded to a call to investigate a little boy who was seen in the Thomas Circle underpass.

Robert was taken to the Women's Bureau, where he was identified by a little tag on a chain about his neck. This he had acquired in Long Beach, Calif., where he lived four months ago. His father came for him in half an hour.

Mrs. Jelly disclosed Robert had no special reason for wanting to go to New York, "just wanted to go because he wanted to go, that's all."

Victory Sidelines Educator Wants to Shift NYA Machinery to D. C. Schools.

Machinery of the Washington NYA Center, valued at $200,000, would find its most valuable use in the District vocational schools, Assistant Superintendent of Schools Lawson J. Cantrell said yesterday. Congress, whose action shut down National Youth Administration activities last week, yesterday heard Chairman Cannon of the House Appropriation Committee explain Federal agencies will have first call on all NYA property in Federal institutions but vocational schools will be able to utilize NYA-owned machinery which is already on their premises.

Local school authorities expressed the hope yesterday they will be able to convince the Procurement Division of the Treasury Department, in whose care the property is, that the need of local vocational schools would justify transfer of valuable machinery from the center at Thirteenth and S Streets Northwest to vocational schools, operated at Abbot, Phelps, McKinley and Armstrong.

About 2000 boys and girls attended vocational classes during last year, it was learned, about the same number which has been trained in the NYA center.

Rodriguez, head of the center, said yesterday he understood the Army and Navy have been seeking the machinery of his shops and no decision has been reached as to its disposal.

Court Dismisses Charge of Cruelty In Horse Mixup

A charge of cruelty to animals against Theodore R. Turner, Negro, was dismissed yesterday by Judge George D. Neilson in Municipal Court after the defendant blamed his troubles on trying to separate a two-horse team.

Turner, scrap collector, told the judge that when his horse became lame on July 25, he rented another from a stable. The horse, he said, was satisfactory for a few blocks, but when it reached the 200 block of T Street Northeast, it refused to pull the wagon. Turner said he then left the scene, finding out later that the horse was part of a two-horse team.

Police testified Turner had poured turpentine on the horse's hindquarters to get it to move. Turner denied this. Police admitted the horse wouldn't do any pulling when they arrived and lightened the wagon. They stated they reached the station house at Twelfth Precinct only after coercing the horse somewhat.

Police testified they then found the horse's teammate and when the horses were hitched together, they trotted back to the stable without any trouble.

Justice O'Donoghue, who had referred the case to the probation office on Wednesday and had before him a full report on the case, replied: "It is too late for penitence now."

The justice reminded Matthews that he had deliberately lied several times to his court when he might have entered the Army at that time, but now that he was faced with jail, he was pleading patriotism. The justice said that millions of other men were risking the loss of limbs and life while Matthews sat at home in a responsible Government position.

Justice O'Donoghue concluded by stating that should other men adopt such tactics, the country might cease to exist, and that no matter what the risks to the individual, the laws of the Nation must be obeyed.

John L. Ingoldis, assistant U. S. attorney, prosecuted the case.

23 Drivers Penalized In Crackdown

34 'Pleasure' Cases Heard in Independence Day Backwash

The crackdown came last night in the accelerated campaign by the OPA in Washington against violators of the pleasure driving ban. A, B, and C gasoline coupons forfeited by 23 holders represented more than 500 gallons of gasoline, when 34 cases were heard by the OPA special panel board at the Force School building, 1740 Massachusetts Avenue.

In the backwash of Independence Day, holiday driving in which more than 500 alleged pleasure drivers were reported to the District OPA, cases heard and acted upon by the board exceeded any session yet held, both in number of penalties and severity of forfeitures as well as the number of cases.

It was the fifth session of the board at the Force School and the third week of its functioning.

Frederick Stohlman, who had served as chairman the previous four sessions, was absent due to the death of his father. John C. Conliff, Jr., acted in Chairman Stohlman's absence.

The first appeal from the special panel's ruling was indicated when H. G. Curry, an employee of the Chrysler Airtemp Sales Corp., declared he intended to take up the matter with his OPA board. Curry was penalized two weeks' "fleet" ration stamps for his car, when an OPA investigator said he was found in Rock Creek Park. Curry said he lives on his way to his place of business.

Had No Ration Book

Anna P. Kelley, 118 Adams Street Northwest, who had owned an automobile for three weeks and did not have a gasoline ration book, according to testimony, was given a two months' suspension by the board. She did not appear at the hearing.

Three months' suspension of A book rations for possession of loose coupons was asked by John E. Laskey, OPA attorney, when it was brought out that Wallace Logan had been given the tickets by a cousin, "in case he needed them."

Logan admitted having the coupons, but said that the automobile he was driving belonged to his brother, Russell, with whom he lived at 1408 Staples Street Northeast.

"This is a misdemeanor," Laskey said, "and this practice strikes right at the heart of the thing we are going to put a stop to. You could be tried in Police Court, but it was thought advisable to take care of the matter before the board."

The board suspended A-coupons for Russell Logan for six weeks, the sentence to begin July 22, when No. 6 A coupons become valid.

Dr. T. D. Webb, prominent Capital physician, admitted that he had parked his automobile in a backyard and went to a golf course with friends.

"I had a hard day," Dr. Webb said, "and I did have a call to make but that wasn't the whole thing. I needed a little recreation."

He was forced to forfeit his C ration book, and directed to report to his local board for whatever necessary gasoline he would need in the interim.

Other penalties varied from one to four coupons in both A and C books.

Others Penalized
Others assessed penalties include James Henry Johnson, 2351 Sherman Avenue, suspended book until July 22; William Law, 524 Raleigh Street Southeast, two A; Edward O. Meister, 2215 Minnesota Avenue Southeast, six weeks A and six weeks B; Frank R. Kay, 701 Seventh Street Northeast, four A; Walter M. Moore, 1207 Eleventh Street Northwest, two A and two B; James B. Beall, 2677 Rhode Island Avenue Northeast, two A and two B; Francis W. Struthers, 2150 Pennsylvania Avenue, two A and two B; Norman Baker, 214 Eighth Street Southeast, two A.

And Joseph E. Aronoff, 647 E Street Northeast, one A coupon; Harry Rubin, 2 A; William Cramer, 6314 Utah Avenue Northwest, 2 A and 2 week's C; Carlin Poland, Naval Hospital, three A coupons and 1317 P Street Northwest, suspended A Book; Ernest Mounzon, 431 First Street Northwest, one A; Theodore Noun, two A; Eugene McCune, two A; Nick Carosella, loss of C Book for one week; Mrs. Walter Gallagher, 5053 Sedgwick Street Northwest, one week possession of ration book; Egor Shlopak, one A Coupon.

Maritime Union Favors Sedition Charge for Lewis

New York, July 8 (AP)—The National Maritime Union (C. I. O.) at its fourth constitutional convention adopted a resolution today which called upon the Attorney General to invoke the sedition laws against John L. Lewis, described in the resolution as "an enemy promoting a program designed to destroy the American way of life."

Judges Stress Opportunity For Beauty in Vegetables

An Italian influence prevails at Pasquale de Rocco's Victory garden at the rear of his home, 902 Irving Street Northeast.

Today's ideal garden may not contain the necessities for a poet's pen, but it can look just as attractive as the most flower-bed-decked and vine-creeping showplace of peacetime, says J. Morton Franklin, victory garden supervisor.

Franklin said this after looking at some of the 25,000 gardens located within city limits.

He says an ideal wartime garden should provide a varied diet, and at the same time produce vegetables of high dietary content. Salad, boiling vegetables and leafy green vegetables can all be produced in an area no larger than a small kitchen, and such kitchen gardens are being produced all over the District, he said yesterday.

But calories aside and unimportant as it may seem to food administrators, good victory gardens also are good looking, Franklin said.

Proof is in the planting that he and a crew of judges discovered in 38 of 64 communities where gardeners will be judged after final inspections in September.

Each outstanding example of good gardening and well selected vegetables also was found to be decorative.

Mrs. Charles S. Resser, 2805 Thirty-fifth Street Northwest, has mixed vegetables with her formal flower and rock garden. Vegetables make excellent rock garden decorations, according to Franklin. Radishes, lettuce, red or green-topped beets, small fruited tomatoes and parsley for good eating can challenge any flower that only stands and waits in a pulchritude contest.

Two small gardens which concentrate on vegetables alone to larder their tables and beautify their homes are H. W. Barber's, 1407 Kennedy Street Northwest, and Ruth and Lina White's, 53 Michigan Avenue Northwest.

Tastes carried over from the old country add to the beauty and variety of the P. de Rocco family's plot at 902 Irving Street Northeast, which boasts fig trees, grape vines and herbs among its vegetables.

And J. R. Comar's handwork at 24 Hamilton Street Northwest is also a thing of utilitarian beauty, says the victory garden office.

Meridian Hill Park, always an ideal spot for holding hands, is even better these summer weeks for the Post-sponsored Starlight Concerts, heard every Saturday and Sunday evening, add open-air music to the romantic beauty of the park.

In spite of its accessibility (Meridian Hill is in the heart of the Northwest residential section, close to both bus and streetcar lines) Washington's loveliest park seems to be the best place to hold the town. High above Sixteenth Street, with trees and foliage closing it away from street sounds, it seems as far from metropolitan tumult and crowds as if it were actually miles out of the city.

The Starlight Concerts are played in the lower part of the park, where the broad fountain-filled plaza, just below the great cascades, accommodates two thousand people. But the music can be heard also in the upper section, with its many winding walks, its stately arches of trees and shrubs. The National Capital Parks Service, through whose cooperation these concerts are given, has arranged standing room for all who are unable to obtain seats.

Tomorrow night's program will be as follows:
Suite in D. . . . George Friedrich Handel.
For flute, cello, and two harps.
La Guiltarde . . . Jean Philippe Rameau.
Clair de Lune . . . Claude Debussy.
Spinning Wheel . . . Felix Mendelssohn-Bartholdy.
Elegie . . . Gabriel Faure.
For cello.
Adagio and Allegro . . . Francois Francoeur.
For cello.
Introduction and Allegro . . . Maurice Ravel.
For harp and piano.
INTERMISSION
Menuet and Air from "Orpheus" . . . von Gluck.
For flute.
Menuet . . . Jean Marie Leclair.
For flute.
Andante . . . Scherzo . . . Louis Ganne.
For flute.
Scintillation . . . Carlos Salzedo.
Children's Corner . . . Claude Debussy.
For two harps, flute and cello.

Restaurant Price Freeze Likely Soon

Spokesman of OPA Predicts Ceilings Will Be Set for D. C. And Other Places

Freezing of all restaurant food and drink prices within the near future in Washington and the entire OPA region of which it is a part was predicted yesterday by a spokesman for the price division in New York City, as reported by the Associated Press.

Local OPA officials, however, had no knowledge of such a move and declared that Director Robert K. Thompson late yesterday afternoon had received no announcement from the regional office to this effect.

"An order regarding restaurant prices is in process," the Associated Press quoted the regional spokesman as saying. "The entire situation is under study with the cooperation of the trade and, when issued, a regulation will come from this regional office. Action is expected shortly. It is expected the order will freeze prices of all food and drink at the levels charged between April 4 and 10 by individual sellers."

It was during that week that all restaurants here filed their menus with the OPA. Ever since, price regulations for eating establishments have been under consideration by Thompson, it was said yesterday. No comment on their progress was available yesterday from the OPA office but the local spokesman declined to say what they were.

An advisory committee of representatives of restaurant and hotel operators has been meeting with Thompson and is scheduled to see him again. No comment on their progress was available yesterday from the OPA office but the Washington Restaurant Association.

A recent survey of food prices in 50 eating establishments of all kinds by the United Federal Workers of America, C. I. O., alleges huge increases of profits by local restaurant operators.

Increased labor and commodity prices considered, a union spokesman declared that profits of 15 per cent were found here, compared with a profit rate of 4 1/2 per cent between the months of February to April last year.

In the meantime, Robert Wilson, of the Washington Restaurant Association, said yesterday that the 20 per cent increase in coffee rations for restaurants will result in a better cup of coffee but will not allow a discontinuance of most restaurants' restrictions of one cup per customer.

Workers Deferred

Male District of Columbia restaurant and cafe workers were reassured yesterday by the announcement of William Leahy, head of the Selective Service system, who told Robert J. Wilson, executive secretary of the Washington Restaurant Association, that local "key activity" workers would get the same consideration in draft deferment as those in national industry.

Hotels, restaurants and cafes were ruled an essential activity in the District more than six weeks ago by the WMC area office.

In a conference Wednesday with Fred Hetzel, WMC area director, Wilson said that many workers in his industry had been leaving their jobs due to a widespread misunderstanding that restaurant workers were in a nondeferable occupation.

It was the first meeting between the restaurant group and local WMC officials.

"There is a shortage in the Capital of restaurant and cafe managers, chefs, bakers, cooks and accountants," Hetzel said. "They are considered skilled workers, and it is necessary that their status be defined."

Further discussion of the local manpower situation in this activity will be held in a second session between Restaurant Association representatives and the WMC "early next week," Hetzel said.

Rep. Evan Howell Elected Head of Illinois Society

Representative Evan Howell (Republican) succeeded Representative C. W. Bishop (Republican) as president of the Illinois State Society last night at the annual election-dinner held at Palisades Park.

Other officers are, vice president, Mrs. Walter Bastedo; second vice president, John DeLaMater; third vice president, Robert E. Kennedy; fourth vice president, Laura Hanson; secretary-treasurer, Mrs. Pauline Randol; historian, Elsie Green. Representative Howell's first official act was to appoint his secretary, Charles L. Allison, as publicity chairman.

Dancing, music and games complemented the basket-supper for which each of the 70 persons attending brought his own food.

Acme MARKETS

BITTER'S TOMATO JUICE
1/2 gal. 27¢
5 pts.

Red Stamps P and Q are Now Valid

SKINNED SMOKED HAMS

Whole Ham 7 lbs 35¢
Butt Ends: 7 pts 34¢
Shank Half: 5 pts 33¢

FRESH PORK SHOULDERS
6 Pts lb 29¢

GRADE A SLICED BACON 8 lbs 41¢
Ham, Veal or Pimento 6 lbs 33¢
BOLOGNA

LEAN BOILED HAM 11 lbs 38¢

PORK LIVER STRIP BACON 4 lbs 22¢
BY THE PICE 7 lbs 31¢

College Inn Tomato Juice 25-oz bot 18¢
Grapefruit Juice 46-oz can 29¢
Tomato Soup 10-oz cans 22¢
Rob-Ford String Beans 16-oz jar 15¢
V-8 Vegetable Cocktail 16-oz can 14¢
Choice Tomatoes No 21 can 14¢
Delicious Bartlett Pears 25-oz can 25¢

Gold Medal Flour 5 lb bag 31¢
Wheaties pks 10¢

Farmdale Milk 6 tall cans 55¢
1 point per can

SWIFT'S PREM 12-oz can 31¢
Handy Meat

CLAPP'S 12-oz can 52¢ Strained Foods can 7¢ 1 pt.
Chopped Foods can 9¢ 2 pts.

Fresh Vegetables and Fruit at Acme Savings

HOME GROWN Tomatoes 15¢ lb

Calif. Iceberg Lettuce 15¢ hd

U. S. No. 1 Quality White Potatoes 10 lbs 33¢

Fancy Western Carrots 2 bchs 15¢
Local Green Cabbage lb 6¢
Large Local Cucumbers ea 6¢

HILEY BELLE FREESTONE PEACHES 2 lbs 29¢

ASCO COFFEE 10 24¢
Acme Coffee 1b 28¢
Use Stamp No. 21

Pure Lard 4 pts 17¢
Dinner Bell 4 pts 41¢
MARGARINE 2 lbs 22¢
Auro Veg. 4 pts 22¢
OLEO 1b pkg

Pabst-ott 18¢
Cheese Spreads 3 pts.
KARO 15¢
Blue Label SYRUP 15¢
Golden Crown TABLE SYRUP 16¢

ENRICHED SUPREME BREAD 24-oz loaf 10¢
Enriched Victor Bread 1-lb loaf 7¢

KIRKMAN BORAX SOAP 3 bars 14¢
Soap Powder 5¢
Cleanser 5¢
Soap Chips 23¢
Soap Flakes 24¢

Black Flag Insecticide 6-oz can 9¢
16-oz can 21¢
Woodbury's Facial Soap 3 cakes 23¢

Hudson Ultra-Soft Toilet Tissue 4 sheets 19¢

Acme Markets

Your Figure, Madame!

By Ida Jean Kain

It's a good thing to know when you are tired. After a certain stage of fatigue, you don't always recognize the signs that you are due for a rest. Here some of them are: Irritability, the tendency to make frequent mistakes, the loss of your usual mental grip, a jaded expression, a sallow complexion and wandering, lack-luster eyes.

How about it? Are you showing signs of the wear and tear? If you are, rest before you are forced to. If you think you can keep going and put out your best work, you are only fooling yourself—and you won't be able to keep that up.

The interest you take in your work is a big factor in your immunity to fatigue. A tough job that is interesting or exacting is one you won't tire you as quickly as some easy task that you find monotonous. Not only do you have to make more physical and mental effort to do work that bores you, but boredom is a bottleneck in production. It slows up your output.

When I talked this over with the personnel director at one of our vital war plants she told me her main concern was to keep women interested in the simple, routine jobs in which they did the same thing over and over. The solution there was to shift this particular group around from one department to another so that there was always something new to be learned and some fresh challenge offered.

Then, too, the women thought of themselves as handling hum-drum bolts and screws and metal strips. Every piece of metal or plastic they touch is to be part of a plane that will have a victory to win.

Interest figures so importantly in both fatigue and recuperation from it that wherever possible industries are sponsoring active, competitive sports. There is an exhilaration to games you don't get from solitary callisthenics. If your organization doesn't have group activities of this kind, you can find your own group—a Y. W. C. A. class, or a hiking or bicycling club—for the outlet you need.

But for day-in, day-out conditioning, a set of callisthenics is the answer. This set should be a complete change from the work you have been doing. It should not make you more tired. It should really rest you.

If you are on the run eight hours a day, lie down on the floor with your feet elevated on a couple of pillows or a low stool. When you are too tired to move, just lie in that position. You'll soon feel like exercising. Stretch your arms straight out at the sides in line with the shoulders, press your entire back flat against the floor, and swing one leg straight up from the hip, and over to touch the opposite hand. Back down, then up and over with the other leg. That is the kind of exercise that will do you the most good.

If you sit at your job, you may feel like starting off with a rest, too. Fold up on the floor with your hips resting on your heels, and your forehead on your folded arms, just in front of your knees. A few minutes of that and you'll be ready to romp through a vigorous workout. Two or three minutes with a skip rope will wake up your circulation. And you'll want some stretches and side bends for your waistline, and a few high kicks from the hips for the hips.

Rest doesn't mean doing nothing. It means a change from what you have been doing. Make your exercise program supply that change and you'll have more energy.

Girls in War Jobs of Today Just Follow Mothers' Lead

By Genevieve Reynolds

From the strutting of girls in war jobs today, you'd think they had invaded a brand new field. Not so. There are few trades now open that our mothers didn't follow in World War I. Mamma welded, ran street cars, elevators—in baggy bloomers' daughter simply has changed to slacks.

Genevieve Reynolds

Newest job openings growing out of World War II are the creations of the WAACS, WAVES and SPARS, and Women's Marine Service. Farmerettes, women lathe workers, painters, munition plant operatives were plentiful back in World War I.

Perusal of booklets and bulletins in the Women's Bureau, United States Labor Department, now celebrating its 25th anniversary, reveals a long list of occupations in which women were substituted for men from 1914 through 1918. Here are a few: Making chemical analyses of steel; operating cranes, loading limestone on cars at blast furnaces and steel works; smelting and refining brass and copper; cannon and cannon mount manufacture; high explosive or shrapnel shell manufacture; machine-gun and rifle manufacture; torpedo manufacture; acetylene welding.

"In the wartime crisis women's industrial employment took two new and definite paths," explained Miss Mary Anderson, director of the women's bureau. "First, into the war and munitions industries, where high wages were being paid and where a greater degree of skill was required, went large numbers of women already trained in industry throughout the war (World War I) employers testified to the greater value of women with previous experience in factories. Second, as the drafts took more men to the front, another class of women went into the old woman-employing manufactures; of these women many previously had been at work in agriculture, in domestic or personal service, though many never had worked for pay before."

Not only were more factory jobs opened to women then but thousands became nurses, at home and overseas. The number of women telegraph operators doubled. Entrance of women into office work as stenographers, typists, clerks, bookkeepers, cashiers was spectacular—their number increased more than 900,000.

It was not an unusual sight to see women wearing overalls and trammies' caps. Many worked in the round houses and repair shops. Some were employed as gatewomen, as section women and others.

Warfare services largely were manned by women in World War I, as in World War II. For example, in the Red Cross you found women in canteen services, in home service and in the recreation huts for convalescent soldiers—both in France and in this country. From the Y. W. C. A. went women into but work with the soldiers in training camps and overseas locations. It's a familiar story that women as well as men of the Salvation Army served at the front, usually distributing the famed Salvation Army doughnuts. As for warfare work in general—it's about the same type now as in World War I. Chief differences are in technique—and there's more of it.

Kill Mosquitoes
Spray room with Bee Brand Insect Spray. 15 minutes later, swat them up. Kills flies, bed bugs, too. Sorry, our Bee Brand Insect Powder is not for sale.

Putnam Electric Power Company
WITH WORN OUT BRUSHES DON'T GO FUSSIN'. YOU'LL ONLY END UP MAD AND CUSSIN'. WHEN BRUSHES WEAR, JUST SIMPLY REPLACE 'EM. AND DUST AND DIRT—YOU SOON WILL CHASE 'EM.

Low in Red Points—
High in Nutrition!
A Big Bargain!

Broiled or Fried... Star Liver Sausage
Makes Wonderful Quick Hot Dinners

Here's liver at its best! Star Liver Sausage... mild and delicate of flavor... smooth, rich and deliciously spread! Made of choice liver, carefully seasoned. When you want to enjoy the best in liver sausage... always ask for Armour's STAR.

Double reason for serving it often! First, because liver is especially rich in vitamins. The tastiest way to get vitamins A, B, D, and G... minerals such as phosphorus, iron and copper... and of course, high quality proteins.

And second, liver sausage costs you so little per serving in red points. Serve it often! And serve it hot! Broiled or Fried, Star Liver Sausage makes fine, easy and quick-to-fix hot dinners! Be sure to use the delicious hot sausage dish recipe given here.

Armour's STAR Sausages and Luncheon Meats
Made fresh daily in WASHINGTON

Your Baby and Mine

By Myrtle Meyer Eldred

Every mother discovers if she puts the active child in his high chair and leaves him alone he shortly becomes a menace to his own safety.

He prefers to stand up during his feeding and if she steps out of the room, he will as quickly step out of his chair. When he is put in his toddy chair, unless fastened in, he won't sit down or stay there long enough to be successful. In fact there are plenty of situations in the child's busy day when fasteners of one kind or another have to be used to keep his mind on the task at hand.

Most fasteners should be used when the child is so young he takes them for granted. The small child gets so used to the tiny harness which comes with some feeding chairs that he lifts his arms for their adjustment when he sits down. He is free to move about but not to get in and out of the chair.

If there is no harness attachment which can be used in high chair or carriage, use an ordinary tea towel around the baby's body underneath the arms. This is wide and soft and can be tied back of the high chair so there is no pressure on the stomach. It will prevent his slipping out of the chair or standing up and causing every- one acute discomfort and subjecting himself to possible peril.

When the child is old enough to climb over the edge of the crib, put the crib sides down and give him that privilege. But this does not mean he may run out of his room at will. There should be a Dutch door bottom closed and top open or a gate, well fastened or even tied, so he may have plenty of freedom within his room, but is there where he is safe.

Children so treated do jump in and out of bed many times before they get in for naps or bedtime, but if they are told to climb in bed when they are ready to go to sleep, they do, without even calling for attention.

Mothers have to be realistic. Children need some restraint during those years between about 16 months and 2½ years when they prefer activity to eating or sleeping and yet cannot protect themselves from the results of their perpetual motion.

Every child must understand that within limits he has freedom to run around his room, or out of his bed, but not to roam the whole house when it is time for bed. When it is mealtime he must sit down until he is through.

The freedom he would have without some such restraint would be only the freedom to stand up and be nagged and scolded and punished by an irate parent. The parents' nerves would be made raw by her anxiety the child might fall out of the chair, as well as her anxiety to get his food into him.

ment which can be used in high chair or carriage, use an ordinary tea towel around the baby's body underneath the arms. This is wide and soft and can be tied back of the high chair so there is no pressure on the stomach. It will prevent his slipping out of the chair or standing up and causing every- one acute discomfort and subjecting himself to possible peril.

When the child is old enough to climb over the edge of the crib, put the crib sides down and give him that privilege. But this does not mean he may run out of his room at will. There should be a Dutch door bottom closed and top open or a gate, well fastened or even tied, so he may have plenty of freedom within his room, but is there where he is safe.

Children so treated do jump in and out of bed many times before they get in for naps or bedtime, but if they are told to climb in bed when they are ready to go to sleep, they do, without even calling for attention.

Mothers have to be realistic. Children need some restraint during those years between about 16 months and 2½ years when they prefer activity to eating or sleeping and yet cannot protect themselves from the results of their perpetual motion.

Every child must understand that within limits he has freedom to run around his room, or out of his bed, but not to roam the whole house when it is time for bed. When it is mealtime he must sit down until he is through.

The freedom he would have without some such restraint would be only the freedom to stand up and be nagged and scolded and punished by an irate parent. The parents' nerves would be made raw by her anxiety the child might fall out of the chair, as well as her anxiety to get his food into him.

ment which can be used in high chair or carriage, use an ordinary tea towel around the baby's body underneath the arms. This is wide and soft and can be tied back of the high chair so there is no pressure on the stomach. It will prevent his slipping out of the chair or standing up and causing every- one acute discomfort and subjecting himself to possible peril.

When the child is old enough to climb over the edge of the crib, put the crib sides down and give him that privilege. But this does not mean he may run out of his room at will. There should be a Dutch door bottom closed and top open or a gate, well fastened or even tied, so he may have plenty of freedom within his room, but is there where he is safe.

ment which can be used in high chair or carriage, use an ordinary tea towel around the baby's body underneath the arms. This is wide and soft and can be tied back of the high chair so there is no pressure on the stomach. It will prevent his slipping out of the chair or standing up and causing every- one acute discomfort and subjecting himself to possible peril.

When the child is old enough to climb over the edge of the crib, put the crib sides down and give him that privilege. But this does not mean he may run out of his room at will. There should be a Dutch door bottom closed and top open or a gate, well fastened or even tied, so he may have plenty of freedom within his room, but is there where he is safe.

Children so treated do jump in and out of bed many times before they get in for naps or bedtime, but if they are told to climb in bed when they are ready to go to sleep, they do, without even calling for attention.

Mothers have to be realistic. Children need some restraint during those years between about 16 months and 2½ years when they prefer activity to eating or sleeping and yet cannot protect themselves from the results of their perpetual motion.

Every child must understand that within limits he has freedom to run around his room, or out of his bed, but not to roam the whole house when it is time for bed. When it is mealtime he must sit down until he is through.

The freedom he would have without some such restraint would be only the freedom to stand up and be nagged and scolded and punished by an irate parent. The parents' nerves would be made raw by her anxiety the child might fall out of the chair, as well as her anxiety to get his food into him.

ment which can be used in high chair or carriage, use an ordinary tea towel around the baby's body underneath the arms. This is wide and soft and can be tied back of the high chair so there is no pressure on the stomach. It will prevent his slipping out of the chair or standing up and causing every- one acute discomfort and subjecting himself to possible peril.

When the child is old enough to climb over the edge of the crib, put the crib sides down and give him that privilege. But this does not mean he may run out of his room at will. There should be a Dutch door bottom closed and top open or a gate, well fastened or even tied, so he may have plenty of freedom within his room, but is there where he is safe.

DGS DISTRICT GROCERY STORES
Red Ripe, Fresh TOMATOES 21¢
NEW GREEN CABBAGE 2 lbs. 13¢
CRISP ICEBERG LETTUCE 2 heads 29¢
California Burbank POTATOES 5 lbs. 27¢

Stokely's Finest
TOMATO JUICE 2 No. 2 cans 19¢
SLICED BEETS 2 No. 2 cans 19¢
Scumdown CAKE FLOUR 2 2 1/2-lb. pkgs. 27¢
Widmer's Pure GRAPE JUICE 3 Pts. Bot. 29¢
Stokely's Finest APRICOT HALVES 21 Pts. No. 2 1/2 cans 27¢
Apple Pie Ridge Pure CIDER VINEGAR 24-oz. bot. 10¢

SPRY SHORTENING 1b. jar 26¢
5 POINTS

BOND BREAD
Is Vitamin-Enriched for Better Health

Kraft's Miracle Whip SALAD DRESSING pint jar 25¢

NOT RATIONED Van Camp's Tenderoni 2 6-oz. pkgs. 17¢

Kills 'Em Quick! Bee Brand ROACH KILLER 9¢ 1/2 size 23¢

CHESTNUT FARMS Sealtest MILK
RETURN EMPTY BOTTLES PROMPTLY AND HELP SAVE VITAL MATERIALS

Summer Poses Variety of Beauty Problems

By Margaret George

Go ahead. Doll yourself up in summer sheer, put flowers in your hair, spray yourself with perfume. It won't do you a bit of good if you've got "summer shag."

What's that? That's our way of saying about the downy look of arms and legs. "Downy" is a mild word and not so vulgar-sounding as "hairy"—but that's what we mean.

It's a double problem in the summer because exposure does make for heavier growth, and you can't get away with it as you can under winter's protecting sleeves and stockings. It's a nuisance, but how'd you like to have a date with a three-day bearded soldier?

A great many women, rushed for time (as who is not these days?) find the old-fashioned razor method the quickest. It's certainly simpler than the depilatories you can buy, and the wax treatments offered by the beauty salons. It does the job, certainly, for a little while, but it's the lazy way out.

The wax treatment is about the best answer, outside of electrolysis, for a clean and thorough-going job. It keeps the growth down longer. You might start that way and follow-up on your own book with one of those abrasive disks (get them at any drug counter). They're effective if you use them right (rotating briskly over the surface) and regularly.

A 10-cent pumice stone is an equally good idea. Keep it sitting on the side of your bathtub for a reminder. Every time you bathe rub it over your arms and legs (around and around as you do the abrasives.) That'll keep the down down.

The Fijis or the Hottentots might not think superfluous hair was anything to get excited about. But they're a different people. It looks masculine to us. And women aren't supposed to look that way, in our society, even if they are doing men's jobs.

Ration Points

PRODUCTION OF FOOD DEHYDRATORS for use in preserving fruits and vegetables in the home has been approved by WPB. It is expected that 100,000 of them will soon be manufactured.

Ration Deadlines

COFFEE—Coupon 21, Book 1, valid through July 21. Coupon 22 becomes valid July 22 and remains good through August 11.

SUGAR—Coupon 13, Book 1, good for 5 pounds through August 15. Stamps 15 and 16, good for 5 pounds each for canning purposes, valid through October 31.

MEATS—Canned milk, butter, margarine, lard, fats and oils, cheese and canned fish—Red Coupons P and Q, Book 2, good through July 31. Coupon R becomes valid Sunday and is good through July 31.

CANNED FRUITS—Canned vegetables, soups, fruits and vegetable juices, frozen foods, baby foods, catsup, dried beans (except soybeans and other processed foods)—Blue Coupons N, P, Q, good through August 7.

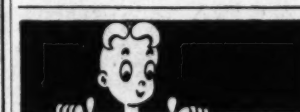

FUEL OIL—Coupon 5, good for 10 gallons until September 30.

GASOLINE—Coupon 5-A, good for 3 gallons, but must last through July 22. Coupons B and C good for 2½ gallons each, expire according to date indicated in individual books.

SHOES—Coupon 18, Book 1, valid through October 1.

Chase Food Odors

Baking soda counteracts food odors, and if added to the rinse water, will leave your refrigerator "sweet."

FOR EXTRA ENERGY

Serve this delicious food often

KRUMM'S

SPAGHETTINI

KRUMM'S

Spaghetti

SPAGHETTINI

SPAGHETTINI

SPAGHETTINI

SPAGHETTINI

SPAGHETTINI

SPAGHETTINI

SPAGHETTINI

SPAGHETTINI

SPAGHETTINI

SPAGHETTINI

SPAGHETTINI

SPAGHETTINI

SPAGHETTINI

SPAGHETTINI

SPAGHETTINI

SPAGHETTINI

SPAGHETTINI

SPAGHETTINI

SPAGHETTINI

SPAGHETTINI

SPAGHETTINI

SPAGHETTINI

SPAGHETTINI

SPAGHETTINI

SPAGHETTINI

SPAGHETTINI

SPAGHETTINI

SPAGHETTINI

SPAGHETTINI

SPAGHETTINI

SPAGHETTINI

SPAGHETTINI

SPAGHETTINI

SPAGHETTINI

SPAGHETTINI

SPAGHETTINI

SPAGHETTINI

SPAGHETTINI

SPAGHETTINI

SPAGHETTINI

SPAGHETTINI

SPAGHETTINI

SPAGHETTINI

SPAGHETTINI

Mary Haworth's Mail

Parted for One Year by Husband's Wild Jealousy Of Wife's Ardent Literary Crush on Poet Friend, Couple Reunite; and Husband Goes Woman-Crazy

DEAR MARY HAWORTH: This letter is written in an attempt to bring a man to his senses,—before he alienates his wife and his children also, whom he loves. It concerns a resident Army officer who spends most of his spare time and gasoline, pleasure driving in the company of office girls. Since a mutual friend works with him I know of the dances he attends; and the parties given in the girls' apartments. He deliberately flaunts his misconduct in his wife's face, saying he is justified because several years ago she "wrecked" their marriage.

This is only partially true. They are now, and have been since marriage, physically compatible;—in fact, remarkably harmonious in that regard. But their relations have never been above the animal level. Some years ago, she met an artist—a friend of her husband's,—a man who writes poetry and lives in a world of music and esthetic culture. This man fell in love with her and a strictly platonic relationship developed. (The wife I shall call Ann; the husband Bill; and the friend Charles.) This fairly innocuous triangle might have lasted a lifetime, without harming anyone, if Bill hadn't found a great notebook of Ann's poetry,—ardent and, in Bill's eyes, damning,—which blossomed from her intellectual "romance" with Charles.

To Bill, who does not understand the poetic license of lyric language, these expressions of "make-believe" could only be interpreted in physical terms. He rushed to Charles' rooms, and Charles affirmed his love for Ann,—and also his desire to marry her! This was his stand, although their love was platonic and still is. The result was that Bill and Ann parted, after a volcanic scene,—both in tears. She took the children to a relative in New England; and embarked on a very successful artistic venture. At the height of her success, Bill wrote Ann (after a year's separation) and persuaded her to return to him, bringing the children. He promised to forgive and forget; saying they would "start over again."

Blames His Misconduct On Wife's "Betrayal"

In all good faith, and with the determination to undo the harm she had done, Ann returned. They came to Washington. Bill forgave, but he did not forget. Even after a day of laughter and companionship with Ann, he will awaken next morning seething with jealous fury,—because he dreamed of Charles! Ann, having long since realized the foolishness of her "make-believe" exchange with Charles, has completely severed her friendship with him. You might think that Bill's behavior would drive Ann and Charles into each other's arms,—but Ann is mature enough to see her error, and remain true to her vow to atone her fault.

After his "party" nights, Bill's children have awakened their daddy to find traces of lipstick. He tells Ann that when the children grow up, he will tell them how she broke up their home, and they will condemn her and condone his flirtations. In spite of his ardent behavior toward her, he speaks continually of "MY children," and "MY home," and "the Pearl Harbor of our love." The government girls upon whom he spends his time and money are "sympathetic" and "appreciate" him; but they do not know that Ann and Bill have always been physically compatible and that they are being used as vengeance for past folly of a comparatively innocent nature. Ann's was a foolish sin; Bill's is crass and malicious. He lives in a spirit of revenge and self pity.

Is it possible for this man to grow up? Has he ever known forgiveness,—if he cannot forget? If it is "Christian" to forgive a brother seven-times-seven in the course of a day, should not Bill freely forgive his wife a long-since-buried past? S. C.

DEAR S. C.: In my opinion, this chap Bill is only about two jumps ahead of being a sexual psychopath,—or maybe that is a lenient estimate. Maybe he is fully afflicted.

His morbid persecution of Ann smacks of sadism;—and his excuse for licentiousness is thin indeed. Also, of course, he suffers visibly from pernicious feelings of inferiority to civilized men. One of Bill's biggest handicaps to "forgiving" Ann,—aside from his general sickness of soul,—is his guilty secret conviction that he isn't fit to latch her shoes; that, as the saying goes, she's "much too good for him." And always has been. And his ferocious "to-do" directed at Charles,—or Ann's hapless poetic flyer with him,—simply exposes Bill's uneasy though dim awareness of this "finer side" of Ann's nature, which he is brutally unable to share; and his mean, hotly possessive fear that some other man who "speaks her language" might, through appealing to and making answer to that aspect of her personality, win her completely away from him.

Bill's assumption that Ann's fantasy-romance with Charles made her a "scarlet woman," and therefore a proper subject for either his forgiveness or his chastisement, is absolutely preposterous. That assumption, at once ludicrous and evil, is the fgment of a half-crazed imagination. Rightly understood, her high-flown ardent intellectual exchange with Charles was precipitated by Bill himself. In exploiting her love on a strictly animal level, thus tacitly screening out of their relationship any possibility of Ann's mind and spirit finding release and satisfaction in communion with him,—he forced her unconsciously to make a choice: a choice between sinking (or spiritually dying) to his dead level of sensuality, or desperately reaching outside their relationship for a compensatory and reviving draught of esthetic comprehension.

Post-Reunion Depravity Is a "Crying Shame"

Is definitely to Ann's credit, I think, that the grossness of Bill's nature had not yet "dragged her down,"—at a time when she could still find escape from his sultanic sensual oppression, on the wings of poetic fancy, in a school-girl platonic "crush" on Charles, inspired by his soaring esthetic ideologies. I think Bill's post-reunion behavior is the real "crying shame" of the whole melodrama. It amounts to (1) deliberately "dragging" Ann down; and (2) viciously trampling her around. On the one hand, he is her ardent lover; and on the other hand, he goes out of his way to mock and degrade that intimacy,—by playing the part of flagrantly promiscuous, cynical debauchee. In other words (his performance implies) his "loverlike" attentions to her are the coarsest insult: putting her on a par (in his scheme of things) with the casual trollops who are his alternate partners. This infamous conduct has a dual motivation. It is revenge (as torturing as he can devise) inflicted upon her for being "a cut above him," in evolution; and it is a hideously twisted neurotic attempt to disclaim or disprove his actual helpless enslavement to her.

As to whether it is possible for him to outgrow his nasty neurosis,—undoubtedly he could make headway, if he really wanted to, and seriously tried. He is in a very bad way. He is unfit to be custodian or companion to his children, and a degenerate influence upon his wife,—in his present state. In my opinion, Ann ought to leave him,—at once, and take the children. The domestic climate as described is dangerously unhealthy, unspeakably sordid, calculated to ravage and perniciously sicken all healthy minds indefinitely exposed to it. If Ann's mind weren't already badly infected with the poison virus of his "wrong thinking," she never would have tolerated his infamous behavior, in the name of penitence, thus long.

Ann's meekness in this regard gives alarming evidence that Bill is succeeding, by degrees, in "dragging her down" to the low level of psychic subjugation to him. To avoid that spiritual suicide, that treachery to reason and decency, that weak betrayal of her children's need of sane guidance and right example, she should,—she MUST,—call an end to her part in this ghoulish melodrama of repentance-in-hell for a venial fault of sentimental extravagance. Bill's "forgiveness," in his present state of mind, isn't worth having or discussing. The shoe is on the other foot. The real question is: How, if he lived to be a thousand, and reformed immediately, could Bill ever make amends to Ann for his diabolic defilement of her gentle spirit? M. H.

Miss Haworth will be glad to help you in solving your problems. Write her in care of The Post Woman's Page.

The Gentler Sex

By Melvina Lindsay

It Could Happen Again

(Following is a nightmare experienced by the author of this column after reading some social histories of the 1920's.)

1946—Armistice celebration for World War II. Confetti, horns, yells, bands, Hitler burned in effigy, etc. . . . Hysterical welcoming of returning servicemen . . . Women indulge in orgy of frills and furbelows to enhance their femininity after prosaic warwork . . . Factories stormed by impatient citizens wanting new motor cars, radios, refrigerators, etc. . . . Statesmen brawl over peace treaty . . . "A United World Order" becomes the popular cry of the day.

1947—Mob scenes in all cities as postwar gadgets are placed on sale . . . Trains, airplanes, ocean liners, highways, jammed with people trying to go to Europe, Asia, Africa, South America, . . . Statesmen still fighting over peace treaty as it becomes an issue in presidential election . . . Earnest groups campaign for formation of United World Order. Secret order arises to combat the Hottentot menace . . . Nudists nominate a candidate for President . . . Many feminine casualties in store riots as nonrun nylon hose are placed on sale.

1948—Anti-Hottentot feeling grows . . . Senators filibuster on peace treaty . . . Society, back in its old Paris and Riviera haunts, dominates the headlines . . . Women wear form-fitting slacks and become more shocking in their behavior . . . Clergy decry wildness of youth . . . Family helicopters a sensation . . . New secret order founded to combat men with cowlicks . . . New President, who was elected on platform of "Two helicopters in every hangar," is inaugurated.

1949—Women more shocking in dress and behavior. Youth more assertive . . . Peace treaty in emasculated form finally passed . . . Movement against men with cowlicks grows. Riots in several cities . . . Also much disorder growing out of personal arguments over makes of television sets . . . New dance, "Shake a Leg," sweeps country . . . Women storm movie houses to see new hero, Volcano Lee . . . Earnest groups start educational campaign in support of United World Order.

1950—New game, "So What?" sweeps country . . . Record attendance at ball games, prize fights, fashion shows, etc. . . . Airplane travel reaches new high . . . Some European nation decides not to abide by peace treaty . . . Women evolve a new and shocking style of dress . . . Anti-Hottentots and Anti-Cowlickers in fight for control of political parties . . . Congressman demands bigger air fleet.

1951—Reformers call convention to do something about the younger set and adopt resolutions saying parents are to blame . . . Another European country decides not to abide by the peace treaty . . . Congressman demands bigger air fleet . . . Women storm stores to get new nylon stockings that can be carried in a lipstick container . . . New dance, "Wiggle Wag," sweeps the country.

1952—Women's clubs resolute against joyriding in helicopters and decry television sex dramas . . . Some Asiatic nation decides not to abide by the peace treaty . . . Earnest groups hold mass meeting demanding action for United World Order . . . New President, who was elected on "Business as Usual" platform, is inaugurated . . . Florida asks Federal aid to stop influx of airplane trailers.

1953—Ladies luncheons reach new high . . . Several States call out militia to curb reported mobs of women storm stores for new invisible nylon hose . . . Some African colony decides not to abide by the peace treaty . . . Congressman demands larger standing Army . . . Morning cocktail parties become the craze of the hour.

1954—New game, "Sez You," sweeps the country . . . European nation threatens war in boundary dispute . . . Women abandon slacks for shorts . . . Book debunking World War II tops the best-seller list . . . Congressman calls for action to curb women gangsters in big cities . . . Armament race speeds up . . . Women battle at department stores to get new never wear out nylon hose.

1955—Women's clothes show trend toward conservatism and femininity as things grow more confused in Europe . . . New game, "Twiddle Twaddle," sweeps the country . . . Returned traveler from Europe gives interview, saying World War III is in the making . . . Congressman calls for bigger air fleet . . . Several thousand men injured in riots to get tickets to World Series.

1956—Women storm beauty shops to get new permanent wave that lasts forever . . . Ram-bunctious European nation is appeased, and country draws a sigh of relief and breaks travel records attending helicopter races . . . New President, who was elected on "True Americanism" platform, is inaugurated . . . Earnest groups promoting United World Order, hold poorly attended convention . . . Nation is agog over rumored invention of a cigarette lighter that never misses.

New and Improved LEG MAKE-UP FILM by FRANCES DENNEY

Miss DENNEY's new and improved LEG MAKE-UP FILM achieves a fashion effect that lasts. And you don't have to worry about stains. It dries quickly. Does not rub off, but can be removed with soap and water. Just a few long strokes . . . and your leg make-up problem is solved.

AT OUR TOILETRIES DEPARTMENT Street Floor

Store closed tomorrow—and every Saturday through August 21st.

$1.00 Plus 10% tax

THE NEWER Jelleffs

Our store will be closed tomorrow and every Saturday through August 21st

THE NEWER Jelleffs 1214 20th Street

1214 20th Street

1214 20th Street

1214 20th Street

1214 20th Street

1214 20th Street

1214 20th Street

1214 20th Street

1214 20th Street

1214 20th Street

1214 20th Street

1214 20th Street

1214 20th Street

1214 20th Street

1214 20th Street

1214 20th Street

1214 20th Street

1214 20th Street

1214 20th Street

1214 20th Street

1214 20th Street

1214 20th Street

1214 20th Street

1214 20th Street

1214 20th Street

1214 20th Street

1214 20th Street

1214 20th Street

1214 20th Street

1214 20th Street

1214 20th Street

1214 20th Street

1214 20th Street

1214 20th Street

1214 20th Street

1214 20th Street

1214 20th Street

1214 20th Street

1214 20th Street

1214 20th Street

1214 20th Street

1214 20th Street

1214 20th Street

1214 20th Street

1214 20th Street

1214 20th Street

1214 20th Street

1214 20th Street

1214 20th Street

1214 20th Street

1214 20th Street

1214 20th Street

1214 20th Street

1214 20th Street

Our store will be closed tomorrow and every Saturday through August 21st

1214 20th Street

1214 20th Street

1214 20th Street

1214 20th Street

1214 20th Street

1214 20th Street

1214 20th Street

1214 20th Street

1214 20th Street

1214 20th Street

1214 20th Street

1214 20th Street

1214 20th Street

1214 20th Street

1214 20th Street

1214 20th Street

1214 20th Street

1214 20th Street

1214 20th Street

1214 20th Street

1214 20th Street

1214 20th Street

1214 20th Street

1214 20th Street

1214 20th Street

1214 20th Street

1214 20th Street

1214 20th Street

Martha Ellyn's Platter Chatter

Victory Garden Inspiration for Food and Fun

How does your garden grow? That's a familiar question being asked today. But it's not about silver bells and cockle shells and pretty maids in a row that the questioners are inquiring about. It is the produce in your victory garden—ripe tomatoes, red radishes, pungent onions, fresh peas, string beans and all those vegetables so much in demand, in which they are interested.

A victory garden picnic-at-home party with fresh produce from the honored soil can play an important part in the menu. That is a splendid way of letting your friends know that your garden actually grew.

Make the picnic as simple as possible. Use paper plates and napkins. Let everyone help in true picnic style. You don't have a backyard or a veranda? Well, if you're an apartment dweller but still have a patch of garden some place, and garden products to use, why not maintain the informality by sitting on the floor while you eat, or serve on little tables scattered about the room? But, do not "ritz" the occasion by setting up the dining table in high style.

You may not grow potatoes in your garden but just the same they are one of the foods now available and according to U.

S. Department of Agriculture it's patriotic to eat them. (Just as you had learned to make spaghetti, macaroni and noodle dishes in lieu of the spud).

It is to be hoped that you will have onions from your garden to step up the potato salad. If you haven't you can substitute onion salt. Onions are another one of those vanishing American vegetables. Never a dull moment in menu planning, for the cook is always having to seek those things which somehow are being hid in this great food shuffle.

Since this column has on several occasions given recipes for making potato salad, we won't review that food again. But here is a menu which includes not only potato salad but other products which may come from your victory garden. The vegetable tray can be made up of victory garden carrots, radishes, green onions and tomatoes.

VICTORY GARDEN MENU

Hot Potato Salad
Biscuit Turnovers
Fresh Vegetable Tray
Deviled Eggs
Peach Tarts Iced Beverage

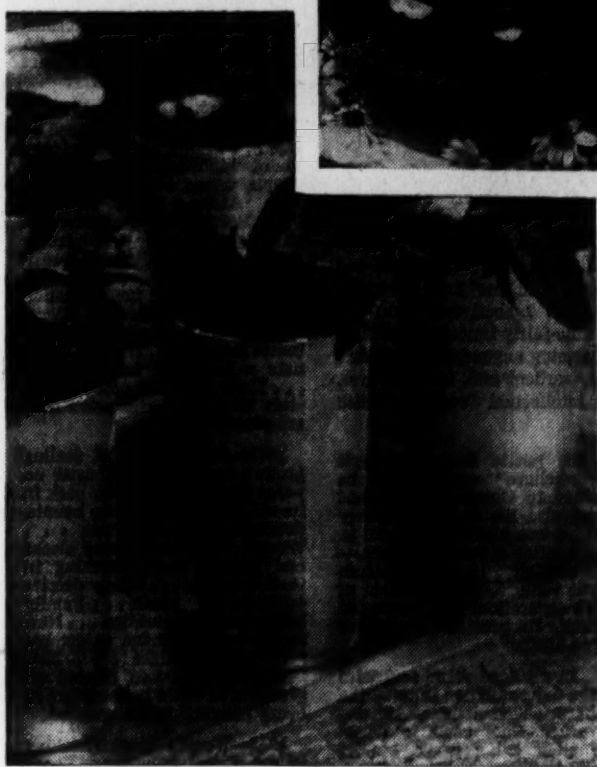

The following recipe will make six servings and require about 30 minutes for preparation.

BISCUIT TURNOVERS

Mix 2 cups flour, 4 teaspoons baking powder and 1 teaspoon salt, sift together. Cut in 4 tablespoons shortening. Add ½ cup milk. Divide soft dough into six pieces. Pat out to ¼ inch thickness. Spread with meat mixture. Fold over and pinch edges together. Prick tops several times with fork. Place on small baking pan and bake 20 minutes in moderate oven.

Meat Filling—Cook ½ pound hamburger over low heat until lightly browned. Add 1 cup cooked rice, 2 tablespoons chopped onion, 1 tablespoon chopped parsley, ¼ teaspoon salt, ¼ teaspoon paprika and 1 tablespoon milk. Cook 3 minutes. Cool and spread on biscuit squares.

The classic drink for outdoors is the mint julep. But if you want to serve a long drink that will soothe and cool, yet not have the potency of the original julep, then make a mint lemonade, using fresh mint from your victory garden.

You can't go wrong if you make a big pot of baked beans. These are a general favorite with both sexes. It's no trick to bake beans with the new package ones which are precooked and can be baked to perfection in 30 minutes instead of the proverbial 8 or 8 hours for the usual kind. Even a Bostonian will pronounce them tops.

A package of these, precooked beans will require three blue points and about 15 cents. And just to show you how simply baked beans can be achieved here is the recipe for preparing them.

BAKED BEANS

Fry 4 slices or ¼ pound sliced salt pork (not too crisp) in a pan large enough to accommodate all the ingredients. Remove the meat. Place ¾ cups water, 1 12-ounce package precooked, quick serve beans, ¼ cup molasses or brown sugar, 1½ teaspoons salt, ¼ teaspoon pepper and 1 teaspoon dry mustard in the pan of bacon drippings and let come to boil. Boil slowly 10 minutes, covered on top of stove. Then pour into baking dish, place bacon on top, bake 15 minutes with lid on in a very hot oven, 450 degrees. Remove lid and bake another 5 minutes. Serves six.

A tossed vegetable salad

BARBECUE SAUCE

Shred 2 medium sized onions. Mix with them 2 tablespoons vinegar, 2 tablespoons Worcestershire sauce, 1 tablespoon salt, ¼ teaspoon red pepper, ½ cup catsup, 1 cup water and 1 teaspoon chili powder. Cover and simmer about 45 minutes. This sauce may be kept in covered jar in the refrigerator and used as needed.

If it is a hot day you will want to serve a long, cool drink. Nothing will be more cooling than a drink made with lemon. Because of the presence of vitamin C in this fruit the effect of heat is mitigated.

A patch of mint in your garden can mean more than mint juleps. A Mint Lemonade is a cool interlude in a hot day. Easy to prepare, it blends fresh mint, lots of ice cubes, sugar, water and lemon juice. Here is an individual recipe so you can multiply it as many times as you want servings.

MINT LEMONADE

To the juice of 1 lemon, add 6 mint leaves which have been washed and bruised. Let stand for about 5 minutes. Add 1 cup cold water. Sweeten to taste. Chill thoroughly. Serve in a tall glass with a garnish of lemon slice and a sprig of mint.

VICTORY GARDEN MENU

Barbecued Frankfurters
Baked Beans
Corn on Cob Butter
Tossed Vegetable Salad
Hot Rolls Fruit Basket
Iced Beverage

If you are looking for something easy and quick to prepare make barbecued frankfurters. Here is the recipe for making the sauce:

TASTY, DELICIOUS KRUHM'S EGG NOODLES

RICH EGG YOLK AND DURUM WHEAT FLOUR

MAIZIE SURE CAN PACK A PUNCH INTO AN ORDINARY LUNCH!

She's found Heinz Mustard's just the thing To give a sandwich zest and zing!

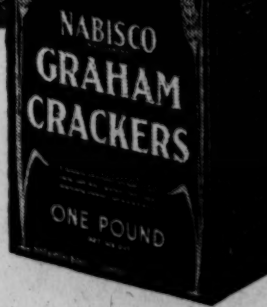

Genuine Stone-Grind
Heinz Mustard
2 KINDS—BROWN AND YELLOW

"M-M-M...DO THESE NABISCO GRAHAMS

AND MILK TASTE GOOD! AND, AS A NURSE, I KNOW THEY'RE MIGHTY GOOD FOR ME!"

Yes, Nabisco Graham Crackers are one of the most wholesome wartime "energy" foods a youngster can eat. They digest quickly—don't spoil appetites. Look for the Nabisco seal on the red package—it stands for the finest in bakery products.

BAKED BY NABISCO • NATIONAL BISCUIT COMPANY

Guests will eagerly explore offerings from your victory garden if you smartly groom the vegetable salad in an attractive wooden bowl and bake the beans in a sturdy bean pot to keep them piping hot. Try the new precooked baked beans which can be brought to perfection 30 minutes from box to serving time

The Glass o' Breeze!
Orange Pekoe
MESCO ICED TEA
for hot days 40¢ ¼ lb.
Call Price
M. E. SWING CO.
1013 E. St. N.W. N.A. 7601

ADDS PROTEIN to your daily diet!

SAVES TIME, WORK, FUEL, OTHER FOODS

The SELF-STARTER Breakfast

The protein supplied (2.2 grams) by a normal serving of Kellogg's Corn Flakes and a normal amount of milk (4.0 grams protein) is a valuable contribution to daily requirements... helps make up for scarce protein foods and their vitamins.

Post Want Ads Bring Results

GOLD MEDAL

"Kitchen-Tested" Enriched

FLOUR 57¢
10-lb. bag

BURNETT'S
Vanilla Extract 31¢
100% DOUBLE MILLED
Nabisco Bran 10¢
NABISCO HONEY MAID
Graham Crackers 19¢
SUNSHINE
Arrow Root Biscuit 15¢

BEE BRAND
Insect Spray 23¢
Roach Killer 23¢
small size 9¢ large size 23¢

NEW WHITE POTATOES 5 19¢
FANCY HARD CRISP WESTERN ICEBERG

LETTUCE 2 27¢
GOLDEN CALIFORNIA
CARROTS 2 17¢
NEW CROP JUNE
APPLES 3 25¢
CALIFORNIA SEEDLESS
ORANGES 39¢

(23) PEACHES 24¢ Virginia Freestone Heavy Syrup
(11) BEANS 25¢ ELMDALE CUT STRINGLESS
(10) BEETS 25¢ SHURFINE FANCY SLICED
(3) SOUP 25¢ Campbell's Concentrated Tomato (No.21) SANKA COFFEE 39¢
(3) SUN-SWEET 27¢ PRUNE JUICE
(No) SCHINDLER'S 31¢ Peanut Butter

Libby's Tomato Juice
No. 1 Tall Can 8¢
2 Points Per Can

Libby's BABY FOODS
jar 8¢
1 Point Per Can

SWAN FLOATING SOAP
Lge. Size 11¢—2 Med. Size 13¢

VAN CAMP'S TENDERONI 17¢
reg. 6-oz. pks.

THRIVO KIBBLED DOG FOOD 23¢
big 1-lb. 14-oz. pkg.

SIMONIZ
Keep Your Car Beautiful can 49¢

"33" BLEACH 11¢
qt. bot.

Ask for Iowa State Brand Butter At All Our Stores

Are you tired, weary, and exhausted?

Do hot summer days sap your energy? Are you nervous, irritable? Perk up with MILK and its energy-giving vitamins. Drink it OFTEN during these hot days... you'll feel better!

DRINK THOMPSON'S DAIRY MILK

Remember... it's Grade A Pasteurized
A product of Washington's Leading 100% independent dairy.
At All UNITED FOOD STORES

Good-Will Food Stores
To Locate Store: Telephone MAZO BROS., NA. 0066 For Address, of Nearest Corner

Wilkins COFFEE lb. 31¢
MCGORMICK VANILLA EXTRACT 2 25¢
MCGORMICK ROOT BEER EXTRACT 2 29¢

Washington FLOUR 65¢
Plain or Self-Rising 12-lb. bag

HERE'S A Quality FOOD FOR AMERICA'S NUTRITION PROGRAM

CHESTNUT FARMS' Sealtest MILK

RETURN EMPTY BOTTLES PROMPTLY AND HELP SAVE VITAL MATERIALS

OLD DUTCH CLEANSER 3 cans 23¢

Now! The Same Good Old-Time RED HEART DOG FOOD
JUST DEHYDRATED... THAT'S ALL!
3 Delicious Flavors
* Contains all three flavors—Beef, Fish, Cheese.
* Absorbs water instantly.
* No artificial flavoring or preservatives.
* More vitamin benefits.
2 12-oz. pks. 29¢

BEE BRAND INSECT SPRAY qt. 39¢ pt. 23¢

CLOROX 2 pt. 21¢ America's Favorite Bleach qt. 19¢

STALEY'S CUBE STARCH 2 12-oz. pks. 17¢

STRETCH MEAT WAFFLES

Duff's HOT MUFFIN Mix

Food for Workers A REAL ENERGY BUILDER KRUHM'S MACARONI

Aids for Forthcoming Benefit

On their way to a committee meeting in connection with a benefit garden party next week are Miss Hillis Morris and Mrs. Taylor Cheving, above. Mrs. Cheving heads the junior committee, of which Miss Morris is a member. The event, scheduled for Saturday, July 17, is sponsored by the Citizen's Advisory Committee and funds will go to the Housekeeping Aides' project, which functioned without regular financial support from April 30, when it ceased to be a WPA project, until July 1, when its inclusion in the District of Columbia budget officially began.

Victory Garden Makes Success Of Silver Wedding Supper Party

'Home-Grown Menu Accents Silver Wedding Fete Given By Mr. and Mrs. Walter Wyatt

Reminiscences were in the air last evening at the buffet supper at which Mr. and Mrs. Walter Wyatt entertained in their home on Kalorama Road.

Most of the conversation harked back to a day 25 years ago when Mr. and Mrs. Wyatt took their nuptial vows in the bride's home in Syria, Va. The guests who came to celebrate the silver wedding anniversary were the "oldest and closest" friends of the hosts.

"It isn't so hard to entertain when you have your own garden and your own chickens," replied the hostess gleefully when her guests gazed at the array of food set on a table on the terrace. Her "home-grown" menu proved that the much maligned victory garden can be a social triumph.

Among those in the informal gathering were Representative Hutton Summers, Col. and Mrs. George M. Badger, Dr. and Mrs. John Selby, Mrs. D. Worth Clark, Mr. and Mrs. Rixey Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Ault, Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Smith, Miss Minnie Mae Fleming, Mrs. Bruce Kremer, Mr. and Mrs. Seiford Stellwagen, Mrs. M. F. Stellwagen and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur O. Etienne.

Others were Mr. and Mrs. William Wine, Mrs. Stanley Phillips, Mr. and Mrs. Yellott Canby, Mr. and Mrs. William Jardine, Miss Sara Dyer, Mrs. Ollie Crogan, M. F. Szymczak, Mr. and Mrs. Laurence Clayton, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Stevens, Comdr. and Mrs. Oliver Colvin, O. B. Morrisette, Miss Martha Shirey and Mrs. John Davies, Jr.

Miss Laura Belle Wyatt, daughter of the hosts, was on hand to receive the guests. Her sister, Jane, is away at Camp Glenrockie, where she is a counselor.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Philipson have been visiting in New York at the Waldorf-Astoria.

Spending a few days in New York at the Fifth Avenue Hotel is Miss Blanche Ross.

Gooch-Phillips Engagement Told

Special Dispatch to The Post

Bronxville, N. Y., July 8.—Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Low Gooch, jr., of Bronxville, announce the engagement of their daughter, Margaret Albert, to Lieut. Comdr. Jewett Oron Phillips, jr., U. S. N., son of Mr. and Mrs. Jewett Oron Phillips of Columbia, Mo.

The bride-elect was graduated from St. Mary's Hall, Burlington, N. J., and the Erskine School, Boston, Mass. She made her debut at the Westchester Cotillion in 1941 and is a member of the New York Junior League. During the past year she has been

Red Cross Unit Marks Birthday With Reception

Celebrating their first birthday of service to the Red Cross with an informal afternoon reception on Thursday was the Red Cross Unit of 2800 Woodley Road.

Headed by Mrs. James W. Jenkins, a group of residents at the Woodley Road apartment house, got together a year ago to form a bandage-rolling unit. The management gave them a reception room for their labors, and yesterday they gathered there between 2 and 4 o'clock to congratulate each other on the close to 150,000 surgical dressings that they have made during their first year.

It has grown into a neighborhood project and workers have been coming in on Tuesdays, Wednesdays and Thursdays from 10 to 2 o'clock to do their bit from the surrounding area. Among those that were on hand yesterday afternoon were Mrs. Ralph H. Peterson, Mrs. Lloyd Embury, Mrs. Edwin Meade, Mrs. George Monroe, Mrs. David Lu, Mrs. Victor Brodeur, Mrs. R. K. Majors, Mrs. C. D. Paine, Mrs. Landon Strobel, Miss Minnie Koss, Mrs. Frank Wallaeger, Mrs. Arthur Keetch, Mrs. C. P. Kolstedt and many others.

on the staff of the Dock Street Theater, Charleston, S. C.

On her maternal side she is a direct descendant of Gen. John Mead of Revolutionary days. On her paternal side she is a direct descendant of John Gooch, an Englishman who was one of the original settlers of the Massachusetts Bay Colony in 1640.

Lieut. Comdr. Phillips attended the University of Missouri and was graduated from the United States Naval Academy. He is now stationed at the Postgraduate School at Annapolis. The wedding will take place early in October.

Senate Chaplain Also Modern 'Marryin' Parson'

Dr. Frederick Brown Harris One Person Not Disturbed Over Increase In Wartime Weddings

By Martha Rhyme

There's a quaint old wood carving depicting the marryin' parson of generations past, the bridegroom, and his hoop-skirted, handkerchief-chewing bride—a John Rogers original—which stands on a low table in a subdued, shadowy, still small anteroom, just to the right of the glowing altar at Foundry Methodist Church. And examining the rare little carving has been the outlet for several brides' nervousness and excited curiosity on their way to make wedding vows.

Foundry has had its share of 1943's war weddings. Numerous wedding accounts bear the line, "The Reverend Dr. Frederick Brown Harris officiated." For the kindly, dark-haired minister of Foundry and chaplain of the Senate is a favorite with young people in Washington. His list of wedding ceremonies performed is Nation-wide in scope—since resident or transient Washingtonians always seem to have two addresses.

Not particularly disturbed over the rising nuptial figures is Dr. Harris, whose daughter, Connie, was one of Washington's hundreds of June brides. "I usually ask couples how long they've known each other," he said, "and you'd be surprised at the number who have known each other a lifetime or at least several years. And they're fine youngsters."

Wedding Parties

Come From Afar

"Sad are the cases of bride and bridegroom alone in Washington and their attempts to organize a wedding party without family or close friends," continued Foundry's pastor, "but they usually work out something and are happy. From all over the country come full wedding parties, to be married in a strange church and strange surroundings due to circumstances caused by war."

Washington, in all its historic splendor, seems an ideal place for natives or strangers to be married—and its matrimonial facilities are much in demand.

"There are so many weddings that I can't seem to remember all the amusing things that happen," recalled the minister. "But there's one part of the ceremony that seems to completely baffle them. When I say, 'Take the right hand' to either bride or bridegroom, they won't just join hands and amen away; they have to make it difficult; some of the attempts are frustrated and desperate—and funny. One soldier dutifully raised his right hand, obeying what he thought was my request. His bride did the same thing and their taut nerves made it hard for me to explain the correct procedure."

Seven Ceremonies

One Afternoon

There have been a lot of weddings for the minister—sometimes seven in one afternoon, five in another. So he much deserves the vacation he and Mrs. Harris are about to take.

His dream of a small, quiet chapel for Foundry is coming true in the near future. It is to be the Ball Chapel, with special windows dedicated to Abraham Lincoln, who attended Foundry, and to the Four Freedoms. It is Dr. Harris' dream and he's anxious to see it finished.

So come next June—and another great number of weddings—that line may be altered to read, "The Rev. Dr. Frederick Brown Harris officiated in the Ball Chapel," and Dr. Harris will be pleased and gratified. Perhaps that little wood carving, caressed by hundreds of shaky brides' fingers, will be a part of the chapel, too.

Requiem Mass Planned for Gen. Sikorski

The Apostolic delegate, Archbishop Amleto Giovanni Cicognani, will officiate at a solemn requiem mass Saturday morning for Gen. Wladyslaw Sikorski, Polish Premier, who was killed Sunday in a plane crash near Gibraltar.

Invitations to the ceremony have been extended to officials of the United States Government and State Department and to members of the Diplomatic Corps. The mass will be said at 11 o'clock in the Shrine of the Immaculate Conception at Catholic University.

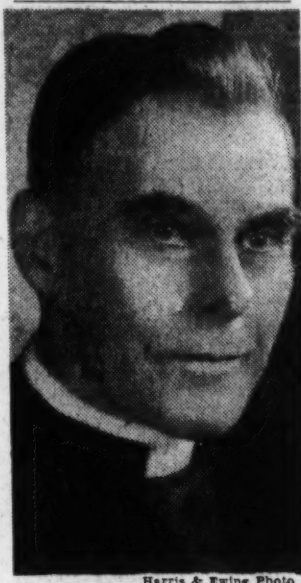

The bride is a graduate of Pacific University in Portland, Ore., and Sergeant Powers received his degree from Bates College and attended Georgetown University Law School.

United Nations Program Planned At 'Twin Oaks'

The Chinese Ambassador and Mme. Wei have loaned the gardens of the Chinese Embassy "Twin Oaks" to the United Nations Club for a gathering next Sunday night.

A buffet supper will be served in the gardens and later members of the Club and their guests will view a program of films. Included in the program will be four new Walt Disney shorts, to be shown through the courtesy of R. K. O. and the Office of the Coordinator of Inter-American Affairs. In addition there will be a documentary picture on China.

Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Chauncey are in New York for a brief stay at the Waldorf-Astoria.

THE REV. DR. HARRIS

Miss James Is Bride of Mr. Waterfield

After August 1, Maynard H. Waterfield and his bride, the former Miss Josephine Leslie James, will make their home at 100 Maryland Avenue.

Their marriage took place July 3 in the Metropolitan Baptist Church, with the Rev. John C. Bell officiating at the 4 o'clock ceremony. Assisting in the service was the bride's uncle, the Rev. Powhatan W. James of Tuscaloosa, Ala.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fleet Henderson James of Purcellville, Va., and Mr. Waterfield is the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. John E. Waterfield of Sandusky, Ohio.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore her mother's wedding gown of ivory satin with bertha of duchess lace and court train. A tiara of lace held her illusion veil and she carried white roses and lilies of the valley.

Mrs. J. A. Tyree, jr., was her sister's matron of honor and wore a costume of sea green silk jersey with lace cap to match and carried pearly gladioli. Flower girls were Judy Tyree and Nancy Bell Adams, both wearing orchid organza frocks and carrying old-fashioned bouquets. Edward J. Waterfield served his brother as best man and ushers included another brother, John E. Waterfield, and Edwin W. Warner.

A reception followed the ceremony at 100 Maryland Avenue.

Mrs. Louis Simon is in New Rochelle, N. Y., spending a few days with her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Merryle S. Ruker. From there she will go on to Star Lake, N. Y., for the summer.

Miss Courtney Owens, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. S. Logan Owens, has returned from a visit to New York, where she has been the house guest of Miss Frances Dykeman.

Open All Day Saturday
COOL, COOL
White

Genuine Buck With White Lizard Trim
$7.95

It's a Summer beauty in cool, frosty white buck, trimmed with white lizard—open heel and toe... One of the many new white arrivals just received.

No. 18 Shoe Ration Is Now Valid

Store Hours 9 to 6—Thurs. 9 to 9

ROSS-SATURN

Exclusive Footwear
1323 Conn. Ave.
1/2 Block Below Dupont Circle
Air-Conditioned for Your Comfort

Visitors Here From Brazil For Short Stay

The Brazil-to-Washington traffic is heavy this month with the south-of-the-border visitors checking into the Capital before starting their tours of this country.

The latest contingent to arrive is made up of three professional men, all interested in finding out for themselves what their colleagues in the United States are doing.

Marcos Augusto Enrietta of Curitiba, Brazil, an agronomist, is director of the Instituto de Biologia e Pesquisas Technologicas de Curitiba. He also holds professorships of agronomy and of veterinary science in Curitiba's School of Agronomy and Veterinary School, respectively.

Nehemias Gueiros, who hails from Recife, Brazil, is an educator. He plans to visit university law schools and also wishes to see at close hand the sociological aspects of life in this country.

Dr. Mem S. Xavier da Silveira of Rio de Janeiro is a surgeon and endocrinologist. He is head of the surgical clinic in the Polytechnic at Rio de Janeiro. Last year he represented the Brazilian government at two medical congresses in Argentina, at Buenos Aires and at Cordoba.

The three visitors will stay in Washington for a short time before following their specialized itineraries. They are expected to be on hand for the reception that the Brazilian Ambassador and Mme. Martins will give on Wednesday. They will share honors with the group of visiting newspapermen from Brazil and with the Minister of State for Air, Joaquim Salgado Filho, who is expected to arrive just in time for the event.

Senhor Salgado will spend just a few days here. He will then go on a tour of our production centers and air bases.

Mr. Mrs. Traver To Make Home Here

At Lake Placid on their wedding trip are Mr. and Mrs. Harold A. Traver, who will make their home in Washington upon their return.

They were married Saturday at 6 o'clock in the evening, the Rev. Gilbert Oliver officiating at St. Matthias' Church in Westmount, Quebec.

The bride, the former Edwina Dorothy Jean Briggs, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin M. Briggs of Westmount, was given in marriage by her father. She wore a gown of white point d'esprit over satin fashioned on princess lines with shirred bodice and heart-shaped neckline. Her skirt fell into a full train and her bouquet was of Johanna Hill roses and white sweet peas.

Mrs. J. E. Armstrong, jr., of Toronto and Mrs. G. S. Bernie and Miss Carol Armstrong and Miss Heather Bernie were attendants. The bridegroom, son of Mr. and Mrs. Marvin C. Traver of Gloversville, N. Y., had as his best man his brother, Robert Traver. Ushers were Albert Briggs, Edwin Briggs, J. E. Armstrong, jr., Garfield S. Bernie and Ronald Morrison. A reception at the home of the bride's parents followed the ceremony. The bridegroom attended the Massachusetts Institute of Technology and Fordham Law School in New York.

Gingham goes to town

Tailored as neatly as your best wool suit; a precise, crisp-as-a-cracker checked cotton gingham suit which "goes to town." This urbane little two-piece suit may be had in black and white, red and white, blue and white or green and white checked gingham. It will prove the backbone of your summer wardrobe. Sizes 10 to 20.

$16.95

Air-Cooled Erlebach Shop, Third Floor

Shop Today—Closed Saturday

Erlebach
1210 F ST. N.W.

To Be Bride of Officer

MISS MARIN STODDARD,

whose engagement to Lieut. Irving M. Day, jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Day of Somerset, Md., is announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clark W. Stoddard.

Purely Personal

Senator Theodore Green has returned to the Capital from a visit to his home State of Rhode Island, where he spent a few days in Newport.

Mrs. Carter Glass has returned to Washington after having been in Danville, Va., to attend the funeral of her brother, Charles Landon Scott, jr., who was city engineer and director of public utilities in Danville for some time.

Mr. and Mrs. James A. Farley, accompanied by their daughter, Betty, will arrive from New York this weekend to be the guests of Mrs. Edward Beale McLean. Mrs. McLean will give a dinner in their honor Wednesday, July 14, at Friendship. Mr. Farley will leave soon for a trip to Mexico, the West Coast and Canada.

Sea Island, Ga., is the mecca for many a vacation-minded Washingtonian these days.

Among those from the Capital visiting the Cloister at Sea Island are Miss Ruth Uppercu Paul, Mr. and Mrs. John Denson, Mrs. Robert Wilcox, Mr. and Mrs. Donald A. Roach, Lieut. and Mrs. H. P. Caulfield and Miss Josephine Hughes.

DROOP'S

1300 G St. N.W.
Agents for Victrola Records & Gramophone Records & Records
Victrola Records • Sheet Music • Musical Instruments

The STATION WAGON Group

Tan bootmaker calf—Victory sole—waterproof.

Now... More Than Ever... Buy Quality

ED BEAM CO.
1311 F STREET N.W.

WMC Tied in Knots for Time as Jap Quits Ickes Farm for Judo

By Edwin D. Gritz
Pool Staff Writer

The University of Maryland obtained a bona-fide judo instructor yesterday, but not without first causing considerable distress for war manpower officials and Secretary of Interior Harold Ickes.

Things began to happen when it became known that the university had politely and openly "planted" 24-year-old Fred Kobayashi from Ickes, who secured the Nisei from a War Relocation Center three months ago to help out on the Secretary's hen farm near Olney, Md.

First immediate difficulty arose when Dr. H. C. "Curly" Byrd, president of the university, was suddenly confronted with the fact that he had hired Kobayashi without obtaining a certificate of availability or work release required by the War Manpower Commission.

Release Finally Obtained

After considerable negotiations and telephoning, during which War Manpower officials were disposed to view the whole affair suspiciously, a work release was obtained from O. W. Anderson of Rockville, Montgomery County Agricultural Agent.

Meanwhile, it was learned, Ickes' troubles were just beginning. Kobayashi also was taking his wife. And his brother, Roy, it developed, was planning to leave Ickes' farm in the fall as the climate is not to his liking.

Thus Farmer Ickes was where he started three months ago. His wife, the real manager of the farm, immediately and hopefully filed an application with the War Relocation authority for replacements as soon as possible.

Dr. Byrd explained that Ickes had consented "very courteously" to release Kobayashi. The university, he said, had been trying for more than a year to obtain a judo instructor from among the West Coast evacuees.

Ickes' office also mentioned exchange of pleasant correspondence on the matter with Dr. Byrd. It was indicated, however, that the Secretary was really just as reluctant to lose a hired man as any hard-pressed farmer. The Kobayashis were good workers—no kick on that score, it was said.

Begin Study Next Week

At the university, when the haze of legality and protocol finally cleared, information was released that physical education students will begin to study judo next week. Judo, it was explained, is the Japanese version of "gutter fighting."

Kobayashi is a graduate of the California Institute of Technology. In addition to being an expert farmer, he has had experience as a judo instructor.

In halting the Nisei's membership on the university faculty, Dr. Byrd put it this way: "Our youngsters have got to go over there to fight, and they might as well learn all their Japanese tricks."

Army Shop Closed

Hagerstown, Md., July 8.—The United States Army, which had been operating the former wood-working shop of the National Youth Administration here since August, 1942, has closed shop and moved the machinery to New York City.

Ringside Table

With Mary Harris

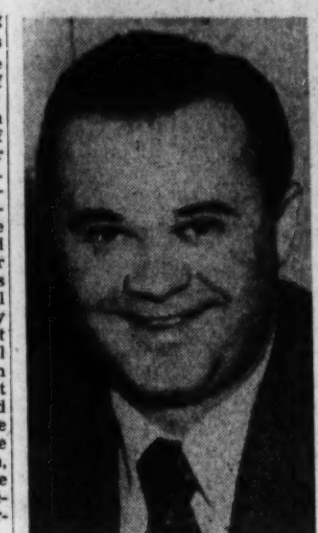

GOOD SPORTS ALL, in doing their darndest to happily live the lives of soldier and sailor boys are the musicians and entertainers of Washington's nightclubs. Every training center near Washington enjoys by the topnotchers of the night clubs and the Stage Door Canteen is on their regular beat. Here are a few of the extra diversion chores they are taking pleasure in doing this weekend.

Pete Macias of the Loutre Riviere and Johnny Shaw of the Mayflower Lounge are both taking their hands to the Stage Door Canteen. El Patio's Roy Smek, who easily rates as one of the world's greatest guitarists, put on almost a full hour's performance at the Canteen last night. Carlos Molina, now at Del Rio, is taking his splendid band to Fort Belvoir tomorrow, where the soldiers also will enjoy the dancing of Troika's beautiful Talia, who is a great favorite with service men, both in her own right and because she is the sister of Capt. Arthur Wernuth, hero of Bataan.

A scout on Monogram Pictures has been perching steadily in the Glen Echo Ballroom for the last week. Paul Kain is thinking of putting a ball and chain and handcuffs on his pretty singer, Joan Ritter, in case of an attempted Hollywood abduction.

THERE'LL BE SOME CHANGES MADE in Madrilion, now closed until July 15. Not in its general handsome appearance, which would be hard to improve, but in an all-round freshening and smartening up. This is the first time Madrilion has closed its doors since its opening shortly after World War I, and its temporary veiling seems to leave a big gap in the downtown picture.

AMONG THE NIGHTINGALES. Three of the loveliest larks now decorating our town's bistros are native Washington girls—and do their birthplace no end of credit. They're Mary La Marr, now at the King Cole Room, who sang in the BEN WEINER, whose adept management keeps Treasure Island high in popularity.

Carlton's Cosmos Room all last winter; Jean Lee of the Dubonnet Room, recently at Restaurant "400," and who emerged from the chrysalis of Government employment only a few months ago; Marion Carl of the Old New Orleans, whose lovely soprano voice was first heard in Central High School operettas.

A gay little rogue is Betty Jones of Sandy Sandifer's Orchestra, now in the Metronome Room. Her gift for comedy shines in such naughty nifties as "Annie's Cousin Fannie."

... Hi! Hi! Peggy Landers is a Southern accent that's both authentic and cute. She hails from the Carolinas... Dena Larena, the stunning blonde prima donna of the Balalaika, has enough costume jewelry to fill a bushel basket... That lovely person with Henry Jerome's band, recently arrived at the Victory Room, is Kay Carlton. Critics rate her with radio's Helen O'Connell.

Freddie Shaffer and his orchestra, one of the sleekest and spiciest of the "name bands," is the new attraction at Uline's.

GARDEN IN THE SKY. Only roof garden in Washington, with dining and dancing is the elegant Starlight Roof atop the Roger Smith Hotel. It's such a lovely place that it's too bad it isn't twins. Crisp and sparkling dance music by Myles Hallett's band and the view is enchanting.

Leo, seer of Mayfair, says that the next Versailles Treaty will be signed at the White House.

J. F. Stohlman Funeral Rites To Be Today

Funeral services for J. Frederick Stohlman, 78, proprietor of the baking firm which bears his name, at 1254 Wisconsin Avenue Northwest, will be held today at 9:30 a. m. at the residence, 328 Dorset Avenue, Somerset, Md., followed by requiem mass at Blessed Sacrament Catholic Church. Burial will be in the family plot at Mount Olivet Cemetery.

Mr. Stohlman was born in Baltimore and came to Georgetown as an infant. His father took over the bakery which had been founded by an aunt and his son succeeded him. J. William Stohlman, Jr., now conducts the business, which has been expanded to include confectionery and catering.

About 40 years ago, Mr. Stohlman established summer home at Somerset and eventually moved there as a permanent residence. He was mayor of Somerset for 20 years and a charter member of the Bethesda Fire Department. He was active in civic affairs and a member of the Holy Name Society of Blessed Sacrament Church. He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Annie O'Donoghue Stohlman. The couple celebrated their "golden" wedding anniversary in 1939. Also there are nine children: Frederick Stohlman, J.; William Stohlman, Jr.; Mrs. D. G. Mahoney, Syracuse, N. Y.; Dr. Martin A. Stohlman, Mrs. J. B. McGrane, Philadelphia; Miss Helen Stohlman, Mrs. J. W. Anderson and Miss Mildred A. Stohlman.

The Weather

Washington, Thursday, July 8, 8:30 P. M. U. S. Dept. of Commerce, Weather Bureau.

Forecast: The District of Columbia—Occasional drizzle and cool in morning; warmer with afternoon and evening showers.

For Maryland and Virginia—Somewhat warmer with afternoon thunderstorms. Thunderstorms—Lightest; 76; lowest, 67.

Departures From Normal

Accumulated excess of temperature since January 1, 1943, 4.6 degrees.

Deficiency of temperature since July 1, 1943, 3.1 degrees.

Accumulated deficiency of precipitation since January 1, 1943, 3.84 inches.

Deficiency of precipitation since July 1, 1943, .90 inch.

Temperature same date last year—

Michael, 75; lowest, 64.

Temperatures

Washington.....76

Abingdon.....70

Atlanta.....92

Baltimore.....89

Birmingham.....87

Chicago.....80

Chesapeake.....83

Cincinnati.....83

Cleveland.....83

Columbus.....83

Dayton.....83

Detroit.....83

Indianapolis.....83

Kansas City.....83

Louisville.....83

Memphis.....83

Minneapolis.....83

Mobile.....83

New Orleans.....83

New York.....83

Pittsburgh.....83

St. Louis.....83

St. Paul.....83

San Francisco.....83

Seattle.....83

Spokane.....83

Portland.....83

San Diego.....83

San Jose.....83

San Antonio.....83

San Marcos.....83

San Bernardino.....83

San Diego.....83

San Jose.....83

San Antonio.....83

San Marcos.....83

San Bernardino.....83

San Diego.....83

San Jose.....83

San Antonio.....83

San Marcos.....83

San Bernardino.....83

San Diego.....83

San Jose.....83

San Antonio.....83

San Marcos.....83

San Bernardino.....83

San Diego.....83

San Jose.....83

San Antonio.....83

San Marcos.....83

San Bernardino.....83

San Diego.....83

San Jose.....83

San Antonio.....83

San Marcos.....83

San Bernardino.....83

San Diego.....83

San Jose.....83

San Antonio.....83

San Marcos.....83

San Bernardino.....83

San Diego.....83

San Jose.....83

San Antonio.....83

San Marcos.....83

San Bernardino.....83

San Diego.....83

San Jose.....83

San Antonio.....83

San Marcos.....83

San Bernardino.....83

San Diego.....83

San Jose.....83

San Antonio.....83

San Marcos.....83

San Bernardino.....83

San Diego.....83

San Jose.....83

San Antonio.....83

San Marcos.....83

San Bernardino.....83

San Diego.....83

San Jose.....83

San Antonio.....83

San Marcos.....83

San Bernardino.....83

San Diego.....83

San Jose.....83

San Antonio.....83

San Marcos.....83

San Bernardino.....83

San Diego.....83

San Jose.....83

San Antonio.....83

San Marcos.....83

San Bernardino.....83

San Diego.....83

San Jose.....83

San Antonio.....83

San Marcos.....83

San Bernardino.....83

San Diego.....83

San Jose.....83

San Antonio.....83

San Marcos.....83

San Bernardino.....83

San Diego.....83

San Jose.....83

San Antonio.....83

San Marcos.....83

San Bernardino.....83

San Diego.....83

San Jose.....83

San Antonio.....83

San Marcos.....83

San Bernardino.....83

San Diego.....83

San Jose.....83

San Antonio.....83

San Marcos.....83

San Bernardino.....83

San Diego.....83

San Jose.....83

San Antonio.....83

San Marcos.....83

San Bernardino.....83

San Diego.....83

San Jose.....83

San Antonio.....83

San Marcos.....83

San Bernardino.....83

San Diego.....83

San Jose.....83

San Antonio.....83

San Marcos.....83

San Bernardino.....83

San Diego.....83

San Jose.....83

San Antonio.....83

San Marcos.....83

San Bernardino.....83

San Diego.....83

San Jose.....83

San Antonio.....83

San Marcos.....83

San Bernardino.....83

San Diego.....83

San Jose.....83

San Antonio.....83

San Marcos.....83

San Bernardino.....83

San Diego.....83

San Jose.....83

San Antonio.....83

San Marcos.....83

San Bernardino.....83

San Diego.....83

San Jose.....83

San Antonio.....83

San Marcos.....83

San Bernardino.....83

San Diego.....83

San Jose.....83

San Antonio.....83

San Marcos.....83

San Bernardino.....83

San Diego.....83

San Jose.....83

San Antonio.....83

San Marcos.....83

San Bernardino.....83

San Diego.....83

San Jose.....83

San Antonio.....83

San Marcos.....83

San Bernardino.....83

San Diego.....83

San Jose.....83

San Antonio.....83

San Marcos.....83

San Bernardino.....83

San Diego.....83

San Jose.....83

San Antonio.....83

San Marcos.....83

San Bernardino.....83

San Diego.....83

San Jose.....83

San Antonio.....83

San Marcos.....83

San Bernardino.....83

San Diego.....83

San Jose.....83

San Antonio.....83

San Marcos.....83

San Bernardino.....83

San Diego.....83

San Jose.....83

San Antonio.....83

San Marcos.....83

San Bernardino.....83

San

Virginia Weidler in 'Youngest Profession'
Offers Engaging Study in Adolescence;
Mitzi Mayfair, Henny Youngman Coheadline

TODAY
Doors Open 10:30 a. m.

A Mirthful, Merry Musical
...with Hit Tunes and Gorgeous Girls!

JOHN CARROLL ♡ SUSAN HAYWARD

HIT PARADE of 1943
A REPUBLIC PICTURE
With GAIL PATRICK · EVE ARDEN

and

Freddie MARTIN & ORCH!
Count BASIE & ORCH!
Ray MCKINLEY & ORCH!

Warner Bros. Cool
METROPOLITAN F St., N.W.
Near 10th

HELP. MEN

Continued From Preceding Page.

PRESSERS—LINEN, WOOL
PIECE-WORK RATES PROVIDE
$35-$40 INCOME.
APPLY MR. SANDOZ,
TOLMAN LAUNDRY
5248 WISCONSIN AVE. N.W.

PRESSER
Experienced machine presser. Apply
Rosa Cleaners, 512 12th St. N.W.

ROUND COOK
Good salary; permanent position. Apply chef, Wardman Park Hotel, Conn. ave. and Woodley rd.

SODA FOUNTAIN MAN
For several nights a week. Apply
14th and Clifton sts. n.w. CO. 3308.

STENOGRAPHER
ADAMS AGCY., Atlas Bldg., 9th and P. st.

TRUCK DRIVERS
Colored; local experience.
1021 7th St. N.W.

TRUCK DRIVER
Reliable, for wholesale grocery.
R. B. BRYNER CO., 1221 Maine Ave. S.W.

WOOL SPOTTERS for work in large dry cleaning plant; no experience necessary; excellent salary. Apply to person, 1208
South Capitol st.

YOUNG JEWISH MAN
General clerk, 5-day week. Apply Mr.
Goldstein, 1003 K St. N.W.

YOUNG MEN, 17-23
General openings in Junior Sales division of large national organization for clean-cut young men; no experience necessary; transportation furnished; immediate training; excellent salary. Apply to person, 1208 South Capitol st.

EXPERIENCED AUTO MECHANIC wanted.
The Post, 1909 M. St. N.W.

WANTED—Experienced electrician with car. Call Hobart 2816.

HIGH SCHOOL boy, responsible, able to answer telephone in office and drive car.
$300 week. Apply
NORRIS ENGINEERING CORP.
1114 22d St. N.W. DE. 1677

HELP. WOMEN

Beauty Operators (2)
All-around; $45 week guarantee. Phone
RE. 6700, Ext. 2470. Mrs. Abadie.

BUS GIRLS, DISHWASHER
WASHINGTON RESTAURANT ASSN.
2002 8th St. N.W.

CASHIER, experienced preferred; good salary; position permanent; hours 10 to 5:30 p.m.; excellent conditions. Apply
Box 316, Washington Post.

CLERKS, $1700-$1900
Know of bookkeeping nec. Miss Reed,
PERSONNEL SERVICE
1311 G. Next to Church.

CLERKS
With or without knowledge of typing, for office of large essential organization.
Good salary, good hours and pleasant working conditions. Give age, schooling, experience, telephone number and address.
Box 316, Washington Post.

CLERK-TYPIST
Office of large corp.; good working conditions; opportunity for advancement. 39-hour week. Apply 414 Woodward Bldg.

Comptometer Operator
Excellent salary and opportunity.
Apply at once.
GENERAL BAKING CO.
3146 Georgia Ave. N.W. NO. 6262.

COMPTOMETER OPERATORS (2); permanent positions, large organization, excellent working conditions, convenient location; 40-hour week; hours 8:30 to 4:15, Sat. 8:30 to 12:15. No overtime, all holidays. Chances for promotion. Starting salary $120. All higher-paid positions filled by promotion. Apply
Mr. Alexander, 1101 Vermont Ave., Room
706.

FOUNTAIN WORK
PART OR FULL TIME
Wholesale experience necessary. Excellent salary. Uniforms free. Pleasant working conditions. Mrs. Cave, 9 to 3, Charleston Drug Store, 10th & B. Sts. n.w. North 2728.

GIRL (COLORED)
TO WORK IN LAUNDRY
LEE MIN LAUNDRY
3033 Georgia Ave. N.W.

IRONERS
8-hour day. Good pay. 1808 14th St. n.w.

LIBRARIAN
(Assistant)
To assist widely known essential organization; library degree or equivalent experience required. Permanent position; good salary; good working conditions; convenient location. Replies must include age, training, experience, name of references, telephone number and address. Box 316, Washington Post.

MANICURIST
to work for the week of July 12th. Hours
9 to 5.
ARMY & NAVY CLUB.
1627 Eye St. N.W.

PBX OPERATORS, $110
ALL-DAY WORK.
WOOD AGENCY, 710 14th St. N.W.

RETOUCHER
for portrait negatives; must be experienced;
$20-$30 per week.
GOLDEN RAY PHOTOGRAPHY, 716 13th St. N.W.

SALESWOMAN—For artist material department in old Washington firm. 5-day week, July and August, 40-hr. week regularly. Excellent working opportunities. Call National 6366.

SALESWOMEN—$5 per day, 8 days per week, plus overtime; permanent; Apply
Miss Gates, Washington Hotel, after 7
p.m.

SEAMSTRESS
To make minor alterations and repairs in dry cleaning establishment. WA. 1400.

SECRETARY
40-hour week; good working conditions; permanent position for experienced, efficient girl. Call EX. 1242 for appl.

SILK PRESSERS
Experienced and inexperienced.
SENATE CLEANERS, 435 R St. N.W.

STENOGRAPHER
EXPERIENCED
40-HOUR WEEK
AIR-CONDITIONED
OFFICE. GOOD
STARTING SALARY
Phone MRS. STEPHENSON
NA. 5709

STENOGRAPHER, $150
Expt. real estate; efficient.
ADAMS AGCY., Colo. Bldg., 14th and O.

Stenographers, $150-$165
WOOD AGENCY, 710 14th St. N.W.

STENOGRAPHER
30-hour week; $150 per month; college education preferred. Phone NA. 3230 between 9 and 5.

STENOGR. CONSTR., $48
STENOGR., writer, $40.
STENOGR., news service, $40.
STENOGR., ship const., $42.50.
STENOGR., land lease, $2,200 year.
STENOGR., (50), 5 1/2-day wk.; start at once;
day, 10:30 to 6:30 p.m.; night, 6:30 to 3:30 p.m.
BOYD'S, 1333 F ST. N.W.

STENOGRAPHER-CLERK for general office work; permanent position with long established firm; excellent salary and benefits. Apply to person, 1208 South Capitol st.

STENOGRAPHER-BOOKKEEPER
STEADY POSITION
GOOD SALARY
BOX 358, WASHINGTON POST

STENOGRAPHER
Excellent salary and opportunity.
Apply
GENERAL BAKING CO.
3146 Georgia Ave. N.W. NO. 6262.

STENOGRAPHER
Local branch, national motion picture co., has opening for a stenographer capable also of clerical duties; 40-hour week; exceptionally interesting work. Apply United Artist Corp., 924 New Jersey ave. n.w., after 5 p.m.

STENOGRAPHER
PERMANENT POSITION. APPLY
AFTER 5, 1409 IRVING ST. N.W.

TELEPHONE OPERATOR
For quiet residential apartment; hours
1 to 9 p.m. See resident manager, 1330
Conn. Ave. S.W.

HELP. WOMEN

Continued From Preceding Page.

Telephone Operator-Typist
21 to 35 yrs. of age, experienced; 40-hour week, good salary. Permanent. Apply
Mrs. Way.
SMITH STORAGE, 1313 YOU ST. N.W.

TYPISTS (10), $30-$40 WK.
Exp. and bet. 20 and 35. Miss Knight,
PERSONNEL SERVICE
1311 G St. next church.

TYPIST-CLERK
Young lady, between 18 and 35; permanent position; good working conditions; good salary; 40-hour week. Apply Mrs. Way.
SMITH STORAGE, 1313 You st. n.w.

WAITRESSES
Day and night work; must be over 21 years old. Do not phone.
RED CIRCLE FOOD SHOP
1 MASS. AVE. N.W.

WOMAN
for tailoring work; good pay; 1900 Penn.
ave. n.w. EX.

REAL ESTATE OFFICE
Georgetown Real Estate Office needs young lady to handle rentals. Salary $22.50 for 5 1/2-day week. Call in person between 9 a.m. and 5 p.m. at 1237 Wm. ave. n.w.

IMMEDIATE OPENING in child guidance and character defense program for former teacher of educated woman; age 24-45; full time; permanent position for the duration and after. Unusual opportunity financially and advancement.
Write Box 375, Wash. Post, giving age, education, experience and phone.

WANTED—Military calculator; first salary;
exc. oppor. Hal Box, 716 14th n.w.

RELIABLE woman as cook and waitress;
suburban home; pleasant room and bath; $18 week. WI. 4539.

HIGH SCHOOL GIRL, serious, able to answer telephone and type, with work permit.
NORRIS ENGINEERING CORP.
314 22d St. N.W.

ATLAS AGENCY NEEDS
FILE CLERKS, EXPERIENCED, $150.
TYPIST, EXPT., ACCURATE, $40.
NIGHT AUDITOR, EXPT., $100.
Hand transcript or better.
P. B. X. OPER. DAY WORK, $40.
ATLAS AGCY., Atlas Bldg., 9th and P. w.

Telephone Operators
For Large Downtown Hotel

Good Salary
Apply Chief Operator
Ambassador Hotel
14th & K Sts. N.W.

Secretary
For Credit Office
In Large Downtown Hotel
Good Hours — Good Pay
Ambassador Hotel
14th & K Sts. N.W.

SALES LADY
(Experienced) for our Dress Department
Apply
Employment Office
Raleigh
Haberdasher
1320 F St. N.W.

Cosmetician
Experienced
Permanent Position
Good Salary
Apply
Employment Office
Raleigh
Haberdasher
1320 F St. N.W.

Secretary
Excellent Salary
Pleasant working conditions; good hours. Opportunity for advancement.
Apply Mrs. Blackwell
Western Union
Telegraph School
429 11th St. N.W.
Third Floor

SHOE ARTIST
THE SEVEN HAHN SHOE STORES have a splendid opening NOW for an artist thoroughly experienced in work related to shoes and accessories—men's, women's and children's—also layout and lettering.
PERMANENT POSITION,
WITH EXCELLENT EARN-INGS AND WORKING CONDITIONS
Applicants should bring samples of their work.
HAHN
Advertising Dept.
7th & K Sts. N.W.

HAHN
Advertising Dept.
7th & K Sts. N.W.

HAHN
Advertising Dept.
7th & K Sts. N.W.

HAHN
Advertising Dept.
7th & K Sts. N.W.

HAHN
Advertising Dept.
7th & K Sts. N.W.

HAHN
Advertising Dept.
7th & K Sts. N.W.

HAHN
Advertising Dept.
7th & K Sts. N.W.

HAHN
Advertising Dept.
7th & K Sts. N.W.

HAHN
Advertising Dept.
7th & K Sts. N.W.

HAHN
Advertising Dept.
7th & K Sts. N.W.

HAHN
Advertising Dept.
7th & K Sts. N.W.

HAHN
Advertising Dept.
7th & K Sts. N.W.

HAHN
Advertising Dept.
7th & K Sts. N.W.

HAHN
Advertising Dept.
7th & K Sts. N.W.

HAHN
Advertising Dept.
7th & K Sts. N.W.

HAHN
Advertising Dept.
7th & K Sts. N.W.

HAHN
Advertising Dept.
7th & K Sts. N.W.

HAHN
Advertising Dept.
7th & K Sts. N.W.

HAHN
Advertising Dept.
7th & K Sts. N.W.

HAHN
Advertising Dept.
7th & K Sts. N.W.

HAHN
Advertising Dept.
7th & K Sts. N.W.

HAHN
Advertising Dept.
7th & K Sts. N.W.

HAHN
Advertising Dept.
7th & K Sts. N.W.

HAHN
Advertising Dept.
7th & K Sts. N.W.

HAHN
Advertising Dept.
7th & K Sts. N.W.

HAHN
Advertising Dept.
7th & K Sts. N.W.

HAHN
Advertising Dept.
7th & K Sts. N.W.

HAHN
Advertising Dept.
7th & K Sts. N.W.

HAHN
Advertising Dept.
7th & K Sts. N.W.

HAHN
Advertising Dept.
7th & K Sts. N.W.

HAHN
Advertising Dept.
7th & K Sts. N.W.

HAHN
Advertising Dept.
7th & K Sts. N.W.

HAHN
Advertising Dept.
7th & K Sts. N.W.

HAHN
Advertising Dept.
7th & K Sts. N.W.

HAHN
Advertising Dept.
7th & K Sts. N.W.

HAHN
Advertising Dept.
7th & K Sts. N.W.

HAHN
Advertising Dept.
7th & K Sts. N.W.

HAHN
Advertising Dept.
7th & K Sts. N.W.

HAHN
Advertising Dept.
7th & K Sts. N.W.

HAHN
Advertising Dept.
7th & K Sts. N.W.

HAHN
Advertising Dept.
7th & K Sts. N.W.

HAHN
Advertising Dept.
7th & K Sts. N.W.

Bridge

Continued From Preceding Page.

Bridge
I KNOW IT'S SILLY, BUT I JUST
CAN'T HELP WORRYING ABOUT
HIM. HE'S SO YOUNG AND SO
IMPULSIVE. HE'LL BE CERTAIN
TO PLAY WITH SOME OF THOSE
BAD TEMPERED SERGEANTS,
AND WHEN HE TAKES ONE OF
THEM OUT OF A BUSINESS
DOUBLE I HATE TO THINK
WHAT WILL HAPPEN TO HIM.
COULD THEY COUNT MARTIAL
HIM FOR THAT?

Bridge
OH, WELL, A
FEW DAYS IN
THE JUG WON'T
HURT HIM

Bridge
I KNOW IT'S SILLY, BUT I JUST
CAN'T HELP WORRYING ABOUT
HIM. HE'S SO YOUNG AND SO
IMPULSIVE. HE'LL BE CERTAIN
TO PLAY WITH SOME OF THOSE
BAD TEMPERED SERGEANTS,
AND WHEN HE TAKES ONE OF
THEM OUT OF A BUSINESS
DOUBLE I HATE TO THINK
WHAT WILL HAPPEN TO HIM.
COULD THEY COUNT MARTIAL
HIM FOR THAT?

Bridge
OH, WELL, A
FEW DAYS IN
THE JUG WON'T
HURT HIM

Bridge
I KNOW IT'S SILLY, BUT I JUST
CAN'T HELP WORRYING ABOUT
HIM. HE'S SO YOUNG AND SO
IMPULSIVE. HE'LL BE CERTAIN
TO PLAY WITH SOME OF THOSE
BAD TEMPERED SERGEANTS,
AND WHEN HE TAKES ONE OF
THEM OUT OF A BUSINESS
DOUBLE I HATE TO THINK
WHAT WILL HAPPEN TO HIM.
COULD THEY COUNT MARTIAL
HIM FOR THAT?

Bridge
OH, WELL, A
FEW DAYS IN
THE JUG WON'T
HURT HIM

Bridge
I KNOW IT'S SILLY, BUT I JUST
CAN'T HELP WORRYING ABOUT
HIM. HE'S SO YOUNG AND SO
IMPULSIVE. HE'LL BE CERTAIN
TO PLAY WITH SOME OF THOSE
BAD TEMPERED SERGEANTS,
AND WHEN HE TAKES ONE OF
THEM OUT OF A BUSINESS
DOUBLE I HATE TO THINK
WHAT WILL HAPPEN TO HIM.
COULD THEY COUNT MARTIAL
HIM FOR THAT?

Bridge
OH, WELL, A
FEW DAYS IN
THE JUG WON'T
HURT HIM

Bridge
I KNOW IT'S SILLY, BUT I JUST
CAN'T HELP WORRYING ABOUT
HIM. HE'S SO YOUNG AND SO
IMPULSIVE. HE'LL BE CERTAIN
TO PLAY WITH SOME OF THOSE
BAD TEMPERED SERGEANTS,
AND WHEN HE TAKES ONE OF
THEM OUT OF A BUSINESS
DOUBLE I HATE TO THINK
WHAT WILL HAPPEN TO HIM.
COULD THEY COUNT MARTIAL
HIM FOR THAT?

Bridge
OH, WELL, A
FEW DAYS IN
THE JUG WON'T
HURT HIM

Bridge
I KNOW IT'S SILLY, BUT I JUST
CAN'T HELP WORRYING ABOUT
HIM. HE'S SO YOUNG AND SO
IMPULSIVE. HE'LL BE CERTAIN
TO PLAY WITH SOME OF THOSE
BAD TEMPERED SERGEANTS,
AND WHEN HE TAKES ONE OF
THEM OUT OF A BUSINESS
DOUBLE I HATE TO THINK
WHAT WILL HAPPEN TO HIM.
COULD THEY COUNT MARTIAL
HIM FOR THAT?

Bridge
OH, WELL, A
FEW DAYS IN
THE JUG WON'T
HURT HIM

Bridge
I KNOW IT'S SILLY, BUT I JUST
CAN'T HELP WORRYING ABOUT
HIM. HE'S SO YOUNG AND SO
IMPULSIVE. HE'LL BE CERTAIN
TO PLAY WITH SOME OF THOSE
BAD TEMPERED SERGEANTS,
AND WHEN HE TAKES ONE OF
THEM OUT OF A BUSINESS
DOUBLE I HATE TO THINK
WHAT WILL HAPPEN TO HIM.
COULD THEY COUNT MARTIAL
HIM FOR THAT?

Bridge
OH, WELL, A
FEW DAYS IN
THE JUG WON'T
HURT HIM

Bridge
I KNOW IT'S SILLY, BUT I JUST
CAN'T HELP WORRYING ABOUT
HIM. HE'S SO YOUNG AND SO
IMPULSIVE. HE'LL BE CERTAIN
TO PLAY WITH SOME OF THOSE
BAD TEMPERED SERGEANTS,
AND WHEN HE TAKES ONE OF
THEM OUT OF A BUSINESS
DOUBLE I HATE TO THINK
WHAT WILL HAPPEN TO HIM.
COULD THEY COUNT MARTIAL
HIM FOR THAT?

Bridge
OH, WELL, A
FEW DAYS IN
THE JUG WON'T
HURT HIM

Bridge
I KNOW IT'S SILLY, BUT I JUST
CAN'T HELP WORRYING ABOUT
HIM. HE'S SO YOUNG AND SO
IMPULSIVE. HE'LL BE CERTAIN
TO PLAY WITH SOME OF THOSE
BAD TEMPERED SERGEANTS,
AND WHEN HE TAKES ONE OF
THEM OUT OF A BUSINESS
DOUBLE I HATE TO THINK
WHAT WILL HAPPEN TO HIM.
COULD THEY COUNT MARTIAL
HIM FOR THAT?

Bridge
OH, WELL, A
FEW DAYS IN
THE JUG WON'T
HURT HIM

Bridge
I KNOW IT'S SILLY, BUT I JUST
CAN'T HELP WORRYING ABOUT
HIM. HE'S SO YOUNG AND SO
IMPULSIVE. HE'LL BE CERTAIN
TO PLAY WITH SOME OF THOSE
BAD TEMPERED SERGEANTS,
AND WHEN HE TAKES ONE OF
THEM OUT OF A BUSINESS
DOUBLE I HATE TO THINK
WHAT WILL HAPPEN TO HIM.
COULD THEY COUNT MARTIAL
HIM FOR THAT?

Bridge
OH, WELL, A
FEW DAYS IN
THE JUG WON'T
HURT HIM

Bridge
I KNOW IT'S SILLY, BUT I JUST
CAN'T HELP WORRYING ABOUT
HIM. HE'S SO YOUNG AND SO
IMPULSIVE. HE'LL BE CERTAIN
TO PLAY WITH SOME OF THOSE
BAD TEMPERED SERGEANTS,
AND WHEN HE TAKES ONE OF
THEM OUT OF A BUSINESS
DOUBLE I HATE TO THINK
WHAT WILL HAPPEN TO HIM.
COULD THEY COUNT MARTIAL
HIM FOR THAT?

Bridge
OH, WELL, A
FEW DAYS IN
THE JUG WON'T
HURT HIM

Bridge
I KNOW IT'S SILLY, BUT I JUST
CAN'T HELP WORRYING ABOUT
HIM. HE'S SO YOUNG AND SO
IMPULSIVE. HE'LL BE CERTAIN
TO PLAY WITH SOME OF THOSE
BAD TEMPERED SERGEANTS,
AND WHEN HE TAKES ONE OF
THEM OUT OF A BUSINESS
DOUBLE I HATE TO THINK
WHAT WILL HAPPEN TO HIM.
COULD THEY COUNT MARTIAL
HIM FOR THAT?

Bridge
OH, WELL, A
FEW DAYS IN
THE JUG WON'T
HURT HIM

Bridge
I KNOW IT'S SILLY, BUT I JUST
CAN'T HELP WORRYING ABOUT
HIM. HE'S SO YOUNG AND SO
IMPULSIVE. HE'LL BE CERTAIN
TO PLAY WITH SOME OF THOSE
BAD TEMPERED SERGEANTS,
AND WHEN HE TAKES ONE OF
THEM OUT OF A BUSINESS
DOUBLE I HATE TO THINK
WHAT WILL HAPPEN TO HIM.
COULD THEY COUNT MARTIAL
HIM FOR THAT?

Bridge
OH, WELL, A
FEW DAYS IN
THE JUG WON'T
HURT HIM

Bridge
I KNOW IT'S SILLY, BUT I JUST
CAN'T HELP WORRYING ABOUT
HIM. HE'S SO YOUNG AND SO
IMPULSIVE. HE'LL BE CERTAIN
TO PLAY WITH SOME OF THOSE
BAD TEMPERED SERGEANTS,
AND WHEN HE TAKES ONE OF
THEM OUT OF A BUSINESS
DOUBLE I HATE TO THINK
WHAT WILL HAPPEN TO HIM.
COULD THEY COUNT MARTIAL
HIM FOR THAT?

Bridge
OH, WELL, A
FEW DAYS IN
THE JUG WON'T
HURT HIM

Bridge
I KNOW IT'S SILLY, BUT I JUST
CAN'T HELP WORRYING ABOUT
HIM. HE'S SO YOUNG AND SO
IMPULSIVE. HE'LL BE CERTAIN
TO PLAY WITH SOME OF THOSE
BAD TEMPERED SERGEANTS,
AND WHEN HE TAKES ONE OF
THEM OUT OF A BUSINESS
DOUBLE I HATE TO THINK
WHAT WILL HAPPEN TO HIM.
COULD THEY COUNT MARTIAL
HIM FOR THAT?

Bridge
OH, WELL, A
FEW DAYS IN
THE JUG WON'T
HURT HIM

Bridge
I KNOW IT'S SILLY, BUT I JUST
CAN'T HELP WORRYING ABOUT
HIM. HE'S SO YOUNG AND SO
IMPULSIVE. HE'LL BE CERTAIN
TO PLAY WITH SOME OF THOSE
BAD TEMPERED SERGEANTS,
AND WHEN HE TAKES ONE OF
THEM OUT OF A BUSINESS
DOUBLE I HATE TO THINK
WHAT WILL HAPPEN TO HIM.
COULD THEY COUNT MARTIAL
HIM FOR THAT?

Bridge
OH, WELL, A
FEW DAYS IN
THE JUG WON'T
HURT HIM

Bridge
I KNOW IT'S SILLY, BUT I JUST
CAN'T HELP WORRYING ABOUT
HIM. HE'S SO YOUNG AND SO
IMPULSIVE. HE'LL BE CERTAIN
TO PLAY WITH SOME OF THOSE
BAD TEMPERED SERGEANTS,
AND WHEN HE TAKES ONE OF
THEM OUT OF A BUSINESS
DOUBLE I HATE TO THINK
WHAT WILL HAPPEN TO HIM.
COULD THEY COUNT MARTIAL
HIM FOR THAT?

Bridge
OH, WELL, A
FEW DAYS IN
THE JUG WON'T
HURT HIM

Radio Programs and Highlights

Beethoven's rarely heard First Symphony is played by the Cleveland Symphony Orchestra, Rodzinski conducting. WINK—11:05 a. m.

Baseball game between Detroit and Philadelphia. WOL—3 p. m.

Baseball game between the Yanks and the team of the Great Lakes Naval Training Station. WMAL—3:15 p. m.

Tiller de WINK—The young satirist "takes off" expectant fathers. Comments subtle and corny by turns. WINK—7:05 p. m.

Representative Walter C. Flieser speaks on "Meat for America." WRC—7:30 p. m.

Baseball Game—The Nats play Cleveland. WWDC—8:15 p. m. Sunset Symphony—Percy Grainger, pianist, is soloist.

Grieg's Piano Concerto in A minor, Mozart's "Eine Kleine Nachtmusik" and Brahms' "Academic Festival Overture" are played. WMAL—8:30 p. m.

Nick and Nora Charles start out by attending a quiet wedding, only to wind up on a mad chase after the newlyweds, to forestall a murder, in "They All Killed the Bride." "Adventures of the Thin Man." WTOP—8:30 p. m.

Betty Hutton appears on "The Playhouse" when she stars in "The Fleet's In." WTOP—9 p. m.

A blind war worker is guest of honor on "Double or Nothing," which salutes precision instrument workers. WOL—9:30 p. m.

Bob Hawk, comedy quipmaster, brings his "Thanks to the Yanks" to a new time. WTOP—10 p. m.

H. V. Kallenborn subs for Bill Stern on "Sports Newsreel of the Air." WRC—10:30 p. m.

Elmer Davis, head of the Office of War Information, again reports to the Nation. WMAL, WTOP and WRC—10:45 p. m.

| Friday, July 9                                                                                |                                                                                        | Washington                                                                          |                                                                               | Eastern War Time                                                                                |                                                                                      |
|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| WMAL                                                                                          | WRC                                                                                    | WOL                                                                                 | WINK                                                                          | WWDC                                                                                            | WTOP                                                                                 |
| 6:00—News, 6:7: Prebode, 6:30: Brokenshire, 7:10: S. Claude McHenry, 7:45: Help Wanted, 8:45. | 6:00—News, 6:7: 8: 6:30: Bill Herson, 6:45: 7:15, 8:15: News, 7:45: Help Wanted, 8:45. | 6:00—Down Patrol to 6:30: News, 6:30: 7:30, 8: 8:30: Art Brown, 9:35-9:50.          | 6:00—Jerry Strong, 6: 6:45: 7:05, 8:05: News, 7: 8: 8: 8:30: Mrs. 7: 9.       | 6:00—Secunda, 6:7: Crow, 6:45: News, 6: 6:30, 7: 8:30: Mr. & Mrs. 7: 9.                         | 6:00—Sun Day Night, 6:45: R'dup Time, 6:45: News, 6: 6:30, 7: 7:30, 8: 8:30: 7:05-8. |
| 9:00—Breakfast Club 9:15—Breakfast Club 9:30—Breakfast Club 9:45—Breakfast Club               | 9:00—Everything Goes 9:15—Rhyme Time 9:30—News, Banghart 9:45—Breakfast Club           | 9:00—Art Brown at the Organ 9:15—Hummel's Hummel's                                  | 9:00—Jerry Strong 9:15—Jerry Strong 9:30—Mrs. Northcross 9:45—Mrs. Northcross | 9:00—Minnie Men 9:15—Minnie Men 9:30—King & Lombardo                                            | 9:00—Godfrey News 9:15—Arthur Godfrey 9:30—Arthur Godfrey 9:45—Home Service          |
| 10:00—Market Basket 10:15—The Money 10:30—The Money 10:45—The Money                           | 10:00—Lora Lewton 10:15—The Open Door 10:30—The Open Door 10:45—The Open Door          | 10:00—Hummel's 10:15—Hummel's 10:30—Hummel's 10:45—Hummel's                         | 10:00—News, Joan Brooks 10:15—Concetta 10:30—Concetta 10:45—Concetta          | 10:00—Cash, Bing Crosby 10:15—Cash, Bing Crosby 10:30—Cash, Bing Crosby 10:45—Cash, Bing Crosby | 10:00—Valent Lady 10:15—Valent Lady 10:30—Valent Lady 10:45—Valent Lady              |
| 11:00—Breakfast Club 11:15—Breakfast Club 11:30—Breakfast Club 11:45—Breakfast Club           | 11:00—Breakfast Club 11:15—Breakfast Club 11:30—Breakfast Club 11:45—Breakfast Club    | 11:00—Breakfast Club 11:15—Breakfast Club 11:30—Breakfast Club 11:45—Breakfast Club | 11:00—News, Joan Brooks 11:15—Concetta 11:30—Concetta 11:45—Concetta          | 11:00—Cash, Bing Crosby 11:15—Cash, Bing Crosby 11:30—Cash, Bing Crosby 11:45—Cash, Bing Crosby | 11:00—Ed McConnell 11:15—Ed McConnell 11:30—Ed McConnell 11:45—Ed McConnell          |
| 12:00—News 12:15—News 12:30—News 12:45—News                                                   | 12:00—News 12:15—News 12:30—News 12:45—News                                            | 12:00—News 12:15—News 12:30—News 12:45—News                                         | 12:00—News, Joan Brooks 12:15—Concetta 12:30—Concetta 12:45—Concetta          | 12:00—Cash, Bing Crosby 12:15—Cash, Bing Crosby 12:30—Cash, Bing Crosby 12:45—Cash, Bing Crosby | 12:00—Ed McConnell 12:15—Ed McConnell 12:30—Ed McConnell 12:45—Ed McConnell          |
| 1:00—News 1:15—News 1:30—News 1:45—News                                                       | 1:00—News 1:15—News 1:30—News 1:45—News                                                | 1:00—News 1:15—News 1:30—News 1:45—News                                             | 1:00—News, Joan Brooks 1:15—Concetta 1:30—Concetta 1:45—Concetta              | 1:00—Cash, Bing Crosby 1:15—Cash, Bing Crosby 1:30—Cash, Bing Crosby 1:45—Cash, Bing Crosby     | 1:00—Ed McConnell 1:15—Ed McConnell 1:30—Ed McConnell 1:45—Ed McConnell              |
| 2:00—News 2:15—News 2:30—News 2:45—News                                                       | 2:00—News 2:15—News 2:30—News 2:45—News                                                | 2:00—News 2:15—News 2:30—News 2:45—News                                             | 2:00—News, Joan Brooks 2:15—Concetta 2:30—Concetta 2:45—Concetta              | 2:00—Cash, Bing Crosby 2:15—Cash, Bing Crosby 2:30—Cash, Bing Crosby 2:45—Cash, Bing Crosby     | 2:00—Ed McConnell 2:15—Ed McConnell 2:30—Ed McConnell 2:45—Ed McConnell              |
| 3:00—News 3:15—News 3:30—News 3:45—News                                                       | 3:00—News 3:15—News 3:30—News 3:45—News                                                | 3:00—News 3:15—News 3:30—News 3:45—News                                             | 3:00—News, Joan Brooks 3:15—Concetta 3:30—Concetta 3:45—Concetta              | 3:00—Cash, Bing Crosby 3:15—Cash, Bing Crosby 3:30—Cash, Bing Crosby 3:45—Cash, Bing Crosby     | 3:00—Ed McConnell 3:15—Ed McConnell 3:30—Ed McConnell 3:45—Ed McConnell              |
| 4:00—News 4:15—News 4:30—News 4:45—News                                                       | 4:00—News 4:15—News 4:30—News 4:45—News                                                | 4:00—News 4:15—News 4:30—News 4:45—News                                             | 4:00—News, Joan Brooks 4:15—Concetta 4:30—Concetta 4:45—Concetta              | 4:00—Cash, Bing Crosby 4:15—Cash, Bing Crosby 4:30—Cash, Bing Crosby 4:45—Cash, Bing Crosby     | 4:00—Ed McConnell 4:15—Ed McConnell 4:30—Ed McConnell 4:45—Ed McConnell              |
| 5:00—News 5:15—News 5:30—News 5:45—News                                                       | 5:00—News 5:15—News 5:30—News 5:45—News                                                | 5:00—News 5:15—News 5:30—News 5:45—News                                             | 5:00—News, Joan Brooks 5:15—Concetta 5:30—Concetta 5:45—Concetta              | 5:00—Cash, Bing Crosby 5:15—Cash, Bing Crosby 5:30—Cash, Bing Crosby 5:45—Cash, Bing Crosby     | 5:00—Ed McConnell 5:15—Ed McConnell 5:30—Ed McConnell 5:45—Ed McConnell              |
| 6:00—News 6:15—News 6:30—News 6:45—News                                                       | 6:00—News 6:15—News 6:30—News 6:45—News                                                | 6:00—News 6:15—News 6:30—News 6:45—News                                             | 6:00—News, Joan Brooks 6:15—Concetta 6:30—Concetta 6:45—Concetta              | 6:00—Cash, Bing Crosby 6:15—Cash, Bing Crosby 6:30—Cash, Bing Crosby 6:45—Cash, Bing Crosby     | 6:00—Ed McConnell 6:15—Ed McConnell 6:30—Ed McConnell 6:45—Ed McConnell              |
| 7:00—News 7:15—News 7:30—News 7:45—News                                                       | 7:00—News 7:15—News 7:30—News 7:45—News                                                | 7:00—News 7:15—News 7:30—News 7:45—News                                             | 7:00—News, Joan Brooks 7:15—Concetta 7:30—Concetta 7:45—Concetta              | 7:00—Cash, Bing Crosby 7:15—Cash, Bing Crosby 7:30—Cash, Bing Crosby 7:45—Cash, Bing Crosby     | 7:00—Ed McConnell 7:15—Ed McConnell 7:30—Ed McConnell 7:45—Ed McConnell              |
| 8:00—News 8:15—News 8:30—News 8:45—News                                                       | 8:00—News 8:15—News 8:30—News 8:45—News                                                | 8:00—News 8:15—News 8:30—News 8:45—News                                             | 8:00—News, Joan Brooks 8:15—Concetta 8:30—Concetta 8:45—Concetta              | 8:00—Cash, Bing Crosby 8:15—Cash, Bing Crosby 8:30—Cash, Bing Crosby 8:45—Cash, Bing Crosby     | 8:00—Ed McConnell 8:15—Ed McConnell 8:30—Ed McConnell 8:45—Ed McConnell              |
| 9:00—News 9:15—News 9:30—News 9:45—News                                                       | 9:00—News 9:15—News 9:30—News 9:45—News                                                | 9:00—News 9:15—News 9:30—News 9:45—News                                             | 9:00—News, Joan Brooks 9:15—Concetta 9:30—Concetta 9:45—Concetta              | 9:00—Cash, Bing Crosby 9:15—Cash, Bing Crosby 9:30—Cash, Bing Crosby 9:45—Cash, Bing Crosby     | 9:00—Ed McConnell 9:15—Ed McConnell 9:30—Ed McConnell 9:45—Ed McConnell              |
| 10:00—News 10:15—News 10:30—News 10:45—News                                                   | 10:00—News 10:15—News 10:30—News 10:45—News                                            | 10:00—News 10:15—News 10:30—News 10:45—News                                         | 10:00—News, Joan Brooks 10:15—Concetta 10:30—Concetta 10:45—Concetta          | 10:00—Cash, Bing Crosby 10:15—Cash, Bing Crosby 10:30—Cash, Bing Crosby 10:45—Cash, Bing Crosby | 10:00—Ed McConnell 10:15—Ed McConnell 10:30—Ed McConnell 10:45—Ed McConnell          |
| 11:00—News 11:15—News 11:30—News 11:45—News                                                   | 11:00—News 11:15—News 11:30—News 11:45—News                                            | 11:00—News 11:15—News 11:30—News 11:45—News                                         | 11:00—News, Joan Brooks 11:15—Concetta 11:30—Concetta 11:45—Concetta          | 11:00—Cash, Bing Crosby 11:15—Cash, Bing Crosby 11:30—Cash, Bing Crosby 11:45—Cash, Bing Crosby | 11:00—Ed McConnell 11:15—Ed McConnell 11:30—Ed McConnell 11:45—Ed McConnell          |
| 12:00—News 12:15—News 12:30—News 12:45—News                                                   | 12:00—News 12:15—News 12:30—News 12:45—News                                            | 12:00—News 12:15—News 12:30—News 12:45—News                                         | 12:00—News, Joan Brooks 12:15—Concetta 12:30—Concetta 12:45—Concetta          | 12:00—Cash, Bing Crosby 12:15—Cash, Bing Crosby 12:30—Cash, Bing Crosby 12:45—Cash, Bing Crosby | 12:00—Ed McConnell 12:15—Ed McConnell 12:30—Ed McConnell 12:45—Ed McConnell          |

TERRY AND THE PIRATES

Visiting Team Talks It Up

By Milton Caniff

MARY WORTH'S FAMILY

U-Boat Survivors

By Dale Allen

MICKEY FINN

U-Boat Survivors

By Lank Leonard

MR. AND MRS.

Women Always Pity Men in Summer

By Arthur Folwell and Ellison Hoover

DIXIE DUGAN

Very Good

By J. P. McEvoy and H. J. Striebel

DON WINSLOW OF THE NAVY

Unmasked

By Frank Martinek

BIG CHIEF WAHOO

Merchant of Romance!

By Saunders and Weggon

DONALD DUCK

Merchant of Romance!

By Walt Disney

KING OF THE ROYAL MOUNTED

Merchant of Romance!

By Walt Disney

NAPOLÉON AND UNCLE ELBY

Merchant of Romance!

By Walt Disney

RIGHT AROUND HOME

The Mouse

By Sam Fisher

JOE PALOOKA

Then It's Per Walsh

By Monte Barrett and Russell Ross

JANE ARDEN

Hide and Seek

By Jerry Siegel and Joe Shuster

SUPERMAN

Hear Superman 5:45 P.M. Today—WOL

By Jerry Siegel and Joe Shuster

NAPOLÉON AND UNCLE ELBY

By Clifford McBride

By Clifford McBride

Dies Probers Order Secret Jap Hearing

Abruptly cancelling scheduled public hearings, the Dies Subcommittee investigating the War Relocation Authority's handling of the Japanese problem, will go into executive session today to question Army and Navy intelligence officers and Department of Justice representatives on how thoroughly Japanese released from WRA camps are investigated.

Representative Costello (Democrat) of California, chairman of the subcommittee, said yesterday that the group was particularly anxious to know why it was that "a had Jap in Baltimore is a good Jap in Omaha."

He said the committee had failed to obtain a satisfactory answer from Dillon S. Myer, WRA director, on whether or not Japanese-Americans refused permission to settle in the Eastern command area were released in the Midwest.

Myer had testified that at the request of Gen. Hugh Drum of the Eastern command, a special joint board had been established to pass on applications of Japanese-Americans to be released from WRA centers to the East. The board is composed of Army and Navy intelligence officers, representatives of the Provost Marshal's office and WRA officials.

The committee, Costello said, probably will issue a report of its findings within two weeks.

Costello asserted he was convinced that the Japanese-Americans, on the basis of Myer's testimony, were not being investigated carefully enough.

"The public knowledge of how inadequate the investigation of these Japanese is tends to increase rather than allay prejudice," Costello asserted.

He added that the committee was concerned about espionage more than sabotage.

India Needs Help, Nehru's Niece Says

New York, July 8 (U.S.)—The niece of the Indian Nationalist leader, Jawaharlal Nehru, declared today that the people of India are convinced that Great Britain never will grant them independence without outside intervention and look to America for aid in obtaining freedom.

Miss Chandrakha Pandit, who is 19, dark-eyed and pretty, has just arrived in this country to attend Wellesley College along with her 16-year-old sister, Nayantara.

"My uncle is still in prison, somewhere in India," she said. "My mother, who was the first woman to occupy a cabinet post in India, also was arrested, but released."

Low Record Set by Africa Army Deaths

By the Associated Press

New York, July 8.—Maj. Gen. Norman Thomas Kirk, surgeon-general of the Army, said today that the death rate of the Army's evacuation hospitals during the African campaign was between 2½ and 3½ per cent of admissions, and was "the lowest rate of any army at any time."

Kirk said at a press conference that during the last war the mortality rate was 15 per cent, and ascribed the modern low percentage to plasma, excellent and advanced surgery, and the use of sulfa drugs.

Plasma, given at the front line, resulted in saving lives which would have been lost, he said, adding that "the cream of surgery in America, the middle-aged and the younger men who have been teaching" were stationed at evacuation hospitals at the front.

Turning to the south Pacific war theater, General Kirk asserted that "malaria is our big enemy; for every battle casualty there are two cases of malaria flown out."

He listed the total Army casualties to date, exclusive of Attu and the recent Guadalcanal offensive, 7500 dead; 17,128 wounded and 22,687 missing.

Army casualties in the south and southwest Pacific area, until the start of the present offensive, were, he said, 1864 killed, 3509 wounded, 1236 missing, and 156 prisoners.

Grainger Uses 'Distilled Air' For Practicing

It was revealed yesterday that Percy Grainger, pianist-composer, who will appear with the National Symphony Orchestra tonight does his most successful practicing and sleeping in "distilled air."

Grainger disclosed this when interviewed in a vast and nearly airtight room in Droop's music store, Thirteenth and G Streets Northwest. The kind of air that was breathed or laded out, in this room, Grainger said, never would be replaced by fresh air for piano practice, sleeping or any other creative activity.

Asked whether the open air arrangement at the Watergate to-night wouldn't disturb him to a painful degree, Grainger said that was slightly different, since he wouldn't be practicing in the fine sense of the word.

"But I hope it doesn't blow," he confided.

A good many people who practice for two or three hours indoors before performing, he said, are thrown off keel when they have to play in the fresh, or comparatively colder, air. Then again there is the matter of "atmospheric shock." Such atmospheric shock distracts any performer.

Grainger, who is slight of build, nervous and iconoclastic, dislikes "northern comfortableness." All the comforts of home—plumbing that works, soft beds, piped music, breakfast on the chaise longue, all these things Grainger can very well do without.

"I have an innate desire for the chaotic, the jagged, the cruel (the natural, that is) and the primitive," asserted the musician.

Beginning Tomorrow

The Hecht Co.

7th STREET, 7th STREET, E STREET

NATIONAL 5100

WILL BE CLOSED

SATURDAYS

DURING

JULY and AUGUST

SHOP TODAY, FRIDAY

9:30 A. M. TO 6 P. M.

DRASTICALLY REDUCED!

EXQUISITE, HIGHER-PRICED

Better Summer Dresses

19.88

- Handsome Midsummer Black Rayon Sheers!
- Pastel Country Club Spectator Classics!
- Individually Selected One-of-a-Kind Prints!
- Famed for Flattery: Rayon Mello-Charm Sheers!

Fashion's limelight summer successes . . . all beautifully made . . . with the superb styling and individual, just-for-me look you associate with more expensive dresses. All taken right from our own better stocks and emphatically reduced for this special event. But! . . . one and two of a kind . . . so choose early. Misses' sizes.

Better Dresses, Third Floor, E Street Building, The Hecht Co.

★
Buy U. S. War
Bonds and Stamps
at The Hecht Co.

★
or buy them wherever you choose

★
but for Freedom's
Sake buy them every payday

★
Victory Center, Main Floor,
The Hecht Co.

★

THE HECHT CO.

Add Distinction to Your Letters With

Personalized Stationery

1.79

Good-looking, fine quality stationery with army, navy, coast guard, air corps, or marine insignia . . . plus your full name and rank printed on the paper only. And you get 50 large size sheets and 50 envelopes.

FINE QUALITY PLAIN STATIONERY

1.49

100 sheets and 50 envelopes with full name and address printed on both paper and envelopes.

No Phone or C. O. D. Orders!
Please allow three weeks for delivery!

Stationery, Air-cooled Street Floor

A. Ride Bareback Into Summer . . . wearing our California-designed checked gingham pinafore with breeze-inviting bare-back. Brown, red or green checks; sizes 10 to 18 in the group . . . 2.75

Cal-i-fornia
HERE WE COME-IN!
PINAFORES!

Designed on the sunny West Coast, these California pinafores are cool perfection for a Washington summer! They take the blazing weather with a breeze—shrug their shoulders at the well-known humidity—trot blithely from play to work, from desk to date—give you that airy, carefree nonchalant look which is the special province of youth. Try these merry beauties now . . . see how their vibrantly different colors send your spirits soaring . . . and you'll join all gay young Washington in caroling: "Cal-i-fornia—here we come"—in pinafores!

Sports Shop, Third Floor, F Street Building

B. Pinafore Player—California Style . . . A West Coast idea Washingtonians will love! Complete playsuit with shorts attached . . . plus pinafore skirt to dress you up for after play. Woven gingham in red or blue checks; sizes 10 to 18 . . . 3.95

C. California Pinafore—Jumper . . . You'd just know it came from the West Coast by its dramatically different colors: sunny yellow, glowing aqua, blazing white in butcher spun rayon with peasant cross stitch; sizes 10 to 16 . . . 5.95

Worn with our sheer cotton peasant blouse with short sleeves for coolness, square neck for flattery and multi-color stitching for charm. White; sizes 32 to 38 . . . 2.29

The Hecht Co. . . . Completely Air-Conditioned for Your Comfort
7th STREET, 7th STREET, E STREET NATIONAL 5100